Hall entered a new phase of development in 1975.

While our educational facilities expanded, our desire for self-fulfillment and increased awareness of the needs of others were also a part of a continuing change.

The pages which follow reflect these changes; in them we attempt to convey the moods and images of . . .

STUDENT

LIFE

Skills, Jobs Offer Break From School

Students could be found throughout the city representing Hall in various ways. They used their talents, hobbies, and jobs to offer a break from school and to provide a variety to their out of class schedules.

Many students held jobs in restaurants, department stores or offices, while others could be found perfecting their talents for future use.

Camping and hiking became the pastime of many students who were interested in the outdoors. Still others would get together with their friends just to have a good time.

Regardless of what each student was doing, it is assured they were representing Hall well.

Colleen Moorman and Holly Hatcher help teach Girl Scouts.

Jeff Diner acts as patient to Dottie Moorhead.

David Elms assists customers in catalog department.

Seniors of Immanuel Baptist Church with their pastor, Dr. W. O. Vaught Jr.

Students Use Talents Throughout City

Carolyn Carter assists Dana Abraham in a gymnastic class.

Debbie Scott learns secretarial skills.

Gynger Gentry performs in ballet.

Cathy Hall works as gas station attendant.

Nadine Main waits on Paul Glasscock at Penney's.

Surprise! They're all together.

Students Find Much Variety In Assemblies

Assemblies this year ranged from inspirational to well-spirited. They provided the student body a chance to assemble as one group.

The Thanksgiving assembly reached a climax when the Hallmarks and the band performed an arrangement of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic." The arrangement was well received. Both the choir and the band performed again in the Christmas assembly.

Pep assemblies had a different perspective. There was an excitement from the balcony that inspired the juniors and seniors. The sophomores came to Hall with the pep that was needed to make the audiences come alive. It worked, and the pep assemblies became spirited for the first time in three years.

"That's another mark against her."

"Gee, I love assemblies!"

"Buenos dias señores y señoritas. ¿Cómo estás?"

Hazel Reigns As Queen Of Homecoming

Hazel Becker was crowned Hall's sixteenth Homecoming Queen in a ceremony preceding the Warriors' 23-0 victory over the El Dorado Wildcats, November 22, at Quigley Stadium.

The football team nominated thirty girls for the court who were then voted on by the student body. The fifteen finalists were presented to the students in an assembly the morning of the Homecoming game by members of the football team.

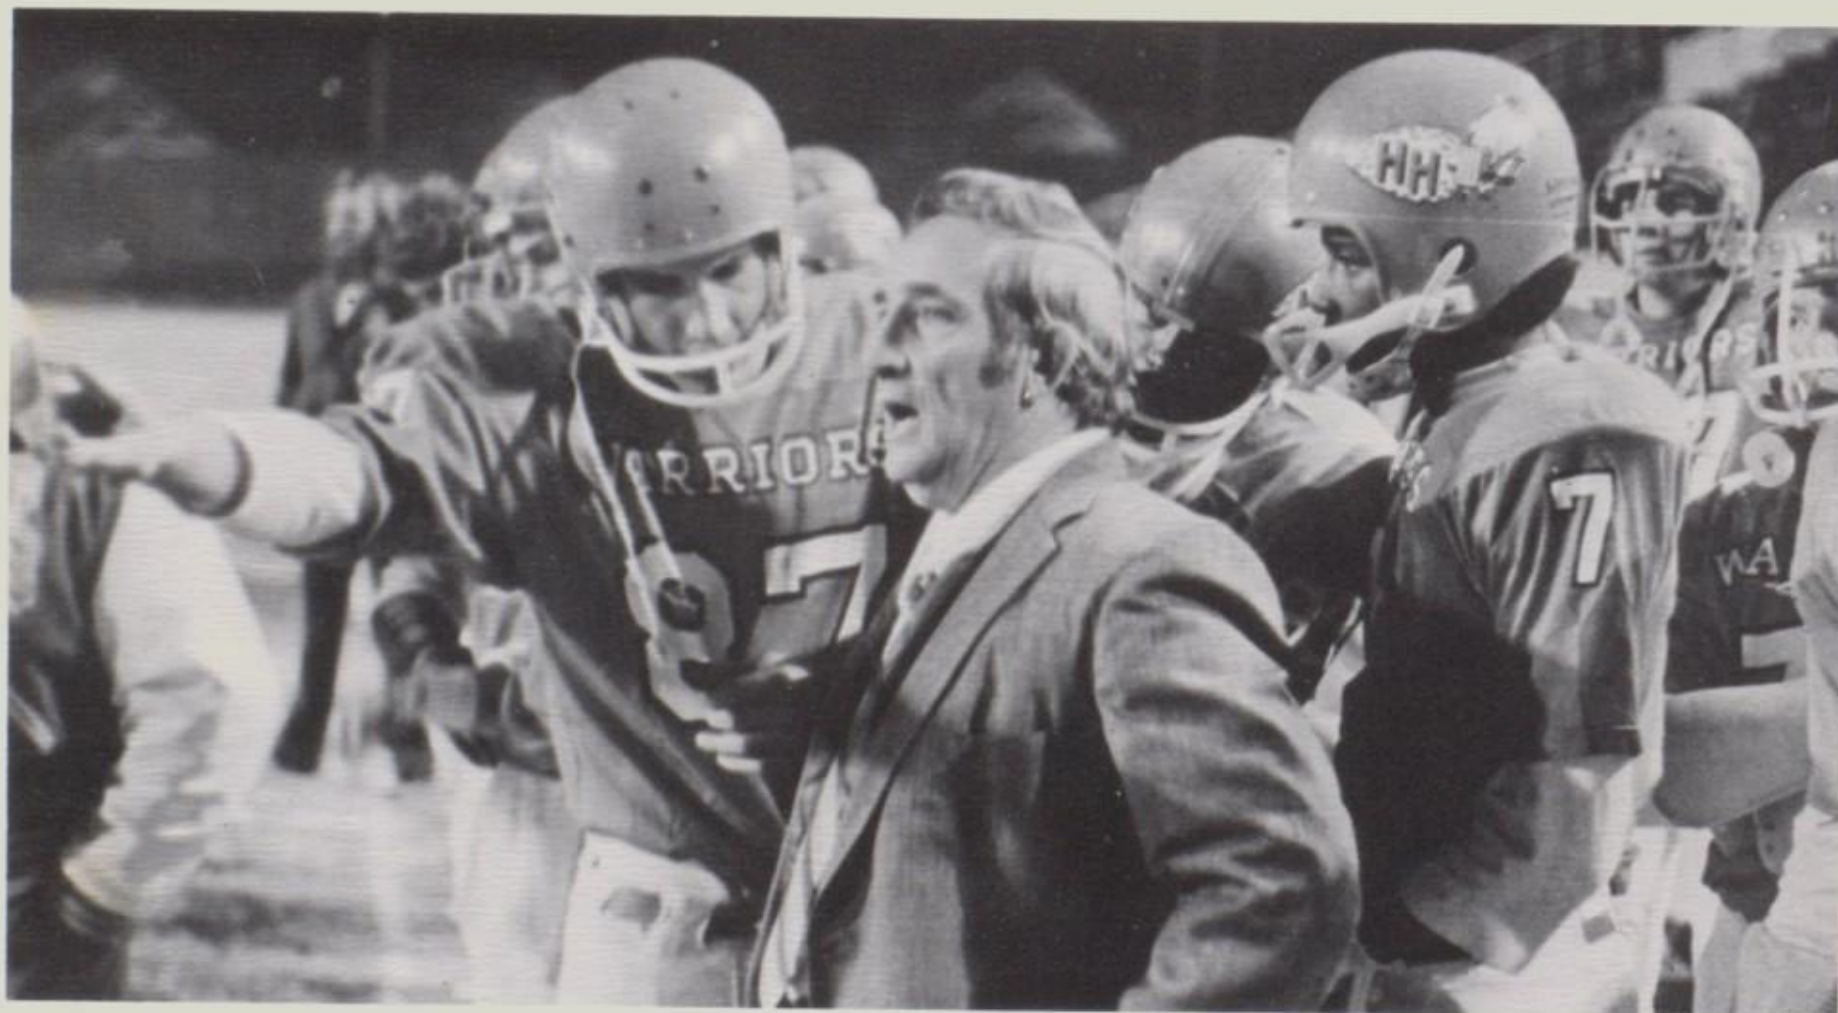

Escorted by Arthur Pruitt, student body vice-president, and Paul Doramus, senior class president, Queen Hazel was crowned by Mr. Weldon Faulk, principal, and presented a bouquet by student body president, Kenneth Baker. Other members of the court were escorted by members of the Key Club.

Senior members of the court were Donna Kirkpatrick, Lynn Lusby, Laura Burford, Joan Hogg, Sundra Pigg, Felicia Carigan, Joyce Harris, and Kathy Moore.

Juniors included Hazel Cummins, Deborah Brown, and Carol Warner. Sophomores were Julie Dillahunt, Valerie Fells, Melba Palmer, and Terri Scott.

Queen Hazel escorted by Arthur Pruitt and Paul Doramus.

Those 'Happy Days' Were Here Again

"Fifties Day," on the Friday before the Thanksgiving holidays, brought flannel skirts, bobbie socks, and greased hair back to the corridors of Hall.

A "Fifties" pep assembly was held in preparation for the annual game with Central on Turkey Day.

The Future Business Leaders of America sponsored a food drive for needy families through the first period classes. The class with the best decorated basket was announced at the assembly.

Another tradition was added to the long list of those that go along with the Turkey Day Game. A railroad bell was donated by Mr. H. N. Coonley to be given to the winner of the Hall-Central game each year.

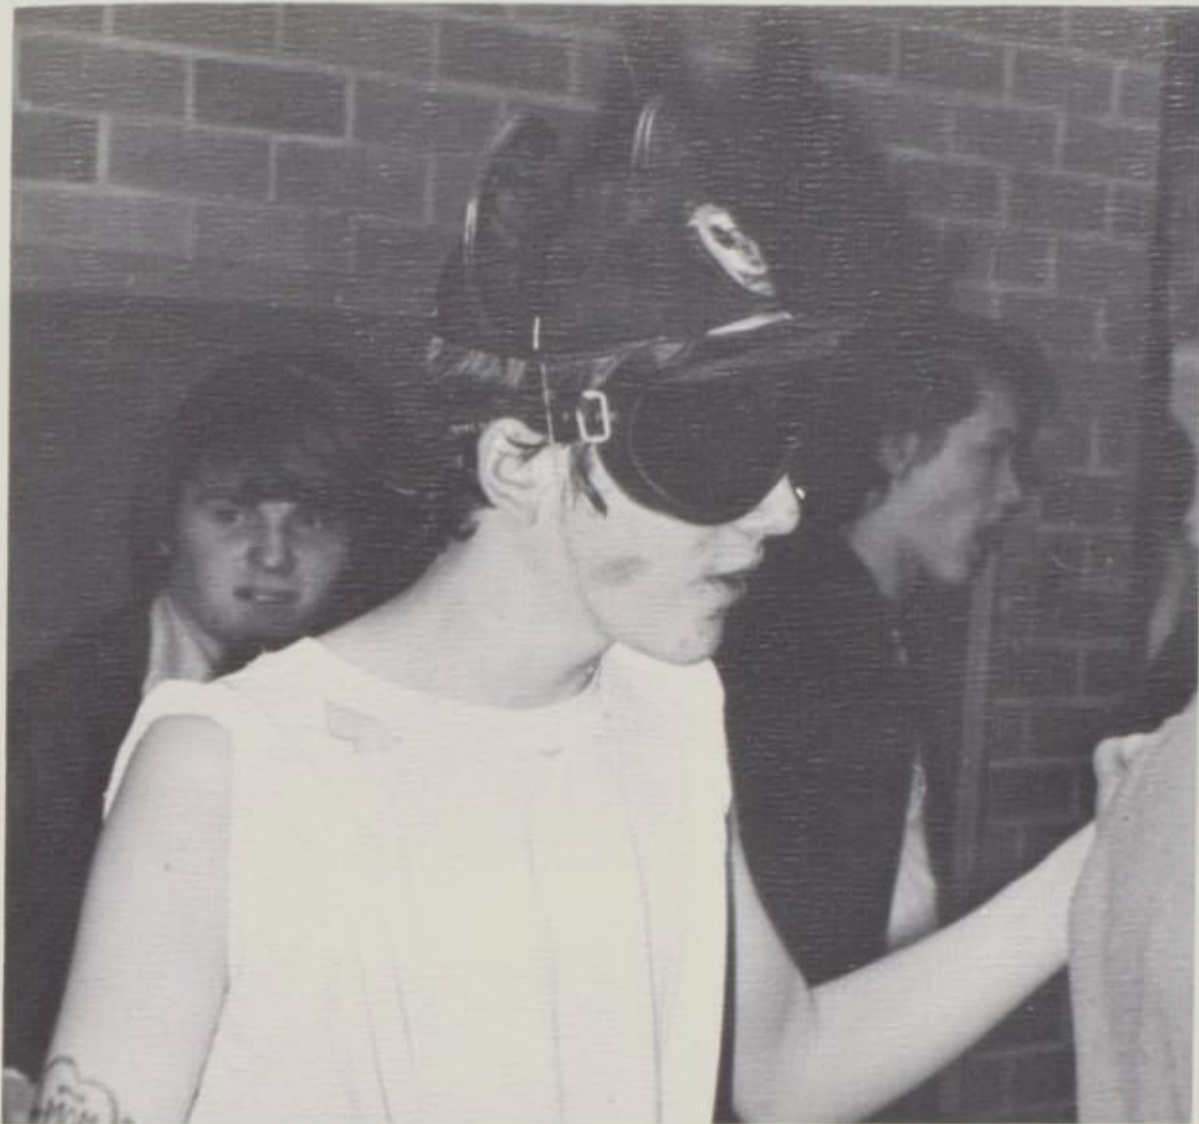

"I wonder where he got that kiss?"

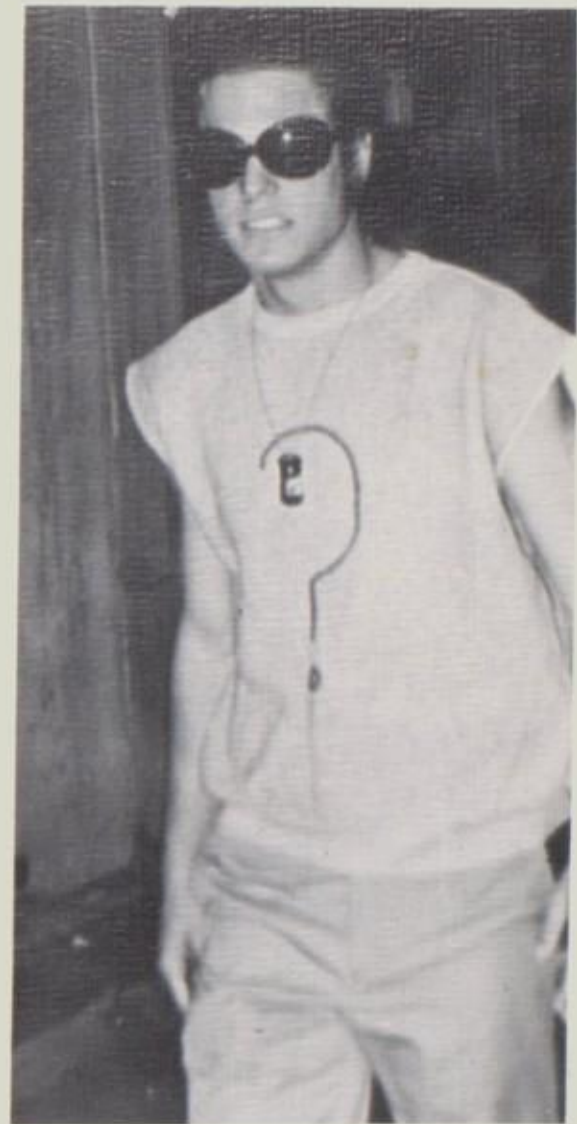

"The 'B's' for bum."

"I think my rubber band just popped!"

"I'm cool, I'm the Fonz!"

"The name's Joe Cool!"

"You dress up and we'll meet ya there!"

Harlequins, Drama Class Act In Plays

"Flight into Danger" by Arthur Hailey was presented in the auditorium by Mrs. John Stuckey's drama class on February 13.

The play was adapted from the film ZERO HOUR. The play involved a calamity inside the plane which put passengers and crew in danger.

Mrs. John Stuckey directed "Flight into Danger." Laura Bushman served as technical director.

Cast members included Tommy Addis, Wally Moore, Donna Campbell, Alex Herman, Ruby Cribbs, Tim Hampton, Vikki Besser, Francesca Roberts, Harriet Burdick, Andrea Nelson, Paul Nance, Laura Bushman, Becky Pfleegor, Roslyn Ivy, Andrea Baker, Ronda Paschal, Kim Williams, Noveta Sparks, and Raymond Faison.

"Harvey" was the senior class play. It was presented March 19 and 20 by drama students and the Hall Harlequins. Mrs. Stuckey directed the three-act comedy by Mary Chase. Francesca Roberts was the student director and Carlton Miller was the technical director.

Cast members included Ronda Paschal, Becky Pfleegor, Tim Fox, Janet Harris, Karen Lewis, Donna Campbell, Mike Williams, Wally Moore, Tim Hampton, Paul Nance, and Mark Riley.

Drama students perform in "Flight into Danger."

National Merit Finalists

'Cum Laude' Accepts 12; Nat'l Merit 9

Twelve students were graduated from Hall last year with Cum Laude honors. To qualify as a Cum Laude graduate, a student must have had at least 18 semester A's upon graduation.

Students qualifying for the National Merit Finals were John Stanley, Cathy Baker, Bruce Douglas, Bob Fisher, Eugene Richard, Tim Fox, Cato Ealy, Jean Feild, and Luke Crawford.

The finalists were the highest scorers in each state on the 1973 PSAT/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, administered to over one million students in about 17,000 high school nationwide.

Seniors View End Of Year With Emotion

The class of '75 saw the closing of the '74-'75 school year as an end to a way of life they had known for 12 years.

Many seniors planned to attend the college of their choice and continue their education. Others decided to enter the business world.

The senior class elected Paul Doramus as their president, Ronnie Hill, vice-president, and Brenda Kinnaman, secretary.

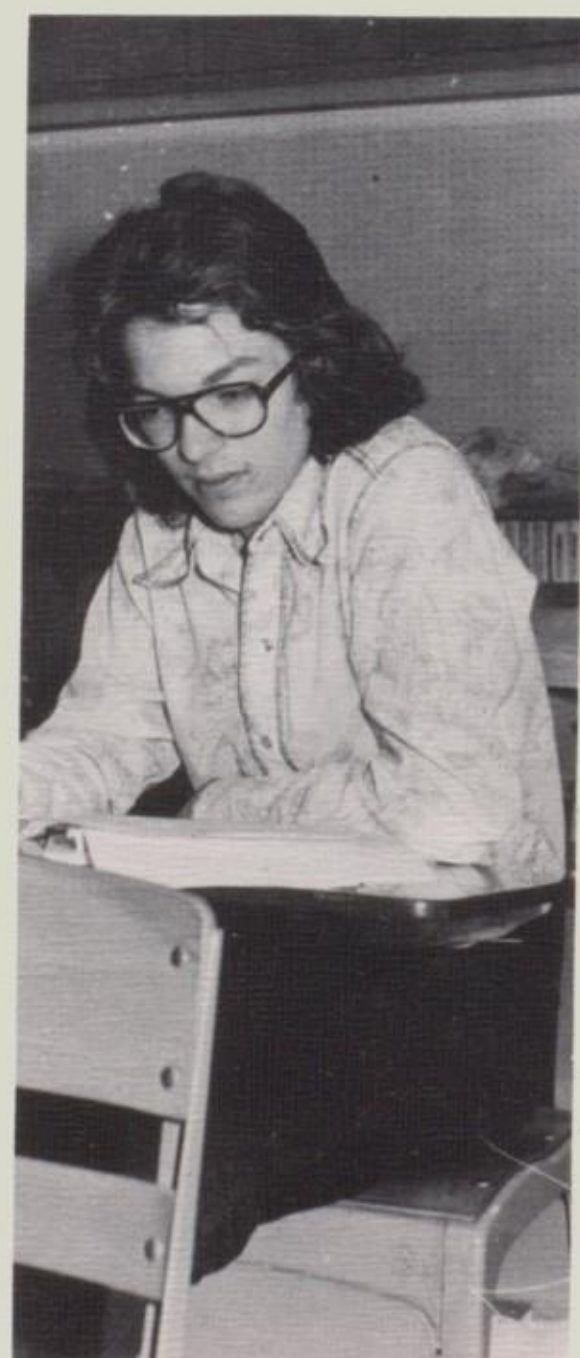

Class activities included a spaghetti supper held in the fall to raise money for the prom.

Senior class sponsors were Mrs. Roy Taylor, Miss Angela Maynard, and Mr. Charles Leverett.

ORGANIZATIONS

Kenneth Baker Presides Over Student Body

Under the leadership of the president, Kenneth Baker, the Student Council organized many traditional activities and some special projects. As usual, the Council promoted school spirit by selling ribbons, buttons and license plates.

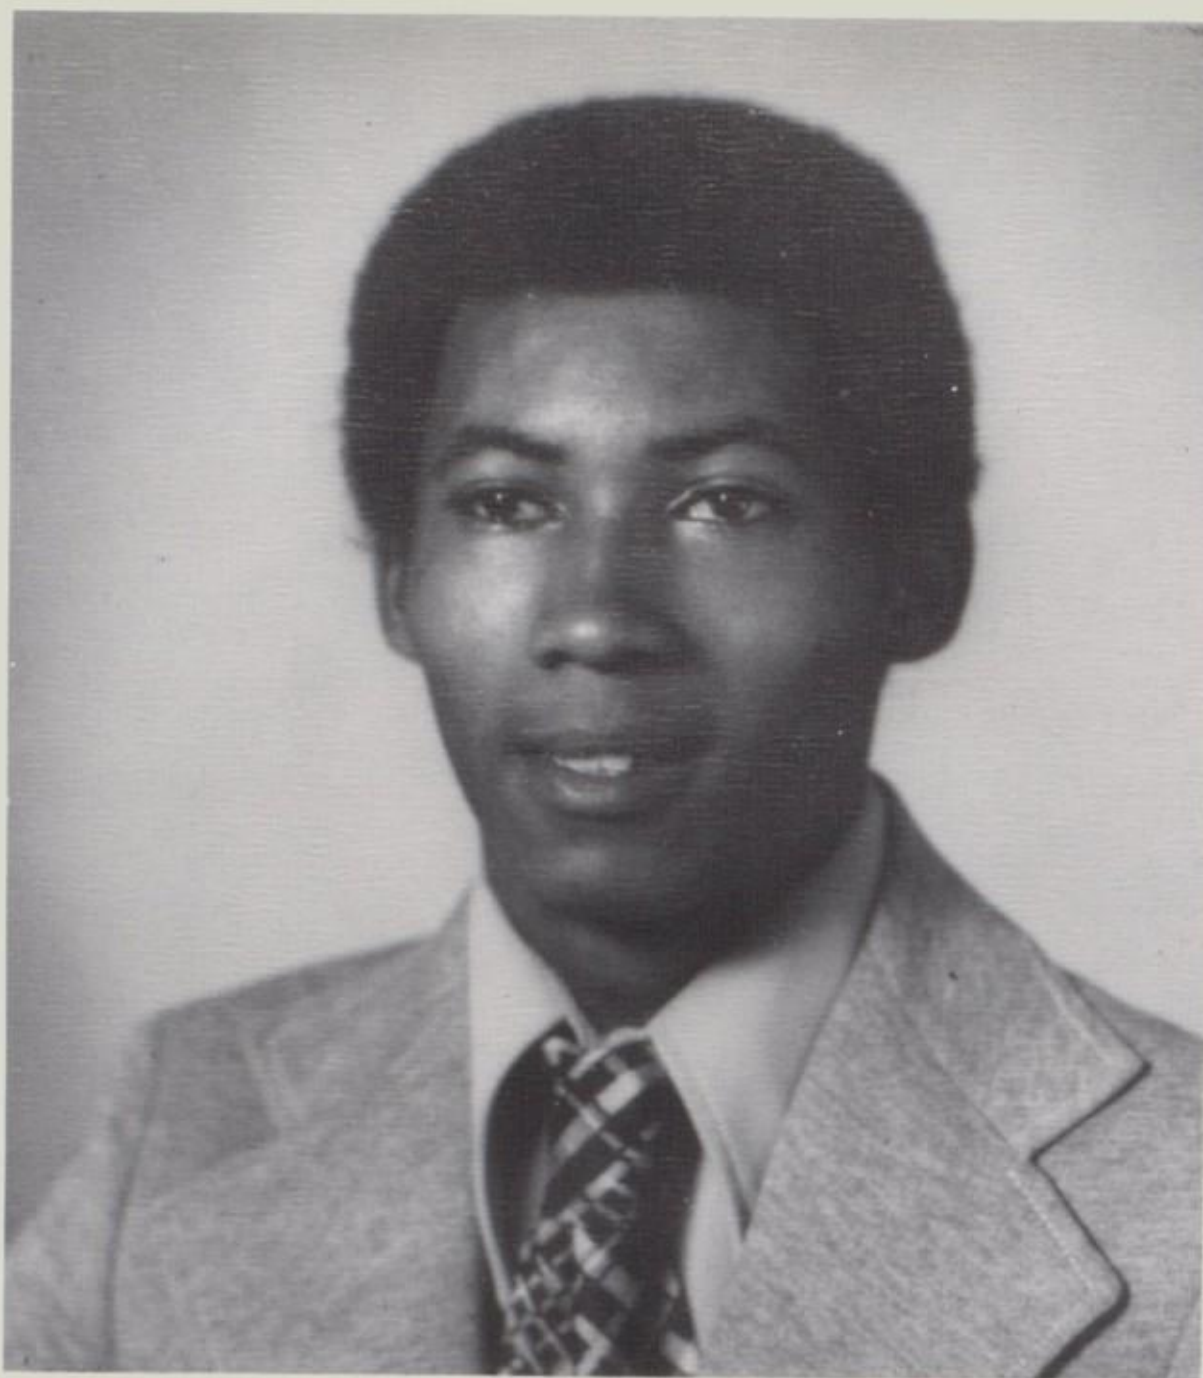

They sponsored a door decoration contest and a float contest for the homecoming game. The Council also presented skits at pep assemblies and the pep breakfast.

They won several awards for the year, most notable of which was the J. M. Cook Trophy in the City Beautiful Contest.

Two Saturdays were spent by members in clearing the student parking lot of silt and trash. Also, members published the student directory and provided a telephone call to Wales as a Christmas gift to Hall's foreign exchange student. The Council sponsored the Multiple Sclerosis drive by showing films to the physical education classes on the importance of the disease, and encouraged everyone to contribute money.

To get more students involved in the school, the Student Council placed suggestion boxes in various locations throughout the building so that students would have an effective means of giving ideas, suggestions and criticisms.

Student body officers were also members of the Principal's Cabinet, an organization dedicated to serving the needs of the student body. It was made up of the Council sponsors, the vice-principals, and the principal. The primary goal of the cabinet was to provide a good means of communication between students and the administration. Many suggestions that were presented to the Cabinet became school policy.

Honor Society Inducts 88 New Members

The National Honor Society was created to honor students who have merited excellence in areas of scholarship, leadership, and achievement.

The care of bulletin boards and the upkeep of the paperback book rack in the library kept the club busy throughout the year.

The NHS has given a gift to the school each year. Gifts in recent years have included money for the auditorium, a paperback book rack in the library, direct office buzzer from zone 6 lounge, and the hall bulletin board.

Several NHS members took part in the Peer Tutoring program. The Society inducted 88 new members in an assembly during December.

Beta Club Gives Service To Community

Each year the Beta Club sponsors service projects for the community or the school. In the past, members of the club have sponsored tutoring projects for the school and have held Christmas parties for nursing homes and day care centers. This year, members collected toys and candy for the children at the Woodlawn Therapeutic Day Care Center during the three weeks between Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Members participated in the Peer Tutoring program, which was designed for pupils to assist their fellow students who needed extra help in certain subjects.

In January, several members of the Beta Club attended the statewide convention at the Camelot Inn, where they met members from other Beta Clubs from around the state.

Inter-Racials Strive For Togetherness

Six members of Hall's Inter-Racial Club belonged to the city Bi-Racial Council. These members proposed plans to bring about racial togetherness and submitted them first to the members of Hall's chapter and then to the city council. Proposed plans were discussed and voted on.

Whenever a problem arose between races in the school or community, members of the club discussed the problem and proposed solutions.

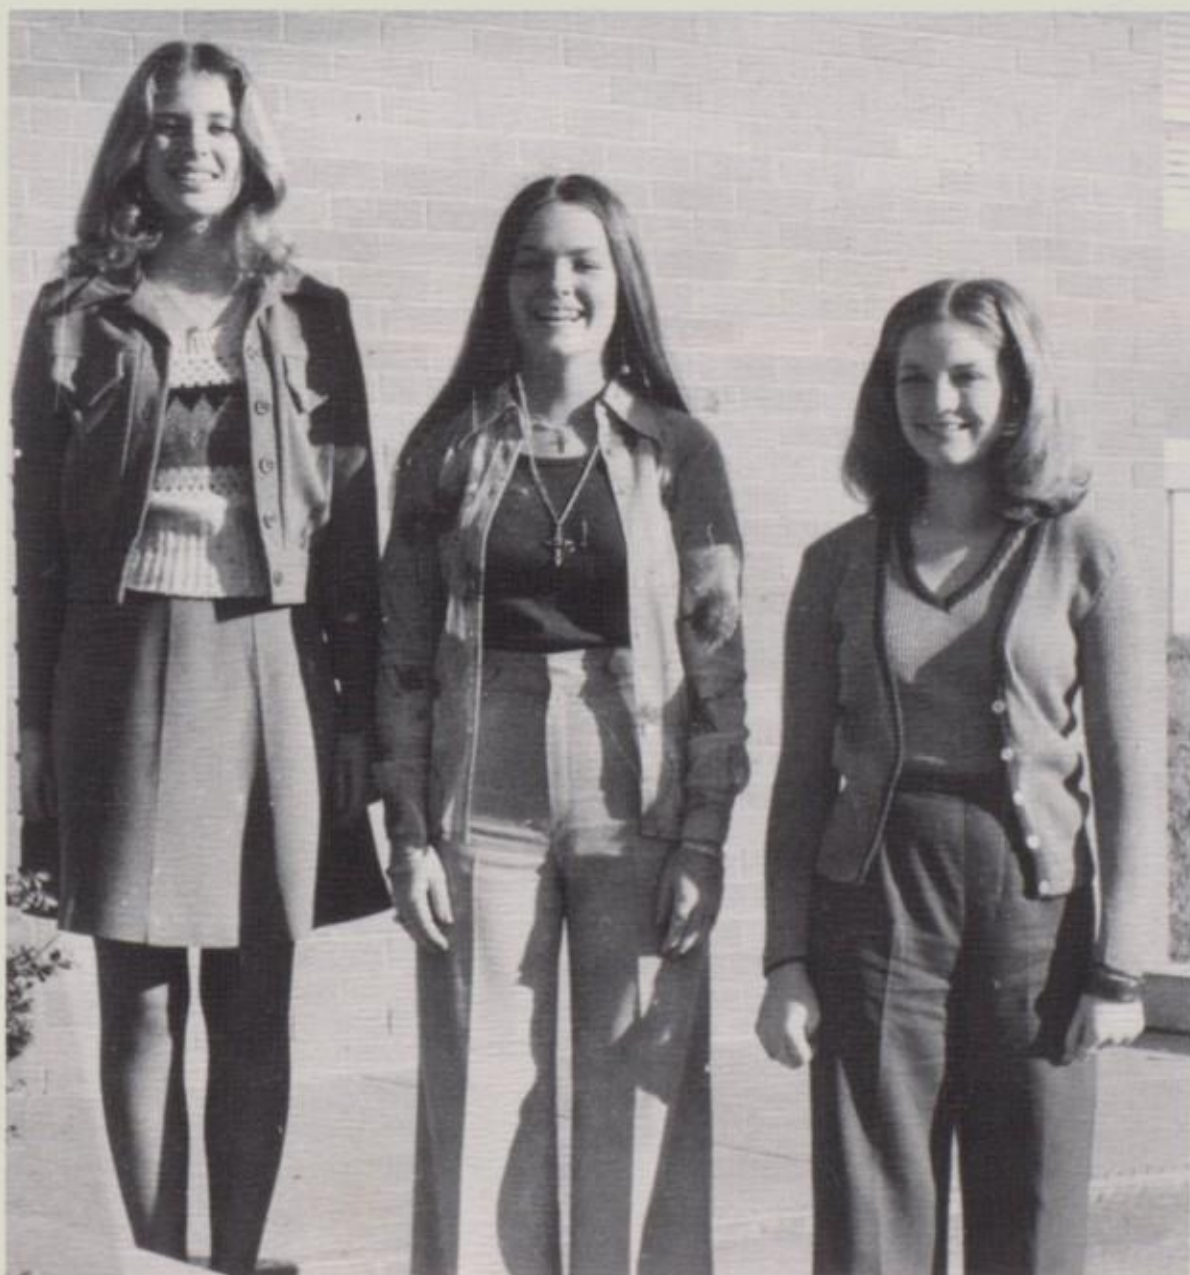

Kathy Moore served as chairman of Hall's Inter-Racial chapter. Mrs. Mark Smith sponsored the club.

"What do you mean I'm crazy?"

"Whoever wrote this must have a strange sense of humor!"

Y-Teens Spend Weekends As "Big Sisters"

As a branch of the Young Women's Christian Association, the Y-Teen Club offered its service to individuals and the community through various projects.

Members acted as "big sisters" for underprivileged children by taking them on outings during the weekends.

They sold calendars, went Christmas caroling at the State Hospital, and participated in the World Fellowship program held annually for Y-Teens. The Mid-Winter dance was held to select city officers during January.

During this past year, Terri Scott served as city-wide vice-president and Julie Dilla-hunty acted as city-wide treasurer.

Mrs. Sharon Taylor sponsored Hall's Y-Teens and Jeanne Storey was president.

Kachinas Assist In Festivities

Along with the Key Club, the Kachinas helped sponsor homecoming for their first major project of the year. This involved the election of the queen and her court, the purchasing of flowers, and general promotion of the dance.

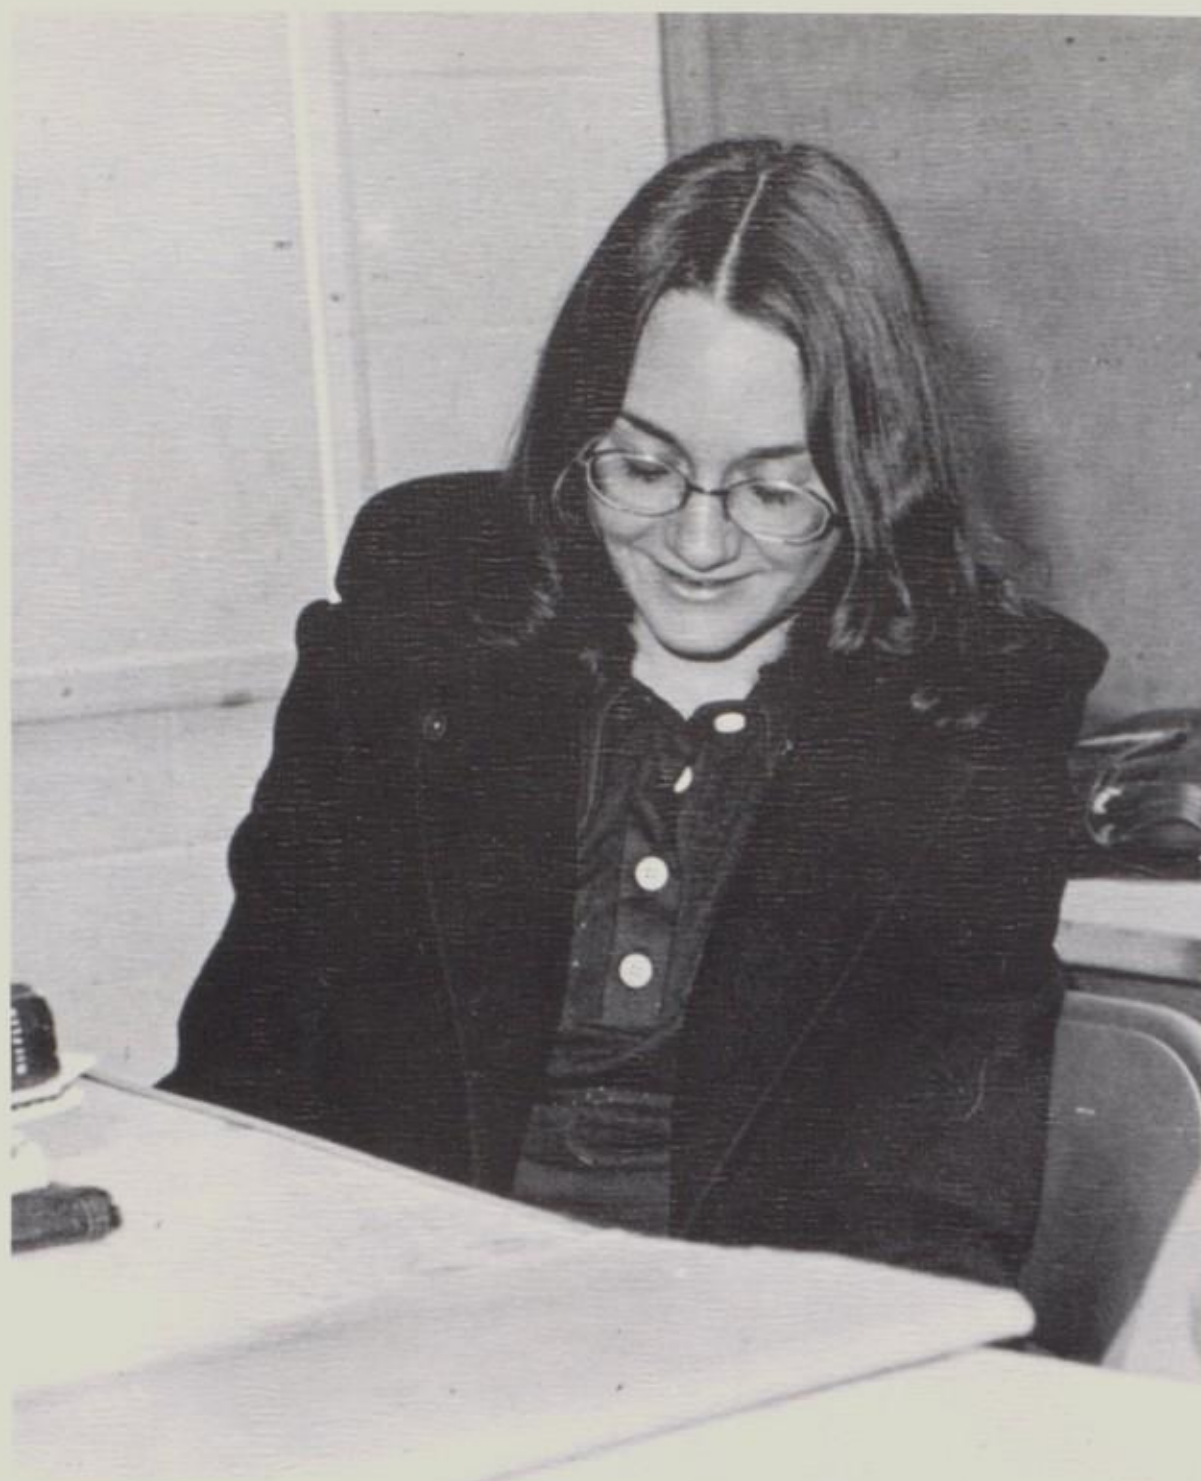

New headbands were made for members of the court by a few of the girls.

Kachinas also served as hostesses for the annual football banquet, which was held in December.

Favors were made and given to children in the hospital on Valentine's Day.

A spring picnic in April was attended by the members of Kachinas.

Key Club Helps With Festivities

During the year, the Key Club took on many activities. For their first project, they co-sponsored the homecoming festivities.

The band, GILBRALTER, was selected to play for the dance held after the game. The club also provided escorts for the homecoming royalty.

This year, instead of providing a calendar, members selected one girl to become their club sweetheart. Laura Burford was chosen for this title.

The basketball and track schedules for the year were sponsored by the club, and members aided the Christmas Seals program. Blood was donated to the Red Cross by a few of the members, and sad faces were turned into huge smiles as members visited the Children's Hospital for Christmas.

Doug Parrish served as president of Hall's chapter of Key Club.

Mr. Charles Thompson was the club sponsor.

Chapel Club Designed To Help Students

As a non-denominational group, the Chapel Club was designed to help and support their fellow members on campus.

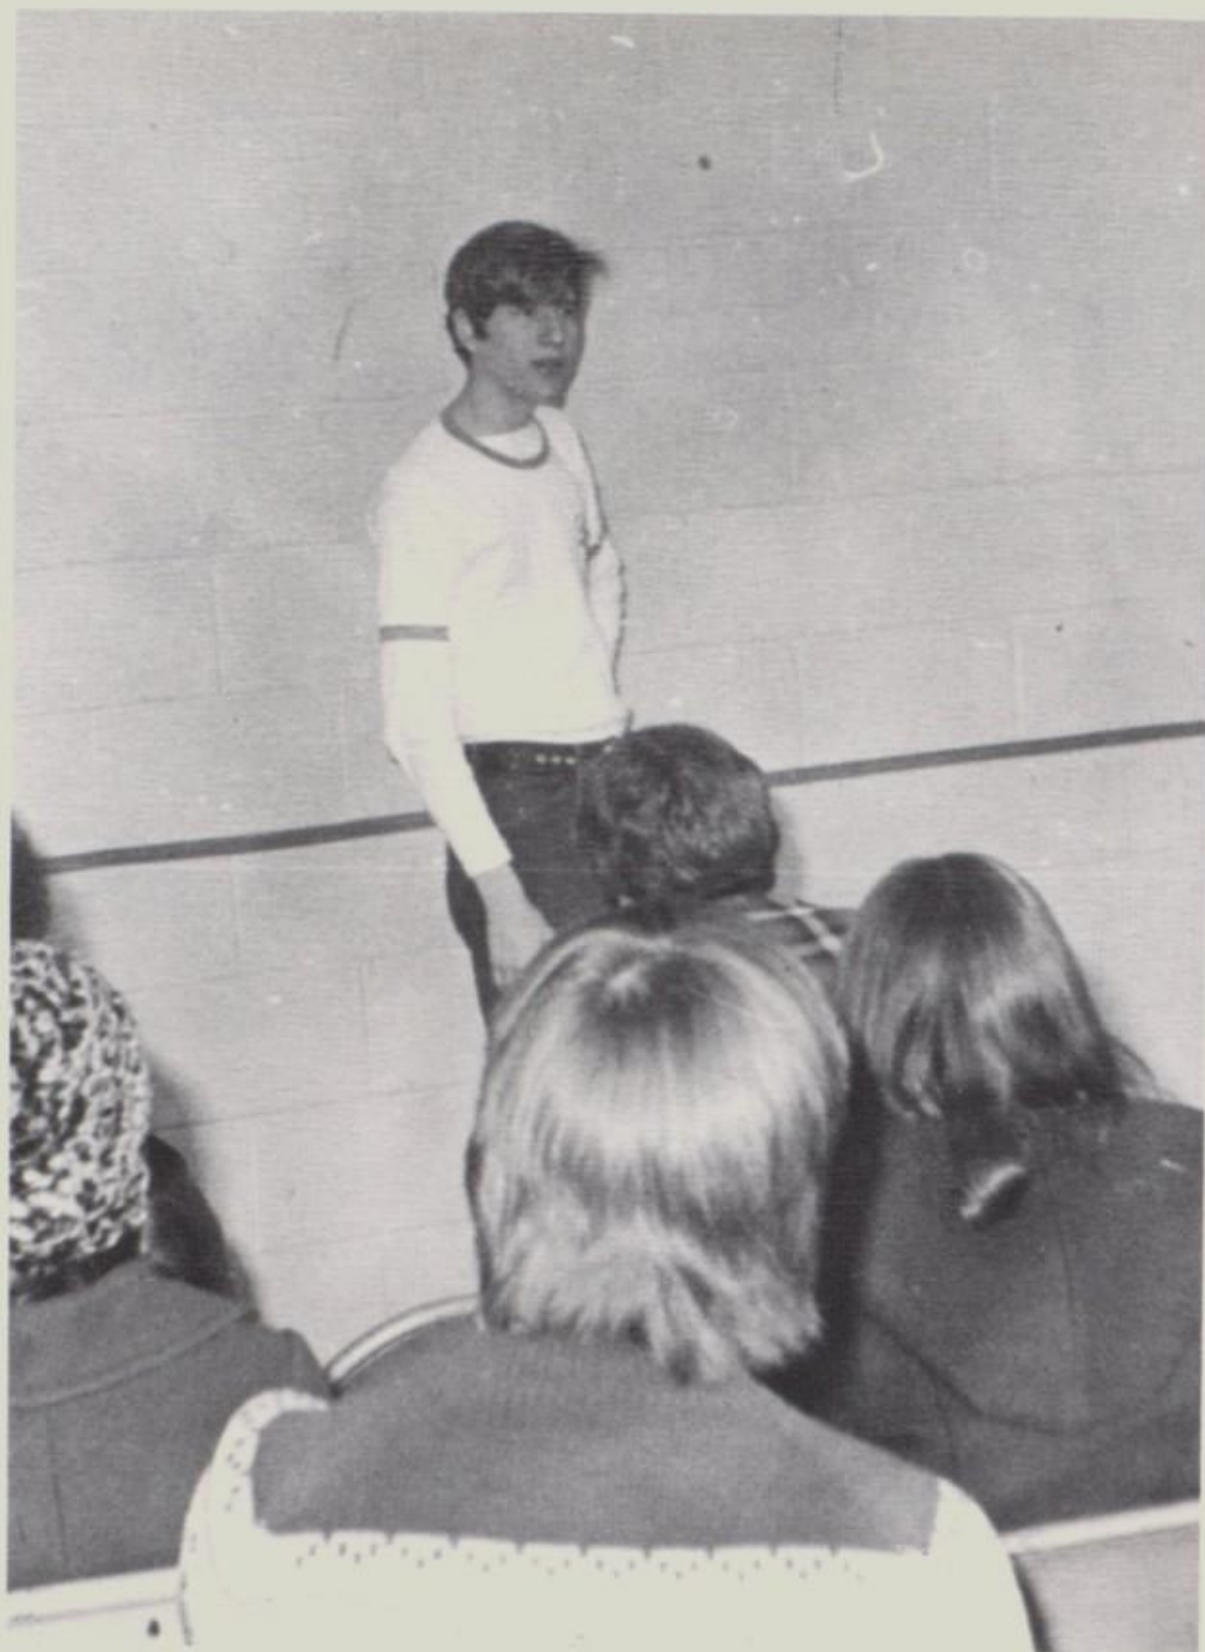

There were no dues, no officers, no roll and no announcements in the bulletin about the meetings.

Meetings were spontaneous and the members sang and discussed the Bible. The students volunteered to speak at meetings.

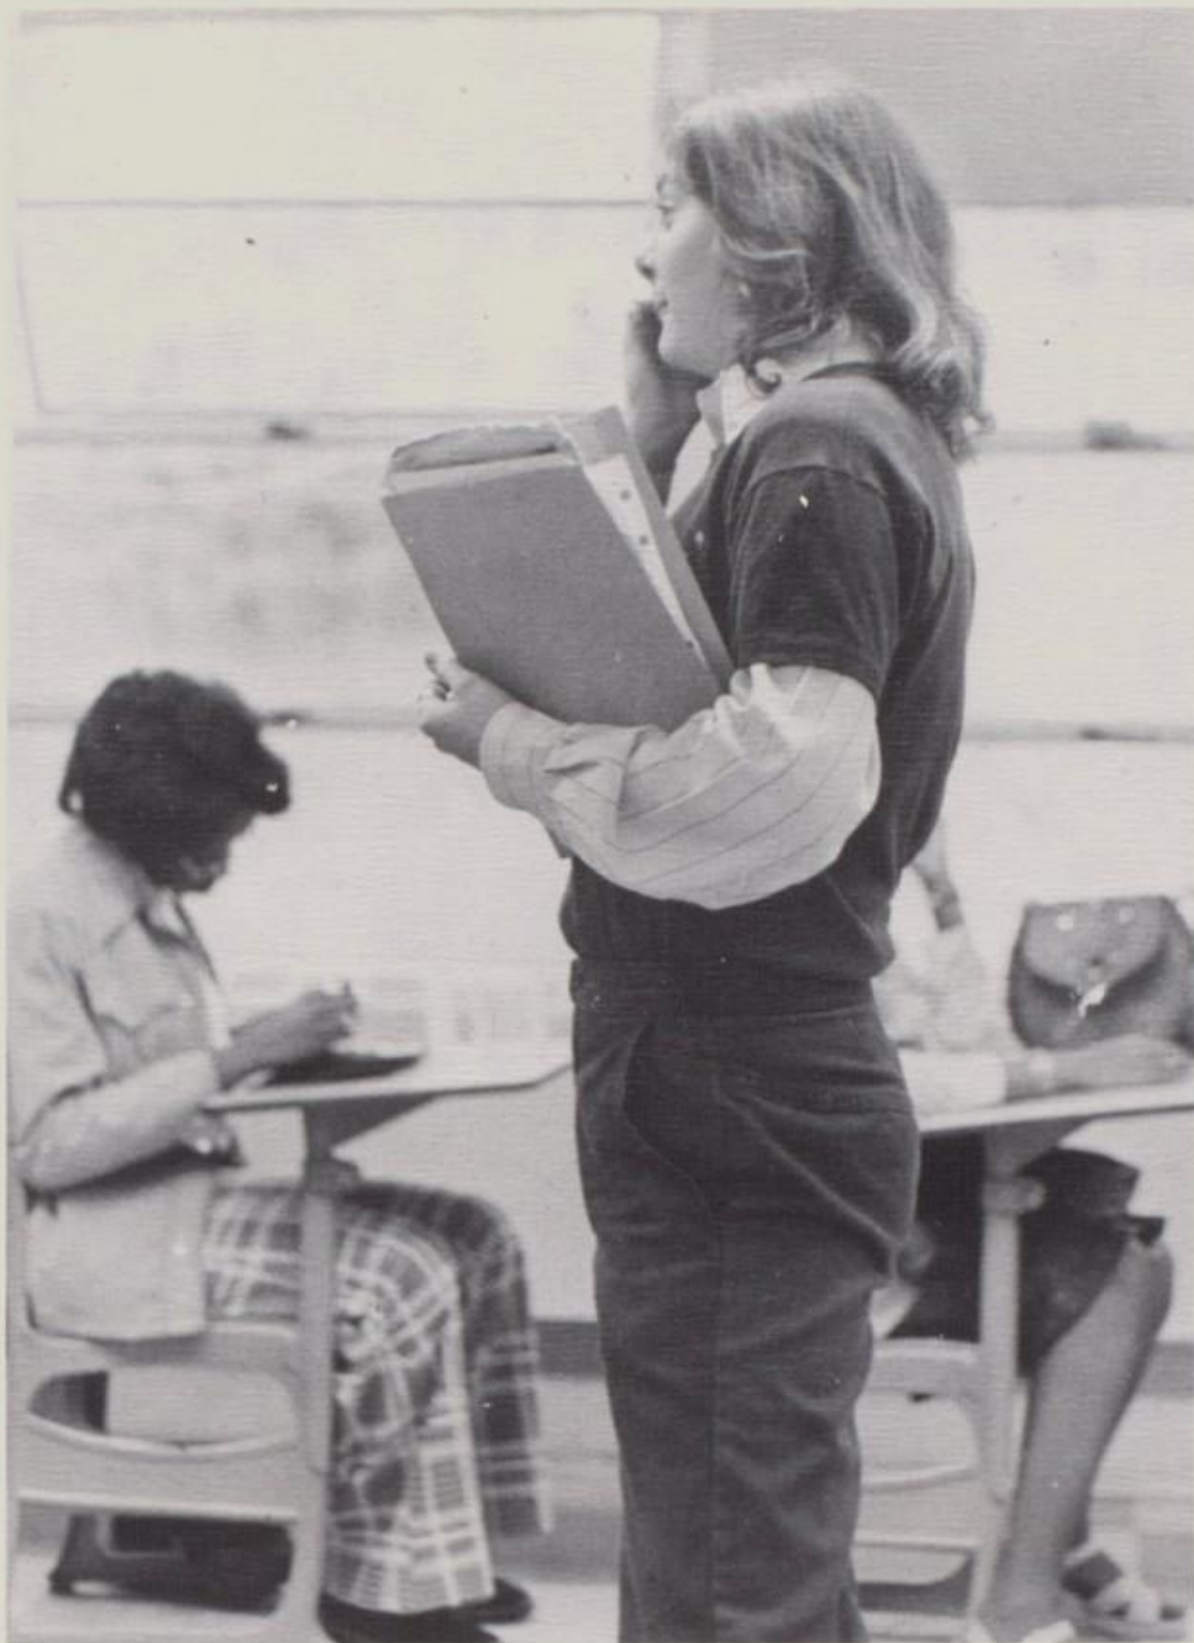

At each of the meetings a prayer request was filled out and each student took one. Then during the week each person prayed for the person on his or her request slip.

During faculty week, the names of the faculty were put into the box. Each member took one and did something for that teacher during the week. For example, some put a Christmas card in the teacher's box or helped the teacher in some way.

The faculty members attending the meetings were Mrs. Gordon Fendley and Mrs. John Short.

"I wonder why Noah had TWO of everything!"

"These fingernails sure are tasty."

Keyettes Give Xmas Party For Children

During the summer, Keyettes held a clothing drive and collected clothes from all over the city and then distributed the articles to the needy people of Little Rock.

At Christmas, club members carried on the Christmas spirit and gave the children at the Methodist Children's Home a party.

Keyettes sold their annual pom-poms to promote spirit and also to raise money for their various activities during the year.

As in previous years, the Keyette Beau was selected by the members and awarded a gift certificate.

Keyettes met in Room 605 on the second and fourth Mondays of every month. Miss Angela Maynard was the faculty advisor.

A.P.&L. Rep. Talks About Ark. Energy

Speakers were a highlight of Mu Alpha Theta meetings this year.

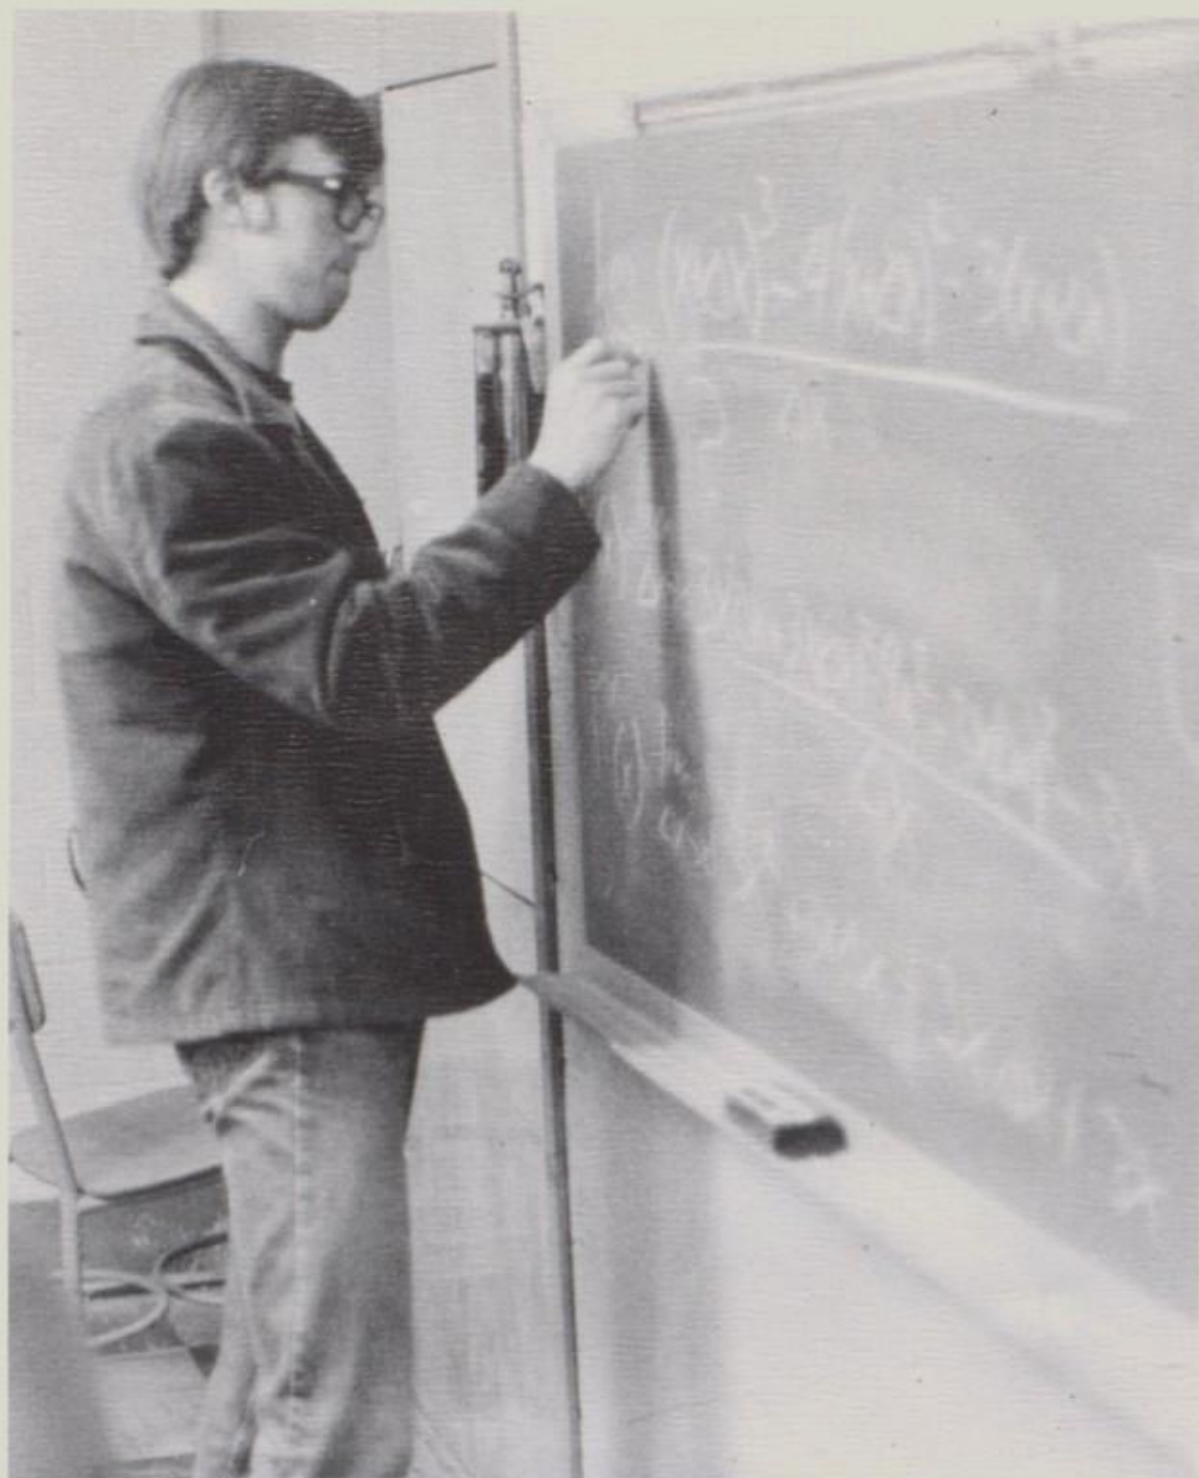

A representative of Arkansas Power and Light Company discussed the efforts of AP&L to meet the growing energy needs of Arkansas, and talked about the new nuclear power plant in Russellville.

A Bell Telephone Company representative presented a program with a talk-discussion of lasers, a demonstration of a small laser; and a holograph display. The club also heard a speaker from Alcoa Aluminum Company.

Four members attended the National Math Club Convention last summer in Fayetteville. Former Astronaut Walter Cunningham was one of the speakers at the five day meeting.

An induction of members was held in May in addition to the annual picnic.

For the first time in two years certificates and membership cards were presented to members.

Young Dems Analyze Ark. Nov. Election

Young Democrats began the year by analyzing the November election. They discussed the chances of the candidates and the ratification of the proposed amendments.

Together with the Government classes Young Democrats wrote a letter to Rep. Wilbur D. Mills expressing their opinions after his involvement in the Tidal Basin incident. The majority of the group felt that he should stay in Congress but should resign his chairmanship of the House Ways and Means Committee.

State Rep. Bill Beaumont and Vice-Mayor Les Hollingsworth were two of the prominent political figures that spoke to the club during the year.

Club meetings were the first Friday of each month and were sponsored by Mrs. Katherine Edwards.

SRA Allows Student To Better Skills

For the third year the Student Recreation Association offered students the opportunity to learn and improve their skills in games such as chess and bridge. Lessons were given to beginners and advanced players worked on improving their game.

Students interested in playing soccer were also members of SRA. They practiced before and after school and played other soccer teams in the city on the weekends.

No formal meetings were held or dues collected. Time was spent playing and enjoying the games.

Meetings were every Monday morning. Club sponsors were Mr. John D. Williams, Mr. John Diesel, and Mr. Frank Kent.

Political Pts. Observed At N.P. Meeting

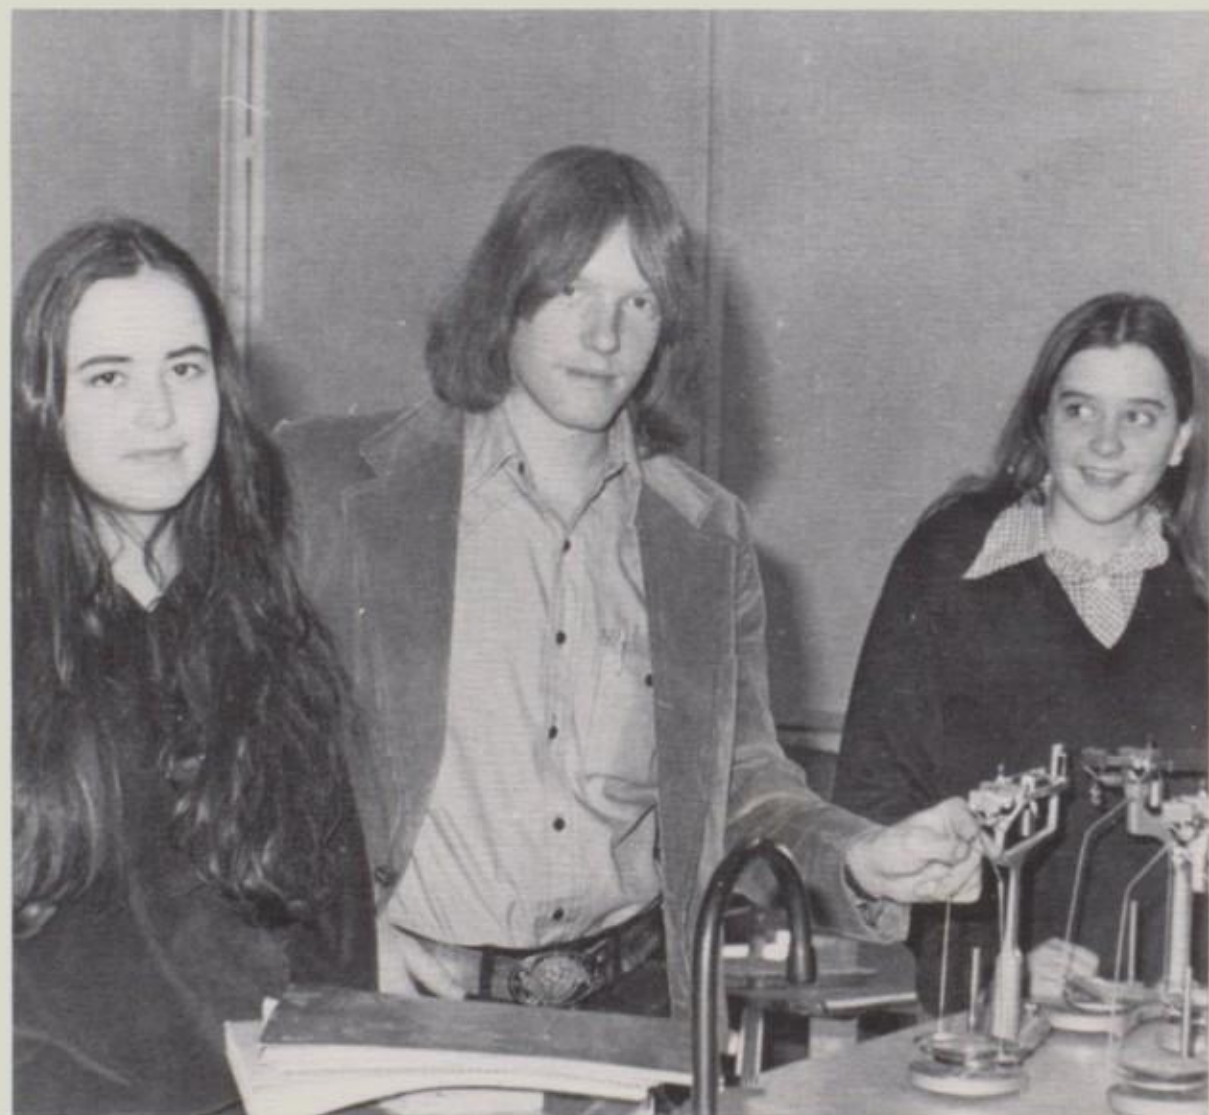

Political issues were a main topic of discussion at the New Party meetings. Emphasis was placed on presenting different aspects of the political system and giving the members a wide variety of political ideas and viewpoints.

Several speakers addressed the club concerning current political issues as well as possible solutions to social problems.

Members discussed the importance of each political party and the role that it plays in the present system.

City, county, state, and national government set ups were also discussed and compared for efficiency.

New Party met on the first Tuesday of each month. Club sponsor was Mr. A. T. Bell.

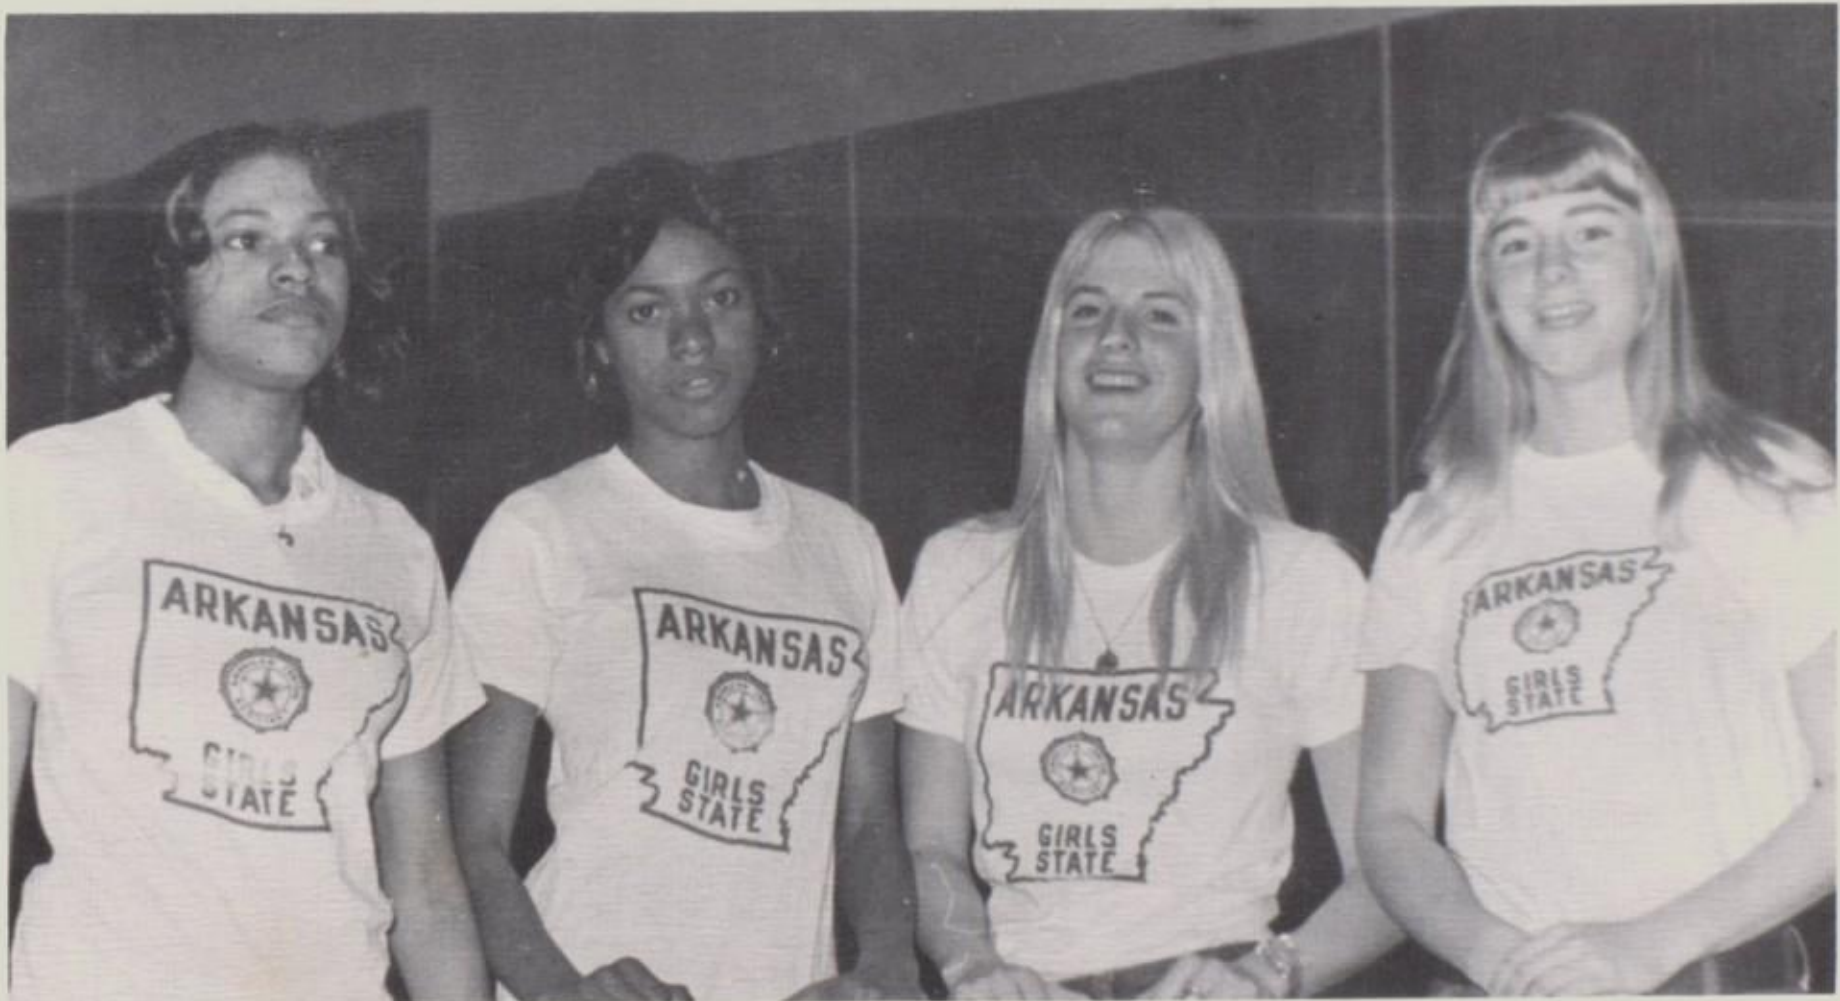

Boys', Girls' State Occur During June

June found Camp Robinson filled with delegates to Boys' State and Girls' State. Five boys and nine girls from Hall attended the annual events sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary.

Delegates learned about the country's political system and participated in mock election procedures for city, state, and county offices.

Several speakers from various professions spoke to the delegates on political topics. The speakers included Governor Dale Bumpers, Lieutenant Governor Bob Riley, Joe Purcell, David Pryor, and Dr. Jeff Farris.

Each day began at 7 a.m. with a flag ceremony followed by political meetings of city caucuses which led to the state conventions.

Members Of Club Act As Santa Claus

As its first project of the year Future Teachers of America sponsored a Christmas Post-Office. Students bought Christmas cards and FTA members delivered them on the Friday before the Christmas holidays.

National FTA week was observed in March. Each day was filled with an event concerning the roles of present and future teachers.

As in previous years, FTA members went to various schools of their choice throughout the city to assist teachers for one day. FTA members also worked for teachers during semester test week.

In May a social gathering was held with Parkview's FTA chapter marking the end of the year.

Male Libber Initiated Into F.H.A. Club

Future Homemakers of America, a club open to students interested in homemaking, inducted its first male member this year.

The club observed National FHA week February 9 through February 13. Each day teachers and students received refreshments, favors, or prizes.

To raise money for a banquet held during spring break members sold cookbooks composed of recipes from different Home Economics teachers.

FHA members entered a float in the homecoming parade in November and decorated basketball players' lockers during basketball season.

Club meetings were held twice a month. Representatives were sent to the FHA Federation meeting in October, at Jacksonville, and to the State Home Ec. Convention, in March at Robinson Auditorium.

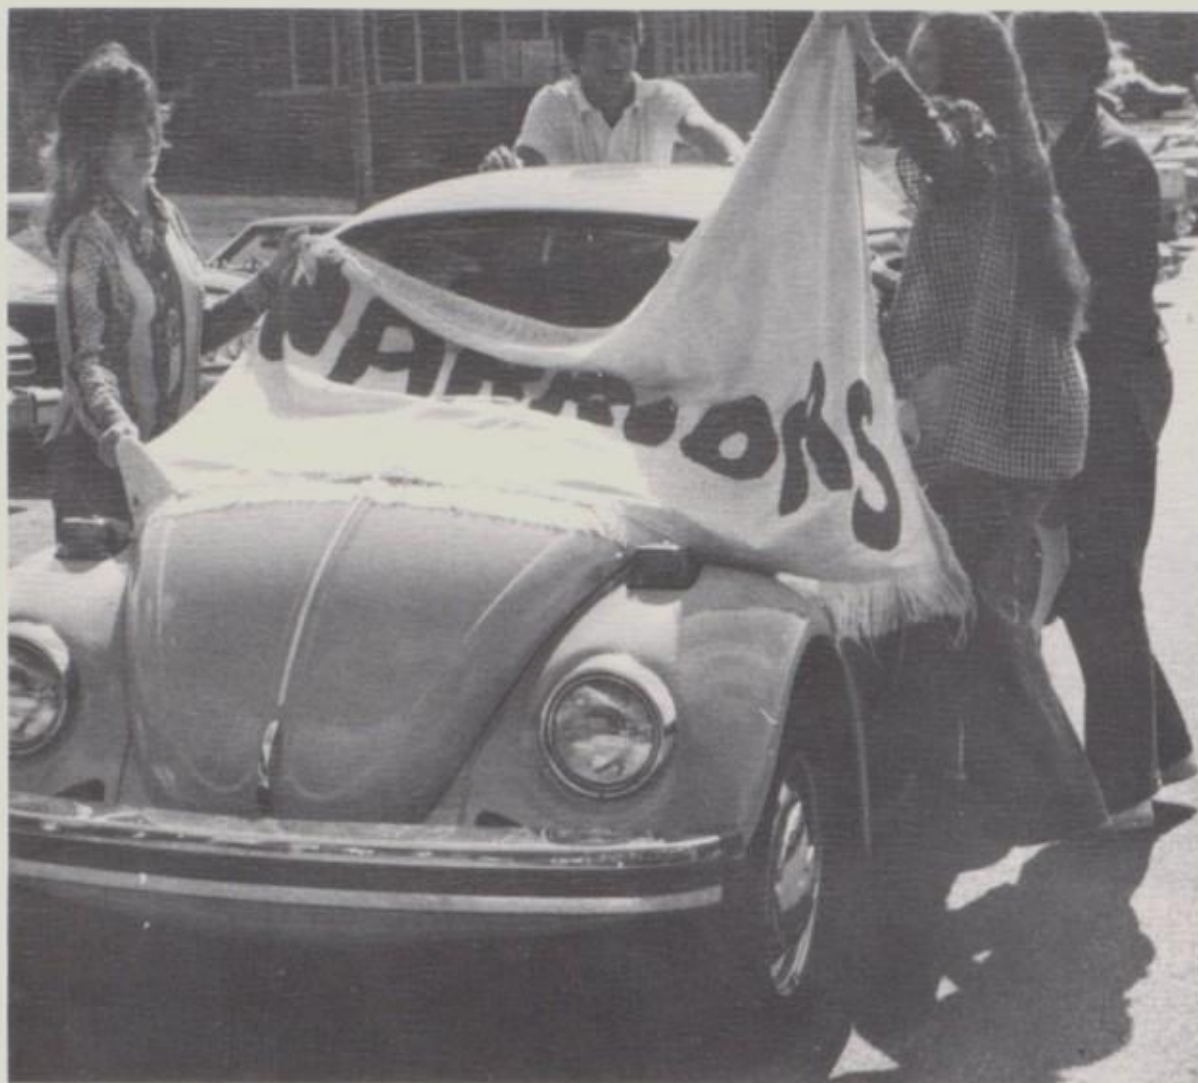

Club Project Initiates Test For Students

In November, Future Business Leaders of America sponsored free Sickle Cell Anemia blood tests to students and teachers in the auditorium. The project, initiated by the FBLA March of Dimes Committee, was done in conjunction with the Sickle Cell Anemia Foundation.

FBLA members attended various conventions and workshops. Delegations were sent to the FBLA National Convention in San Francisco, to the Southern Region FBLA Conference in Lexington, Kentucky, and to the District V FBLA Workshop at Mills High School.

The LAWS Project, initiated during the 73-74 school year, received first place honors for the "Most Original Project" at the National Convention.

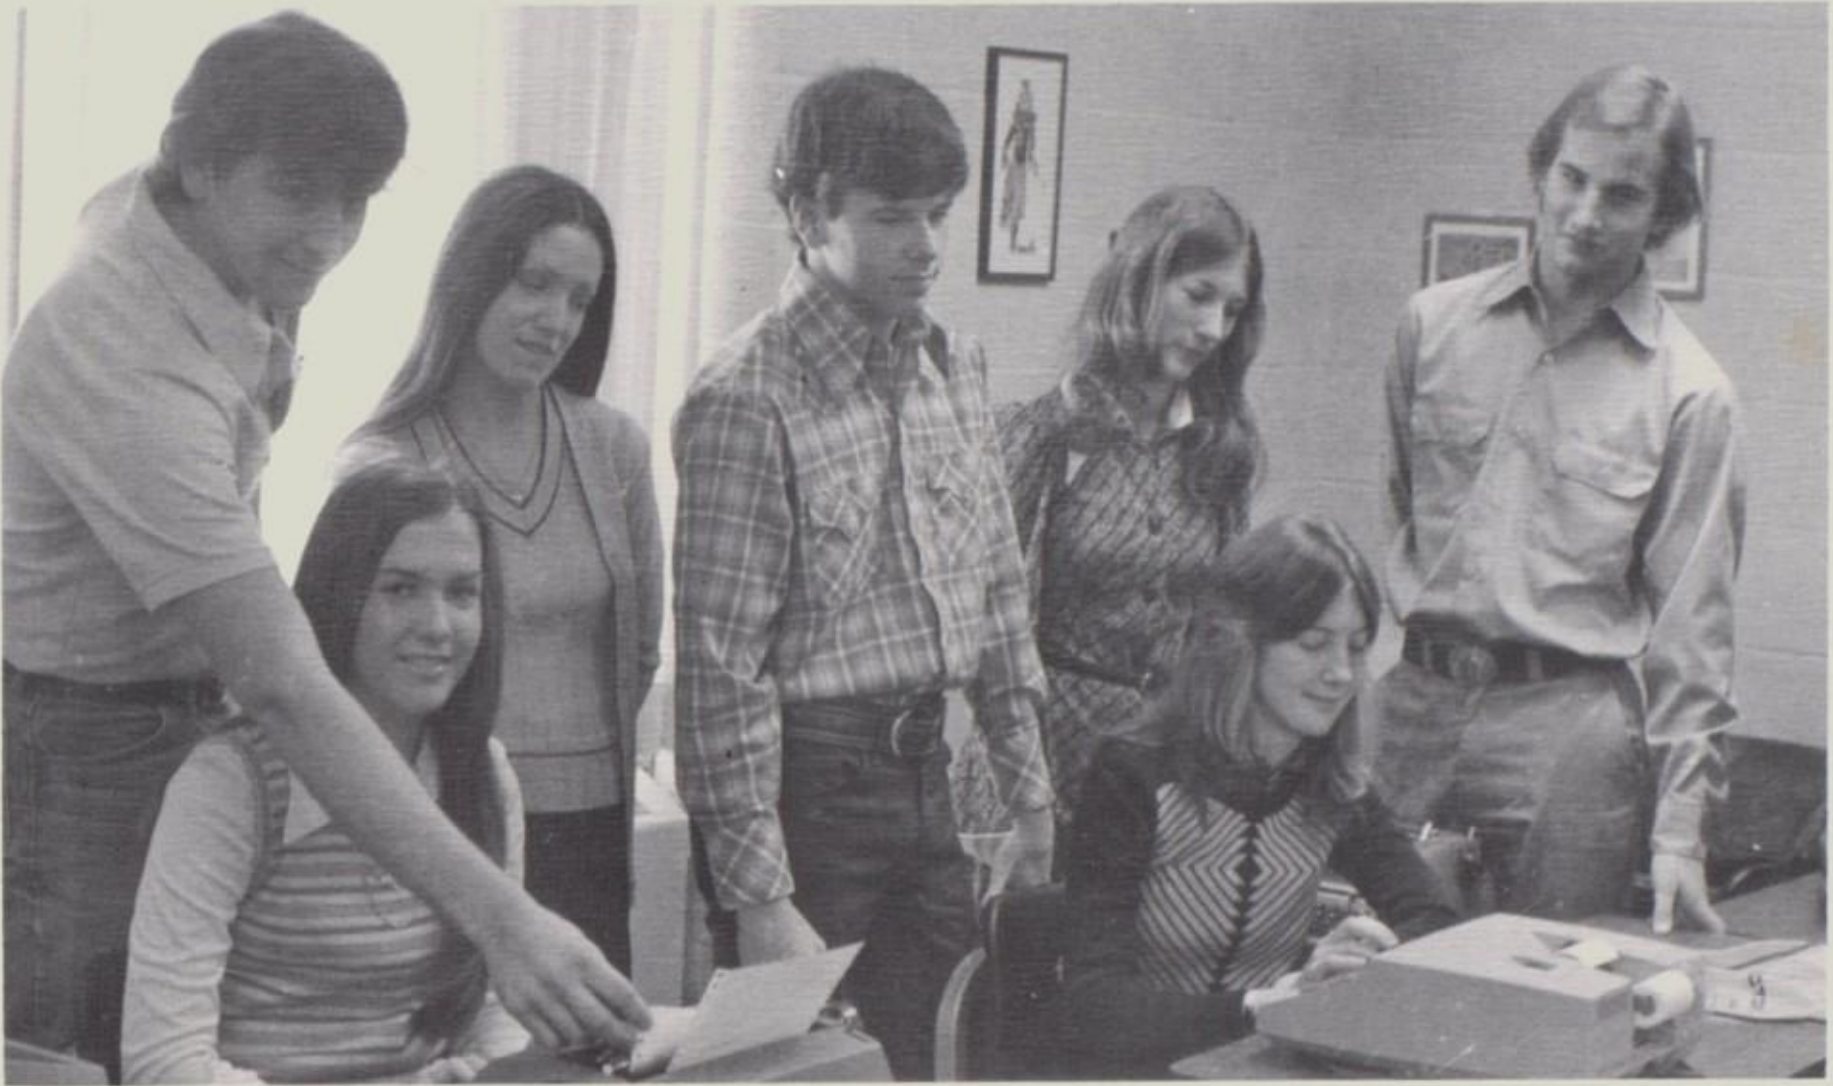

The club sponsored the annual Thanksgiving baskets for needy families in November. FBLA also decorated a float for the homecoming parade and conducted a paper recycling drive in honor of the Bi-Centennial.

FBLA OFFICERS: JACK BYERS, vice-president; JOAN HOGG, secretary; RENA LYNN, historian; BILL WEDDLE, treasurer; TRICIA OLIVER, reporter; BECKY ROWLETT, president; STEVE FIKE, parliamentarian.

Band, Choir Performance Given Jointly

For the second year, Hall had two bands. Besides the training group, which met second period every day, there was a performing concert band.

The concert band presented a Thanksgiving program in conjunction with the Hallmarks. For the finale, the Hallmarks joined the band in "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Individual band members participated in the state solo and ensemble contest and the All-Region and All-State clinics.

The band also played at all home football games and most basketball games.

The Band Parents Club, organized to support activities of the band, held their annual fruit cake sale.

Select Choir Performs For City Schools

Led by a new director, Mr. Robert Brack, the Hallmarks were an active performing choir this year.

The Hallmarks and the Warrior Band performed together at the Thanksgiving assembly. The choir also presented their annual Christmas and spring concerts.

The Honors Choir was invited to perform at Dunbar and Forest Heights Junior High Schools, and also Mount Pleasant Baptist Church.

The Hallaires, the second period choir, appeared as a performing group again this year.

Several Hallmark members attended the Central Arkansas District choir tryouts in November. Those who qualified for the District Choir were eligible for the State Choir tryouts which were held later in the year.

Drama Club Stages Two Short Plays

Hall Harlequin Players presented Harvey, a comedy, for the senior play production. The club also enacted two one act plays.

For the second consecutive year, the cast was not restricted to seniors. Any student who had previously taken a speech or drama course was eligible to audition for a part in the play.

Harlequin members made all props and costumes for the production and helped in make-up application.

Francesca Roberts, American Field Service exchange student from Wales, served as vice-president of the Harlequins. Senior Laura Bushman was president.

Membership in the club was open to any student with an interest in drama, regardless of grade level.

Meetings were held the third Monday of every month.

Andy Chase Heads 74-75 Stage Crew

The stage crew, sponsored by Mrs. Robert Bailey, performed various services during the year.

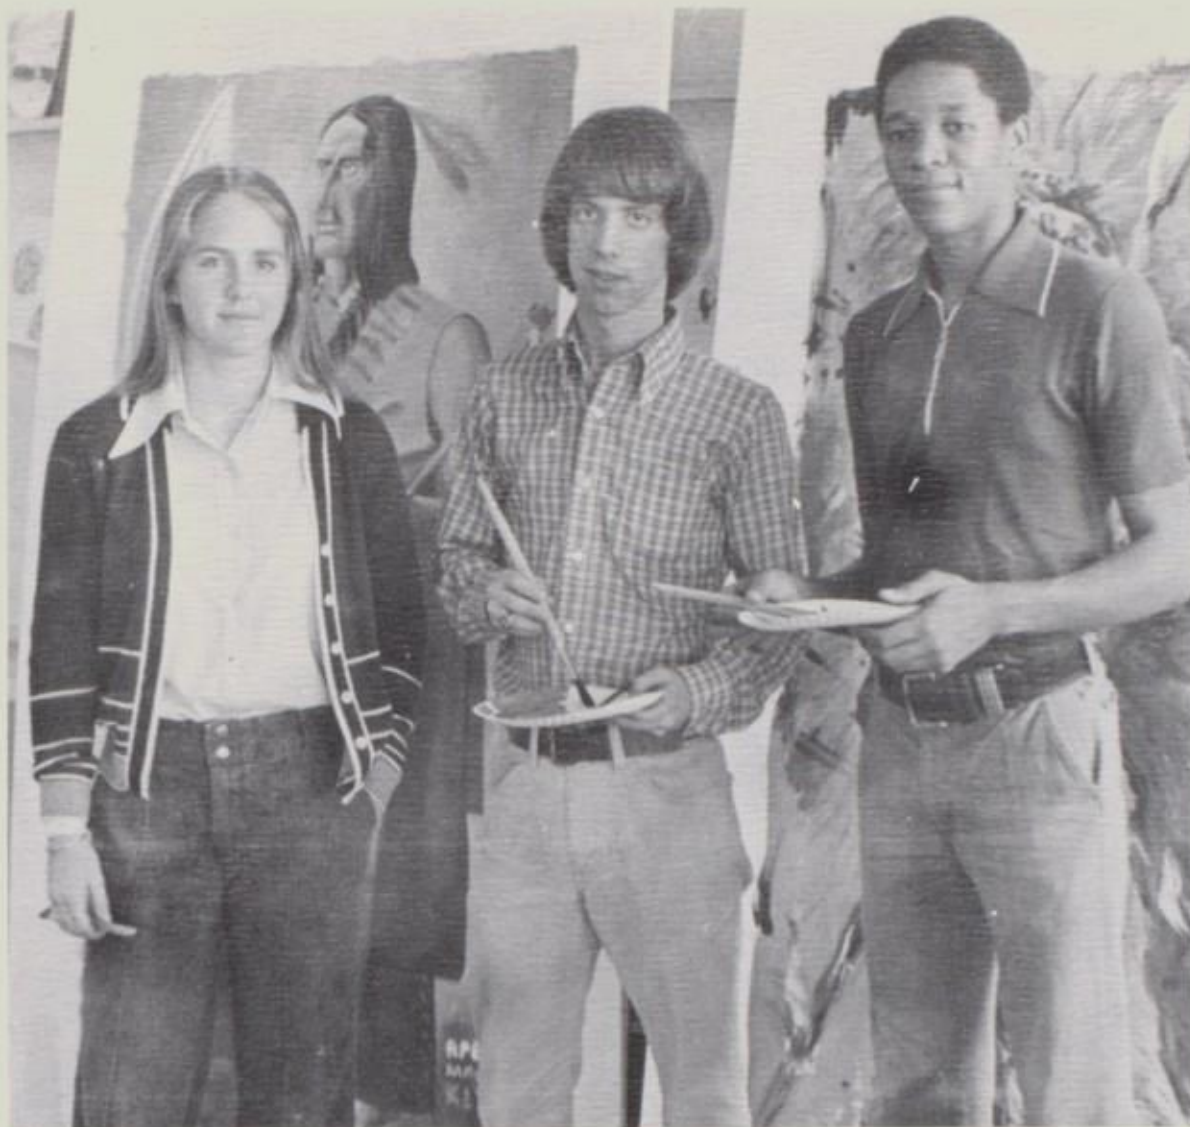

They worked at all assemblies, at club meetings held in the auditorium, and were responsible for raising and lowering curtains and adjusting sound the lighting equipment.

They also helped with the Arkansas Opera Theater Production of Susannah, which was presented in the Hall High Auditorium.

Crew members assisted in the evening concerts which were presented by the band and choir.

Senior Andy Chase served as stage crew manager. He was responsible for supervising members in the performance of their duties. He held periodic meetings to give instructions to the group.

Artists Make Decorations For Holidays

The Art Club added a special touch to the Christmas season this year by sponsoring a wreath contest.

Wreaths were fashioned by students and attached to classroom doors. Cost had to be kept to one dollar, and the club offered a five dollar prize to stimulate interest in the contest.

In addition, "Merry Christmas" signs made by club members were put on each classroom door.

Art club members worked on a permanent exhibit for display in the gym. The exhibit consisted of four paintings of Indians and their way of life.

Hall's mascot, Wakhendah, was given his yearly coat of paint by the club members.

Senior Keith Petersen served as the 74-75 president.

War Whoop Represented At Workshop

Edited by Senior Kathy Riffel, the War Whoop displayed an entirely new look this year.

Clearer pictures, fewer mistakes, and finer paper quality were results of the new offset printing equipment installed at Metropolitan Vocational Technical Center.

Four staff members and their adviser attended a high school journalism workshop October 24 at the University of Arkansas at Little Rock. Workshop sessions included sports editing, column writing, and political cartooning. The purpose of the workshop was to expose students to professional journalists who had had experience publishing a daily newspaper.

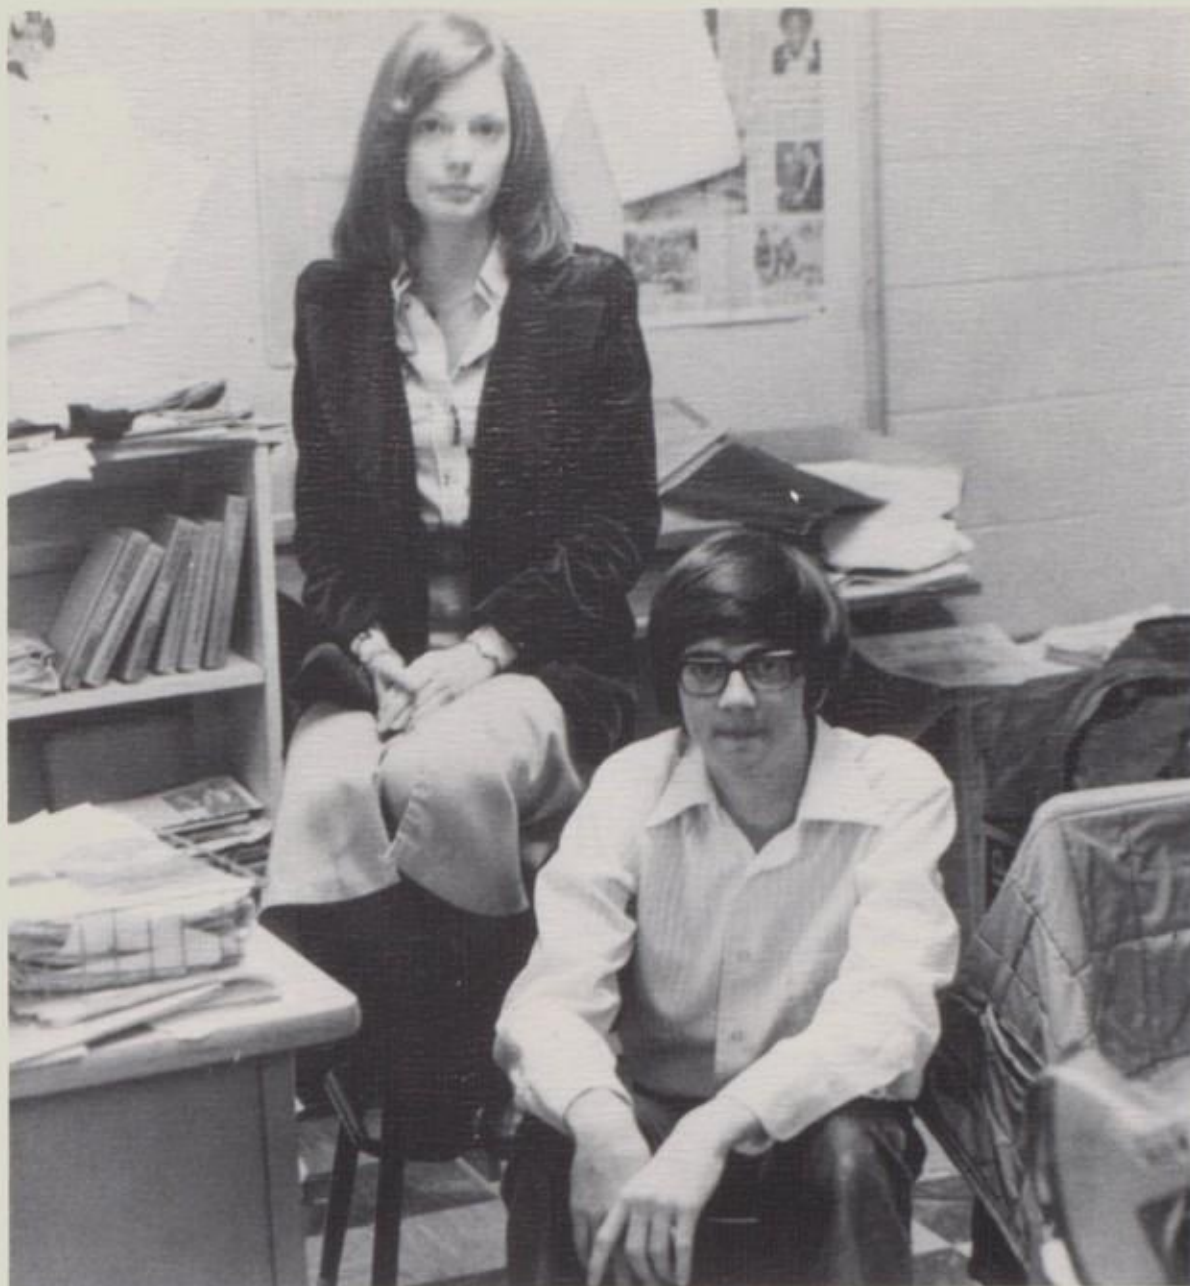

In addition to the editor, other staff members included Bill Nicholson, sports editor, and Calvin Glasscock, who served as photographer for both the War Whoop and the Warrior.

In April, staff members attended the annual convention of the Arkansas High School Press Associations.

"Why did you do that?"

Quill and Scroll Inducts Nine Into Group

Nine students who had done exceptional work in the field of journalism were inducted into Quill and Scroll in February.

The new members were Becca Bram, Jan Diner, Cato Ealy, Jeff Treece, Bill McLeod, Bruce Douglas, Donna Stockton, Eugene Richard, and Keith Parette.

Officers for Hall's chapter are Kathy Riffel, president, and Bill Nicholson, vice-president.

The new inductees were all members of the War Whoop staff, who had written at least one hundred inches of copy.

Quill and Scroll is an International Honorary Society for high school journalists. A student must be either a junior or senior and have a "B" average to be eligible for membership.

In the spring, Warrior staff members were inducted at the annual spring picnic.

Hall's chapter of Quill and Scroll was established in 1967. Meetings were held the third Friday of every month in room 109.

Annual Staff Wins Award At Workshop

The 1975 Warrior staff won first place for photography detail among schools with 1000 or more students during a year-book workshop held at UALR in July. Hall was represented by six staff members and their sponsor.

Throughout the summer and early fall, the Warrior staff sold page sponsorships.

The subscription drive was held in November. Staff members set up tables in the halls to sell annuals during the three week subscription drive. Students had the option of paying in full for an annual or signing an agreement to make a down payment and pay the balance later.

Three deadlines in December, February, and March developed organization. Mosaic style layouts were used for most of the book.

New this year was the use of magazine layout in the introduction and conclusion of the annual.

The 9 by 12 inch, 256 page annual was published by Taylor Publishing Company of Dallas, Texas. The Warrior was presented to the student body in an assembly in May.

Assisting Bill Sundermann, the editor, was Kathy Toll. Colleen Moorman served as business manager. The 12 member staff was sponsored by Mrs. Tom Christie.

Fruit, Shade Trees Sold to Raise Funds

Early in the school year, the Inkwell staff organized a fund-raising campaign. Fruit and shade trees were sold to raise money to help pay for the publication of Hall's literary magazine.

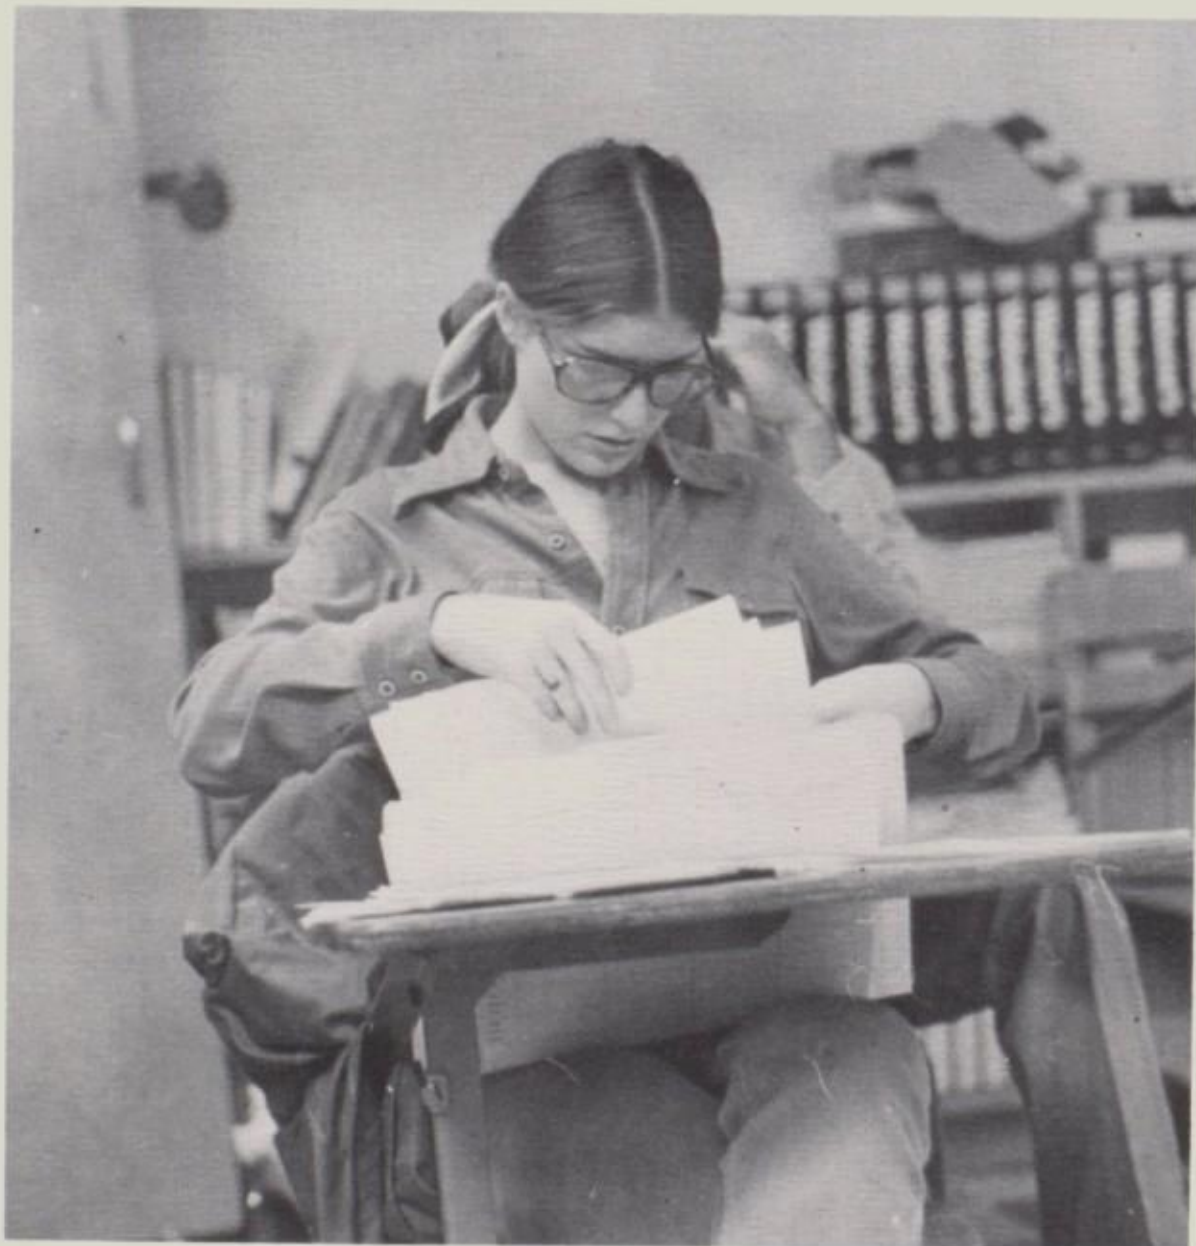

During the first semester, the staff was involved with intensive study of poetry. The second semester was spent studying short stories in addition to organizing and publishing the Inkwell. The Inkwell staff judged entries and chose selections for publication.

The Inkwell was made up of original compositions in the form of poetry, photography, essays, short stories, and artwork submitted by Hall students and faculty.

The Inkwell, which was scheduled for publication on May 1, was distributed to the student body through the English classes.

Mrs. Marion Green was the faculty sponsor for the creative writing class.

The Red Cross was organized for the purpose of helping others. This organization provided opportunities to take part in the local activities of the American Red Cross. Each homeroom was represented in the Red Cross meetings.

In the early fall, cookies were baked by the home economics classes, packed in cans by the Red Cross, and delivered to Veterans Administration hospitals in the Little Rock area. Cookies were also delivered to the blood donor building to be served to blood donors.

In December, small packages of handy items such as pencils and Kleenex were wrapped and delivered to patients in Veterans Administration hospitals.

Students and faculty participated in the Senior Blood Day program in May.

Miss Nancy Popperfuss was faculty sponsor for the Hall High School Red Cross chapter.

Science Club Begins New Nature Trail

The Science Club, along with the Science and Survival classes, sponsored the nature learning center in the woods behind the school. The half-mile long trail was engineered by the Soil Conservation Service and was designed to minimize soil erosion.

Rock dams were installed to form small pools. Wheat, cotton, and oats were planted in a corner of the property. A compost heap and a soil profile were features of the project.

Plants native to Arkansas and various other trees and shrubs were identified along the trail.

At the twice-monthly meetings of the Science Club, speakers and films were often featured to promote scientific interest.

Mrs. R. N. Taylor, Mrs. Catherine Hamilton, Mr. Charles Leverett, and Mrs. Dennis Dance were the faculty sponsors of the Science Club

History Club Moves Into Second Year

Discussion of various topics during the year enabled students to reach a better understanding of our changing world. Topics of discussion for the History Club included the Cossacks, the American Indians, American economics, and Adolf Hitler.

This is the second year that the History Club has been organized. The club is composed of students interested in current events in addition to the history of the world.

A secretary was in charge of keeping roll for the monthly meetings. There was a revolving chairmanship, with different members presiding over each meeting.

Any student interested in joining the History Club was eligible for membership.

Mr. Sam Kent was the faculty sponsor of the club.

Spanish Club Has Vargas At Meeting

Rosemary Vargas, an exchange student from Bolivia, was one of the speakers for the Spanish Club.

Learning more about Spanish speaking peoples around the world was the main objective of the Spanish Club.

Speakers from various Spanish speaking countries, slides, postcards, and Spanish foods were helpful in understanding the cultures of Spain and Latin American countries.

El Circulo Espanol met once a month during the school year. Any Spanish language student was eligible to join the club. Mrs. LaVon Yopez and Mrs. John Short were the faculty sponsors.

French Club Learns About Customs, Life

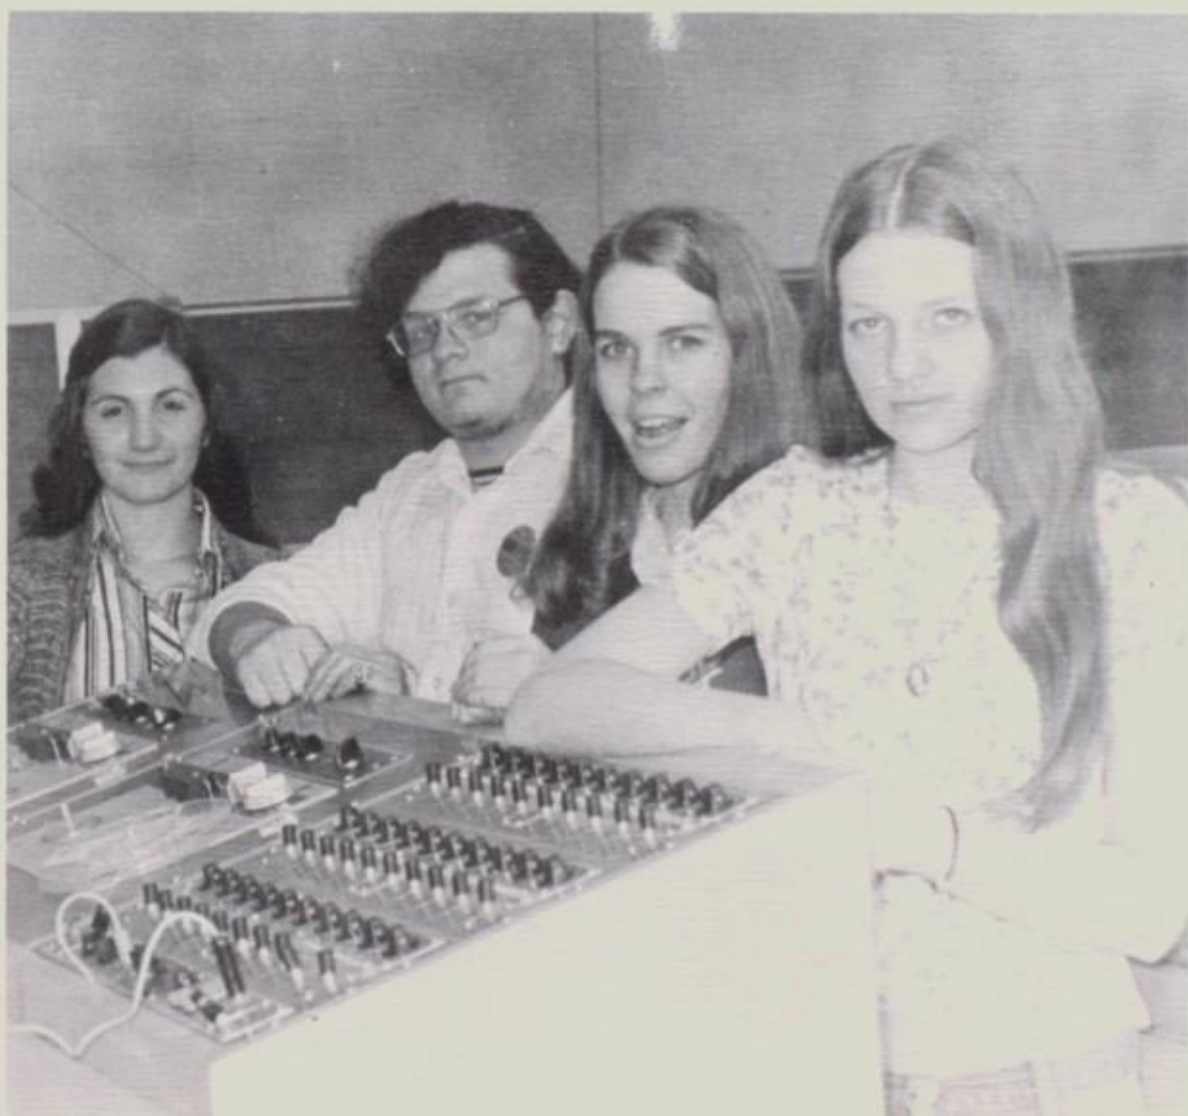

Students from France, who are attending school in Little Rock, spoke to the French Club concerning their life in France. Among the speakers were Pasqual Teternoire, who attends Central, and Jacques Pierini, a student at Parkview.

Photographs and postcards of their country were helpful to students in visually experiencing a different culture.

French Club participated in the Homecoming activities by designing a float for the parade. A Volkswagen was decorated to represent a Frenchman.

In January, Tony Hopson spoke to the French Club about various French wines and cheeses. French Club members sampled different cheeses at the meeting.

Any student enrolled in a French class was eligible to join the French Club. Mme. Marion Hulsey was the faculty sponsor.

Indust. Arts Place First At Exhibition

The Industrial Arts Club participated in several field trips around the city observing employment opportunities in the construction field.

One of the activities of the Industrial Arts Club was to participate in the State Drawing Exhibition in May.

During several meetings, the club observed films showing different activities performed in industry.

The club met on the fourth Friday of each month. Faculty advisors were Mr. David Patterson and Mr. James Matthews.

Interact Club Chooses All Girl Officers

For the first year, the Interact Club was run by all female officers. The fact that the majority of the club was girls was also unprecedented.

The new trend began last year when girls were invited to become members of the club for the first time.

Most of the activities and service projects of the club were carried out along with the Key Club. These projects included assisting in the preparation of the Homecoming ceremonies, the Homecoming dance, and a tour of the Children's Hospital during the Christmas season.

The annual spring float trip down the Buffalo River was planned along with the Key Club.

Laura Burford, president, spoke to the Rotary Club on the current activities at Hall.

Members Of AFS Award Scholarships

To raise money for scholarships to send students abroad, the American Field Service Chapter held rummage sales during the year.

Among other fund raising activities was a spaghetti supper which was held at St. Mark's Episcopal Church in February. The various speakers talked about their experiences in the past year with AFS abroad.

American Field Services was an organization designed to give students a chance to go to a foreign country to learn a new language, a new culture, and experience a different type of people.

Hall's AFS Chapter held a meeting once a month with the Little Rock AFS Chapter, which was affiliated with AFS International.

AFS conducted their meetings in Room 605 with Miss Angela Maynard.

W.R. Starts Informative Discussions

The Students for Women's Rights Club acted in several legal instances. One was to write their Representatives in Congress and let them know how they stood on the Equal Rights Amendment.

During the year the club had various speakers. The subjects touched upon ranged from abortion to higher pay for women in society.

The Students for Women's Rights Club was organized in 1973 to give girls information about women that they couldn't find in any other club. Miss Anne Hansen was the faculty advisor of the club. The meetings were conducted in an informal atmosphere. There were no officers or dues.

Library Club Members Aid In Book Use

Student assistants played an important role in keeping up the school library. Each member worked for one hour per day doing various jobs such as placing books back on their shelves, typing, and helping students to locate materials.

Through meetings and club activities, members stimulated reading interests and the use of books for class work or pleasure reading.

Some members attended the district meeting of the Arkansas Student Librarians Association (ASLA), which promoted ideas through their meetings. Judy Petty was a featured speaker at the meeting. Dave Jones was elected treasurer of the district association.

Health Occup. Learn From Field Trips

Students enrolled in Health Occupations Education participated outside the classroom in the Health Occupations Club.

The club, an affiliate of Vocational Industrial Clubs of America, conducted community service projects and field trips.

In the fall, club members spent a day at the Children's Colony in Conway and presented a skit for the children. The club also toured the Vocational Rehabilitation Center at Hot Springs where members observed handicapped patients being trained in a skill.

Thanksgiving baskets were given to five needy families during the holidays. The Christmas season found the Health Occupations Club caroling at several nursing homes around Little Rock.

DECA Reps. Attend State Conference

Seven members of Hall's Chapter of Distributive Education Clubs of America attended the annual District Leadership Conference of the Arkansas Association of DECA, held at the University of Arkansas at Little Rock in October.

Several students attended the State Leadership Conference in April and the National Conference in May at Hollywood, Florida.

Members participated in various competitive activities that DECA held. A Scholarship Awards program was started which assisted the students in reaching their goals.

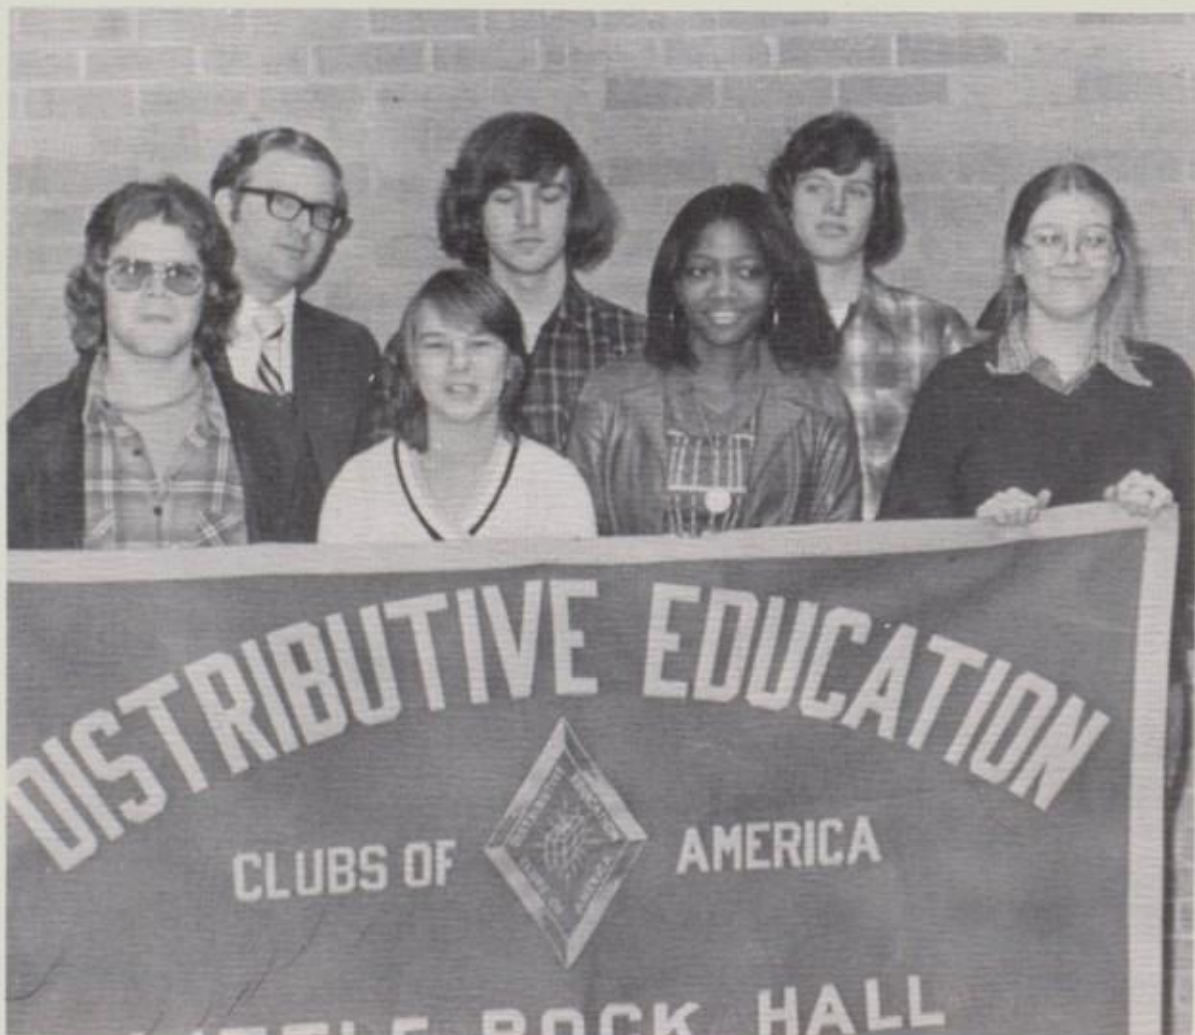

DECA was the youth organization run by the students to provide social and civic activities for the students that participated in the Distributive Education Program at school.

DECA's activities were on Sundays to give students who worked on weekdays an opportunity to attend.

CCE Makes Xmas Cards For Elderly

The Coordinated Career Education Club consisted of juniors and seniors who participated in the vocational programs at school.

One of the projects CCE organized was making Christmas cards for the elderly in some of the local nursing homes.

Mrs. Diane Mitchener and Miss Glenda Thessing were the faculty sponsors for CCE. The club had 100 per cent paid membership.

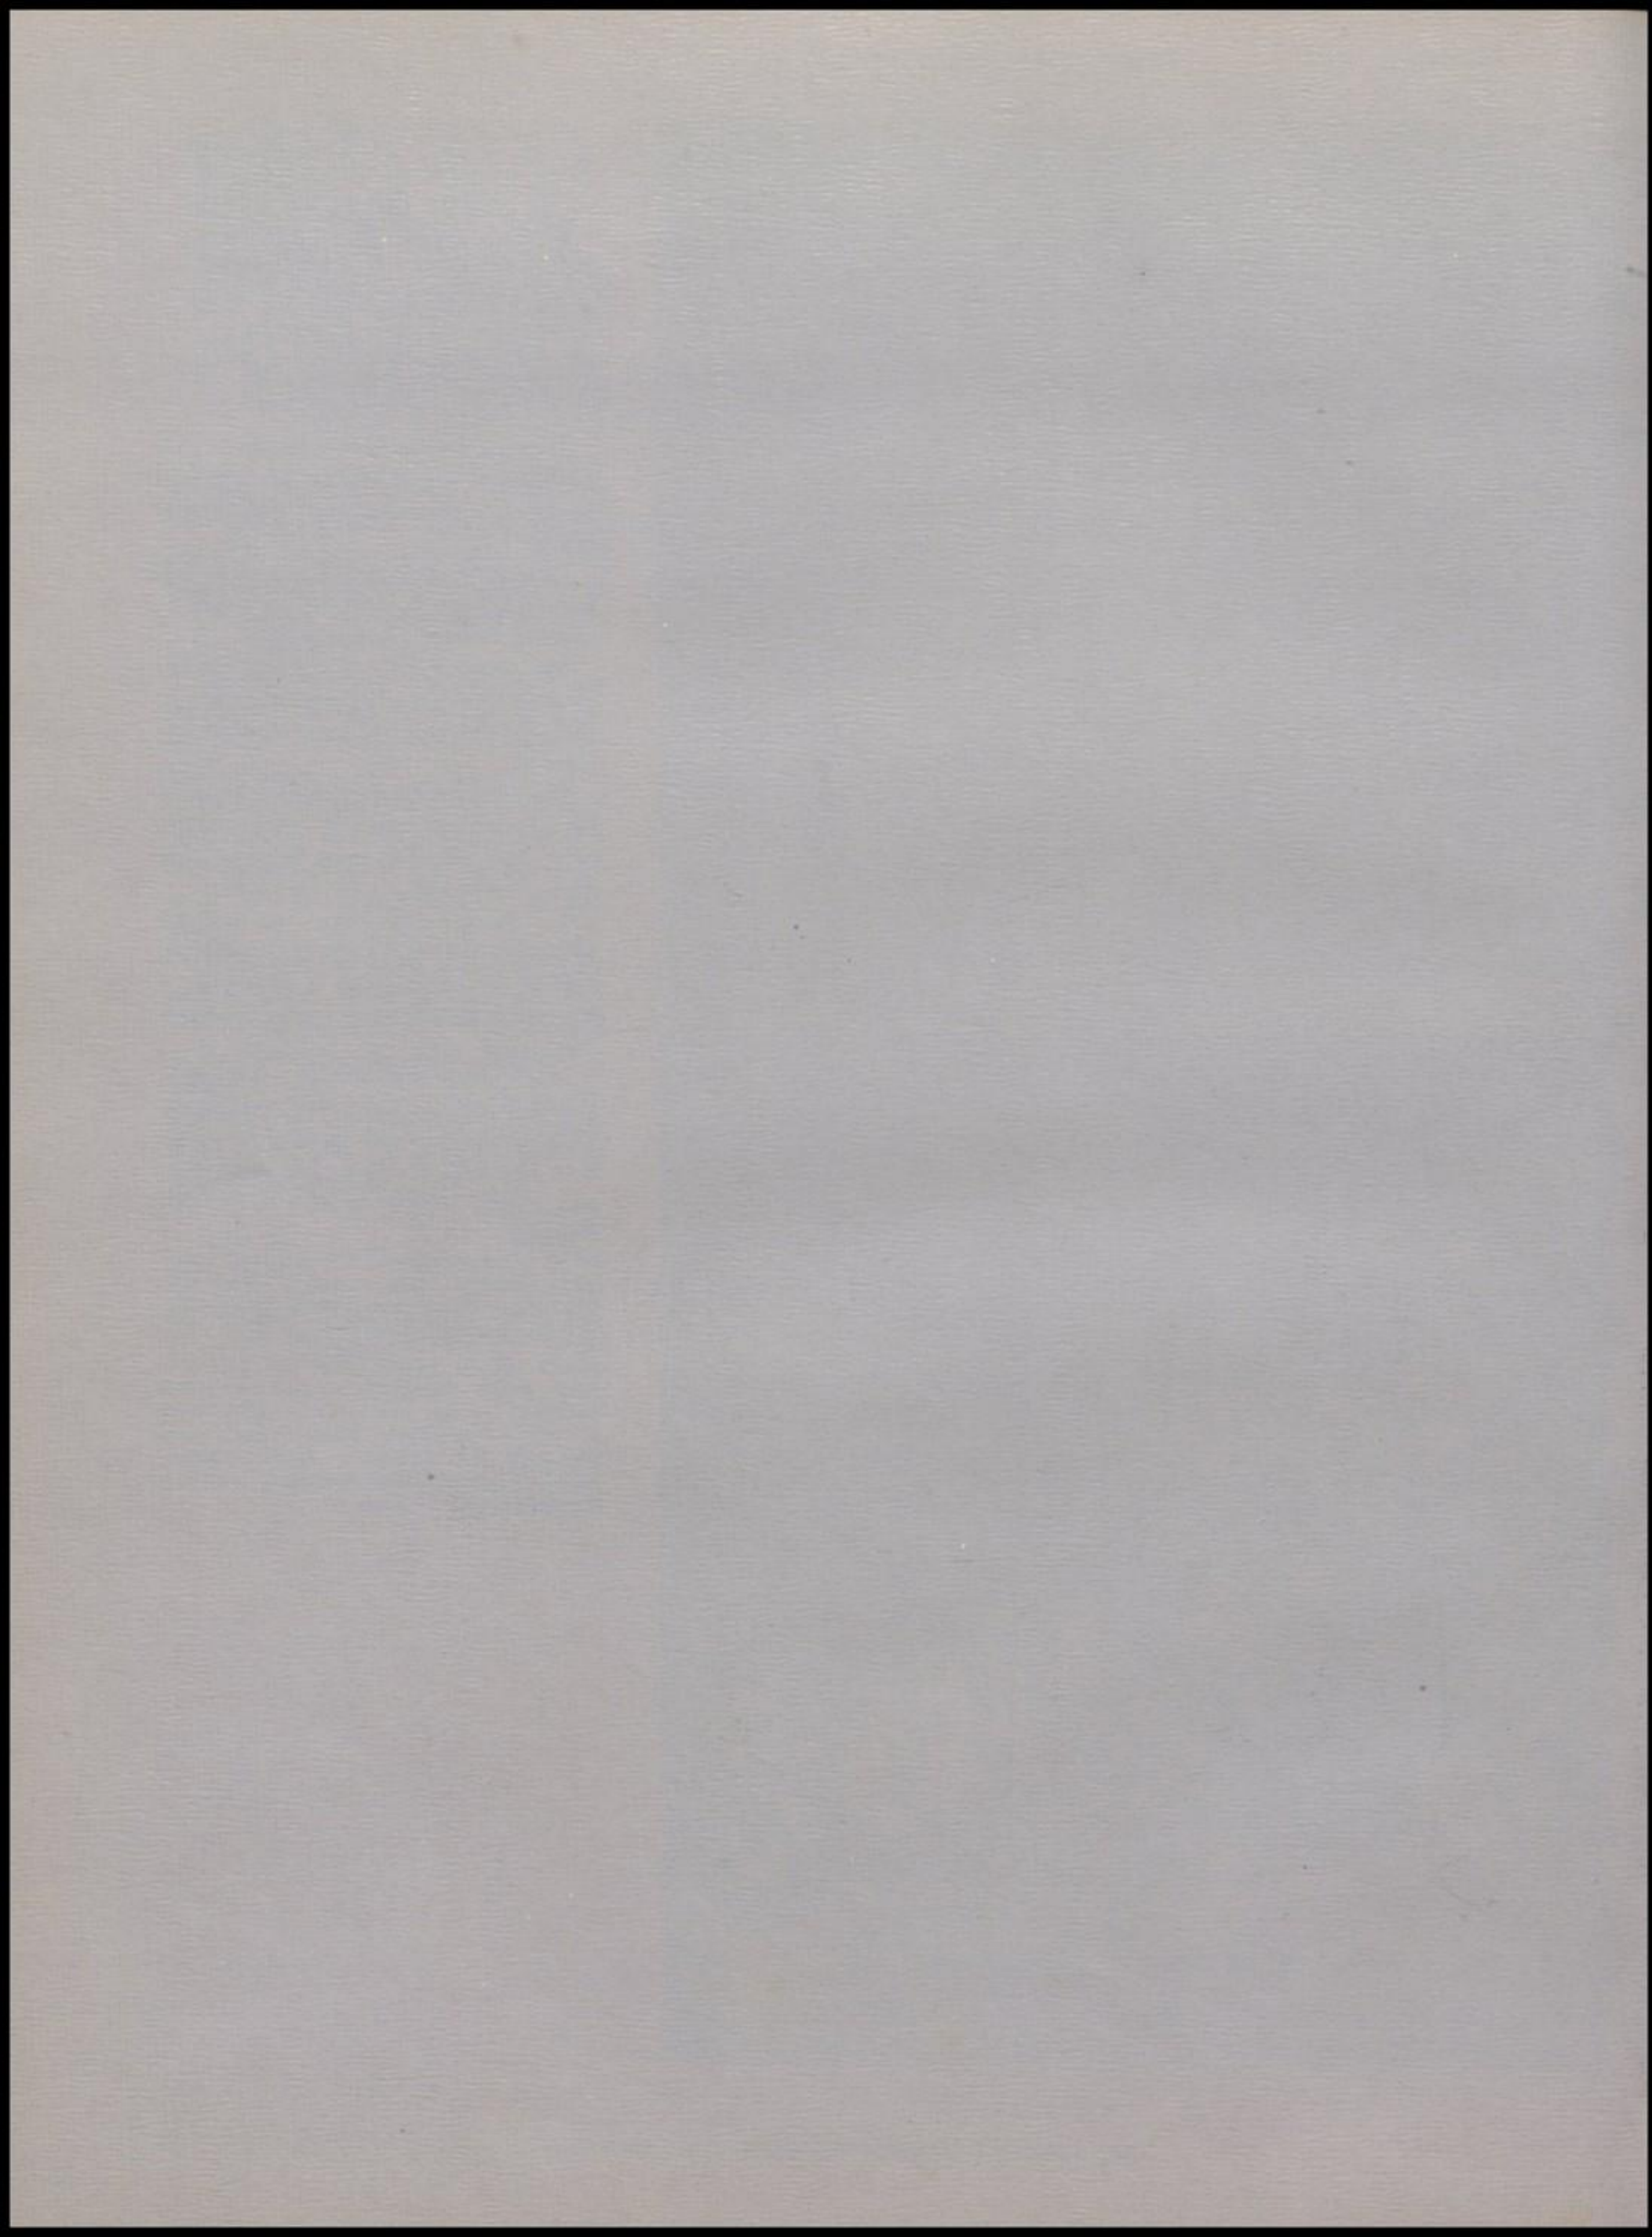

The Vocational Industrial Club of America program was aimed at the involvement of all the industrial youth in developing themselves as skilled men and women.

Six delegate officers attended the annual State VICA Officers Workshop held at the Camelot Inn in December. A banquet and a dance provided entertainment.

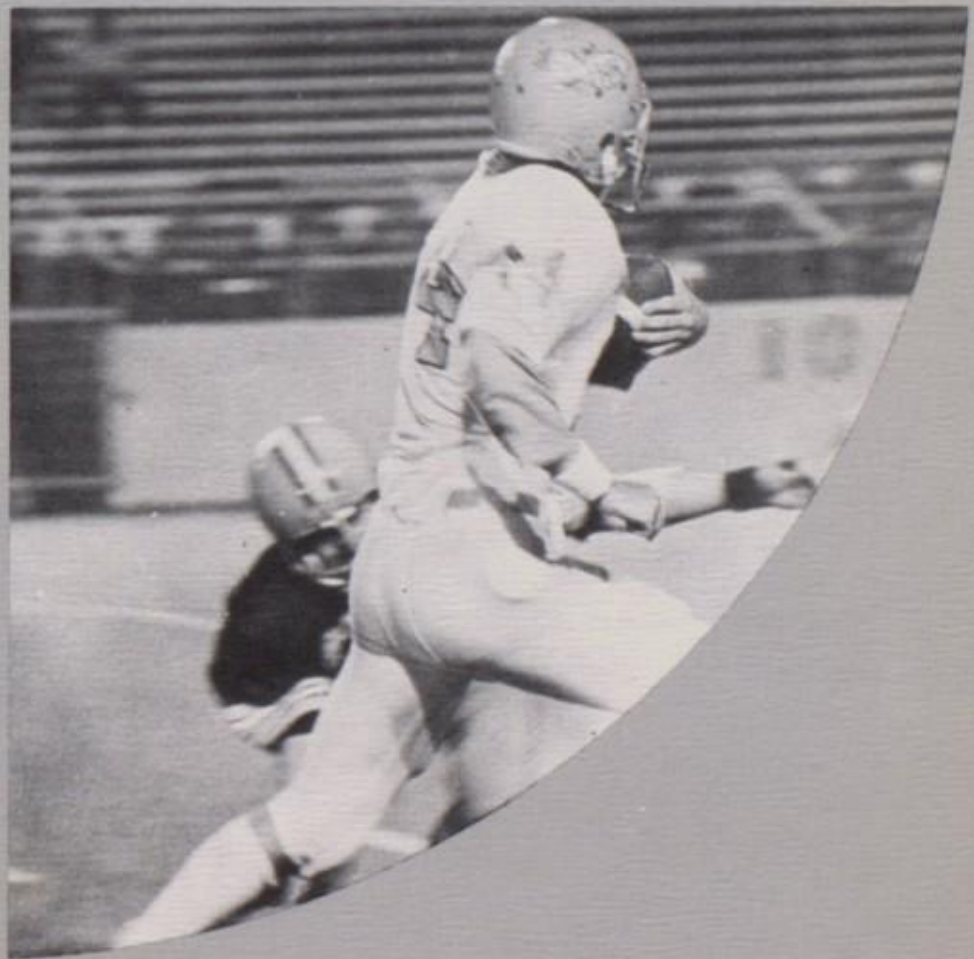

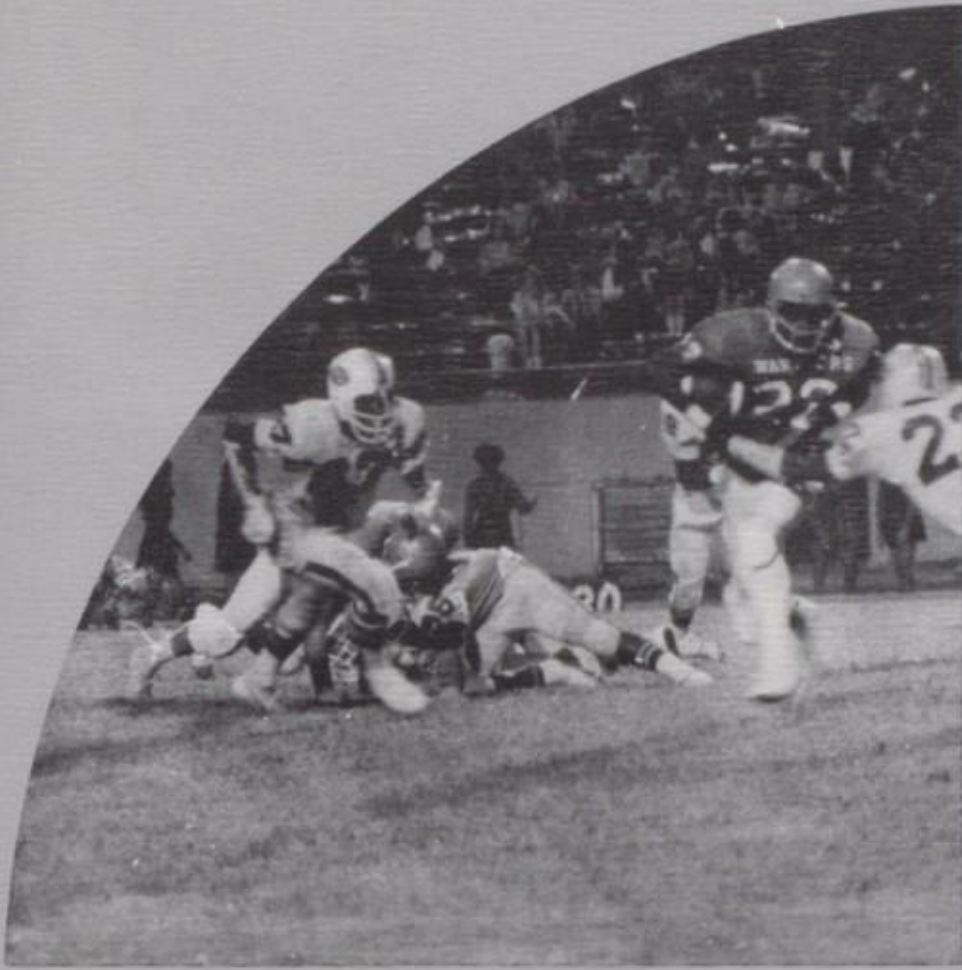

In January the annual employee-employer banquet was held at Burns Park. VICA members visited several industrial firms and talked with management. They also invited various speakers to the club meetings.

Warriors Defeat Rockets, Bow to Devils

Warrior offense prepares to move the ball.

Catholic High

After suffering their first non-conference loss in eleven years, the Warriors got back on the winning track against Catholic High September 14. Senior Tyrone Short put the Tribe on the scoreboard with the game only forty seconds old. Taking a handoff from quarterback Mike Scott, Short broke through the line and scampered 73 yards for what proved to be the only score of the game. The rest of the night was a defensive struggle featuring two goalline stands by the "Orange Crush" defense.

Both in the final period, the first stand ended when Stanley Thompson recovered a fumbled handoff on the Warrior one. Later, the Rockets found themselves with a first down on the Warrior six. The Warrior defense gave five yards to the determined Rockets, but held firm on fourth and one and took over on downs.

Steve Fike rests a moment.

Coach Bryan advises defense.

West Memphis

Hall fans turned out in numbers September 7 to see the Warriors take on the West Memphis Blue Devils. The Blue Devils featured a strong fullback in Leonard Clay as well as a tough defense.

Opening mistakes in the game plagued the inexperienced Warriors as the Blue Devils cashed in on each error. First the Devil's Jerry Dorsey blocked a Doug Parrish punt on the sixteen yard line. From there, Clay carried the ball three times going from the one for the score.

Hall's next mistake came when junior quarterback Alex Herman fumbled. Dorsey scooped up the ball and raced 39 yards for the score as West Memphis took a rousing 13-7 victory.

Comets Fall; Ole Main, Neville Win

Originally scheduled as a breather, the Mills game made it apparent that every game would be tough for the Warriors. The only score of the first half came on a 32 yard field goal by Doug Parrish in the second period. The third quarter was a defensive battle until the Warrior offense broke things wide open.

On the first play of the fourth quarter, Mike Scott rolled out to find Steve Fike for a seven yard touchdown pass. Hall got the ball back and Scott was again dropping back to pass. This time he pulled up, and spotting a huge opening, galloped 52 yards for a touchdown, sealing the 17-0 victory.

The Warriors knew that defense would be the key against Ole Main. The Wildcats featured the best pair of running backs in the conference with Mike Monk and Wayne Moore. On the first play from scrimmage Moore broke loose for 81 yards. Scoring on the next play, it looked as if it would be a long night.

The Wildcats scored twice more before Tyrone Short hit paydirt just before half-time. Trailing 21-7, Mike Scott was forced to take to the air, hitting Short for a 45 yard score.

Short scored his third touchdown of the game moments later to bring the Warriors within one point. Electing to go for the victory, Hall tried for two but failed, dooming the Warriors to a 21-20 defeat.

Already experiencing one of the worst years in history for Warrior football, October 4 saw Hall take on Neville High School of Monroe, La. Defending state champions of Louisiana, the Tigers were much larger and more experienced.

Neville drew first blood by driving 27 yards in six plays. The Tigers later took a commanding 13-0 lead in an 84 yard drive.

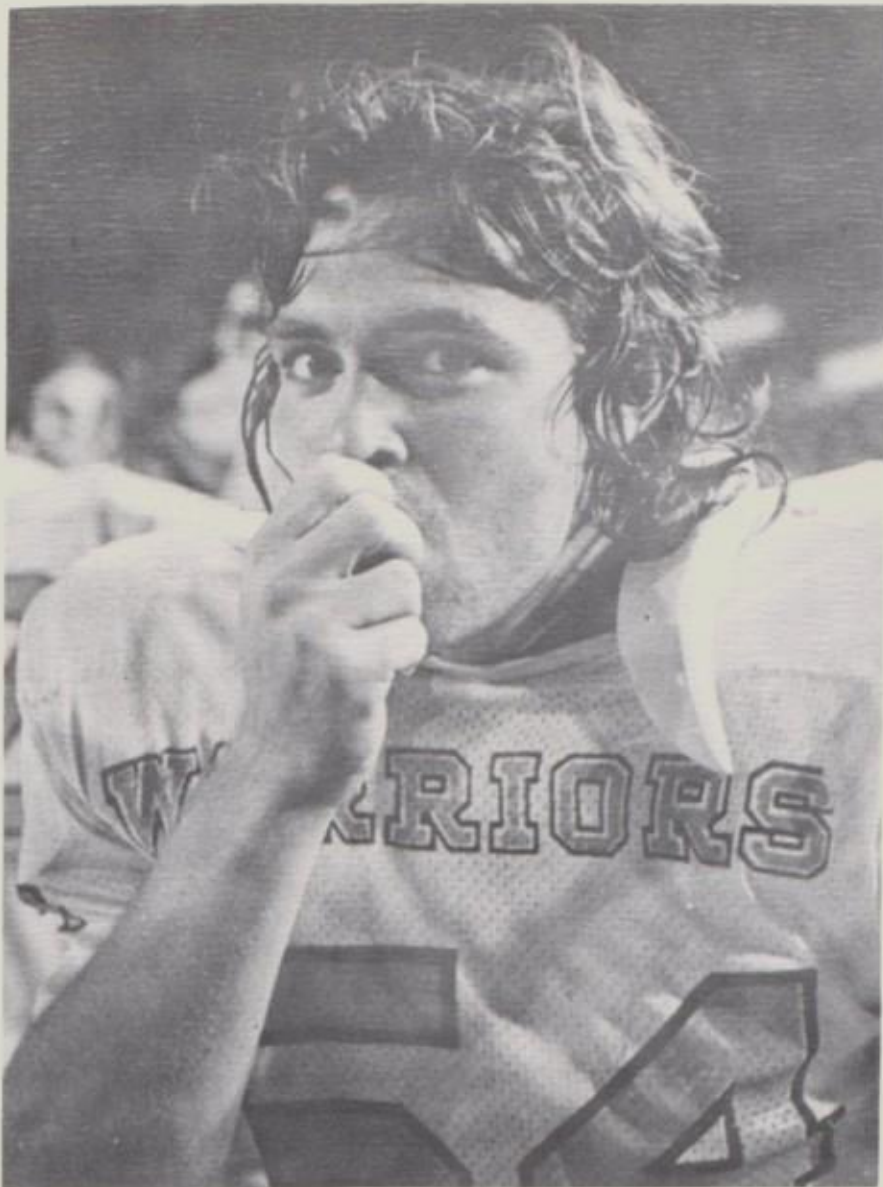

Forced to play catch-up football, the Warriors could not score until Enoch Tims plunged over the goal with two minutes left in the contest. Unable to get the ball back, the Warriors fell to 2-3 on the season.

Parkview Triumphs; P.B., N.E. Fall

It's too bad that the final score of a ball game is the only thing that is recorded, for the Warriors out-hit, out-tackled, and out-played top ranked Parkview.

After taking a Patriot punt, Arthur Williams fumbled the handoff. Parkview recovered and scored to give the Patriots a 7-0 lead. Parkview then fumbled on their 5. Hall recovered and Mike Scott drove the offense to the tying touchdown.

Tyrone Short later intercepted a Jerry Barnett pass and returned it to the Parkview 36. From there, Scott scored on a bootleg. Doug Parrish's PAT was good, leaving the Patriots a 14-13 Homecoming victory.

Pine Bluff fans saw little to cheer about as the Warriors took a 34-19 win. The Tribe wasted no time scoring on their first possession with the touchdown coming from Arthur Williams. The Zebras managed to tie the score 7-7 before Hall pulled out for good.

Arthur Williams hit paydirt again, driving up the middle for the score. Edwin Conway hauled in a pass and returned it to the Zebra 15. Mike Scott had just enough time to score before halftime. Two second half scores iced the game. As Defensive Captain Fred Long said, "This is the way we should have been playing all year."

Gaining confidence, the Warriors visited Northeast to pull off a thrilling 13-7 victory. The Chargers scored early as quarterback Steve Sink directed a 64 yard drive. The Warrior's offense sputtered and stalled until Mike Scott hooked up with Tyrone Short for a 45 yard touchdown bomb. The Warriors went for two but failed.

The Tribe got one last chance when a punt was blocked on the Charger 39. Alex Herman hit Enoch Tims at the 11. Tims rammed across the goal with 14 seconds remaining. Northeast threw a bomb as time expired, but the receiver was pulled down on the 1 by Fred Long.

Defense Holds Ft. Smith, El Dorado

Mike Scott hands off to Enoch Tims.

Fred Long takes a sideline view from atop a bench.

Playing their fourth homecoming date in a row, the Warriors traveled to Fort Smith to play the Northside Grizzlies. Mike Scott had a brilliant night passing, hitting four out of five.

The first of these passes went for a touchdown, a 10 yarder to tight end Steve Fike. Enoch Tims added two first half touchdowns, one after Edwin Conway recovered a fumble and the other after a 55 yard Scott to Tyrone Short pass.

In the second half, Northside and Hall traded scores, making the score 27-10 until Ricky Eakin hit his second touchdown pass on the last play of the game to make the final score 27-17.

After having an open date, the Warriors were well prepared for the El Dorado Wildcats. Filling the home side of Quigley Stadium, fans watched the Tribe completely dominate play. Sophomore Arthur Williams scored two touchdowns and Doug Parrish booted a 31 yard fieldgoal to give Hall a 16-0 lead.

The Wildcats threatened in the third quarter but the defense stiffened and took over on downs. Hall's final score came when Defensive Back Roger Voss stepped in front of a Wildcat pass and returned the interception for the score. A 23-0 homecoming shutout belonged to the Warriors, who raised their record to 6-4 and assured themselves of another winning season.

Warrior players were anxious for victory, taking the lead on a 22 yard field-goal. The Tribe's defense, ranked first in the AAAA, held the Tigers and forced a punt. Mike Scott handed off to Enoch Tims, who handed off to Alex Herman, hitting Kevin Kullander for a touchdown.

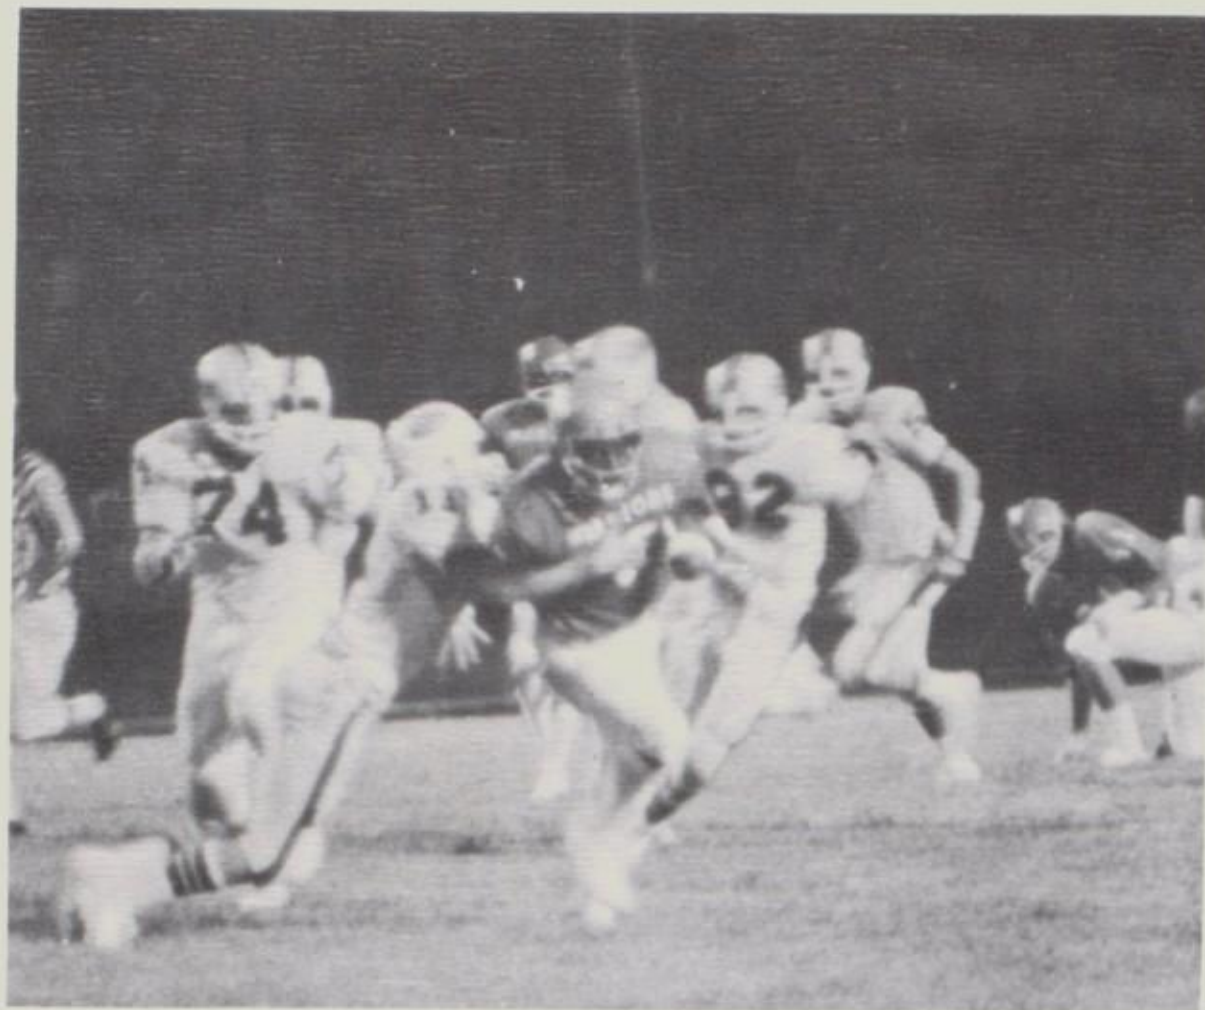

With a 10-7 halftime lead, the Warriors prepared for Houston Nutt and Robert Farrell. Central attained three second half scores, while Hall could muster only one. With only seconds remaining, Mike Scott threw to Alex Herman who scored. The Tribe cut the final margin to one point by making a two point conversion.

Although some were disappointed, it was a great game, and a fitting end to the Hall season.

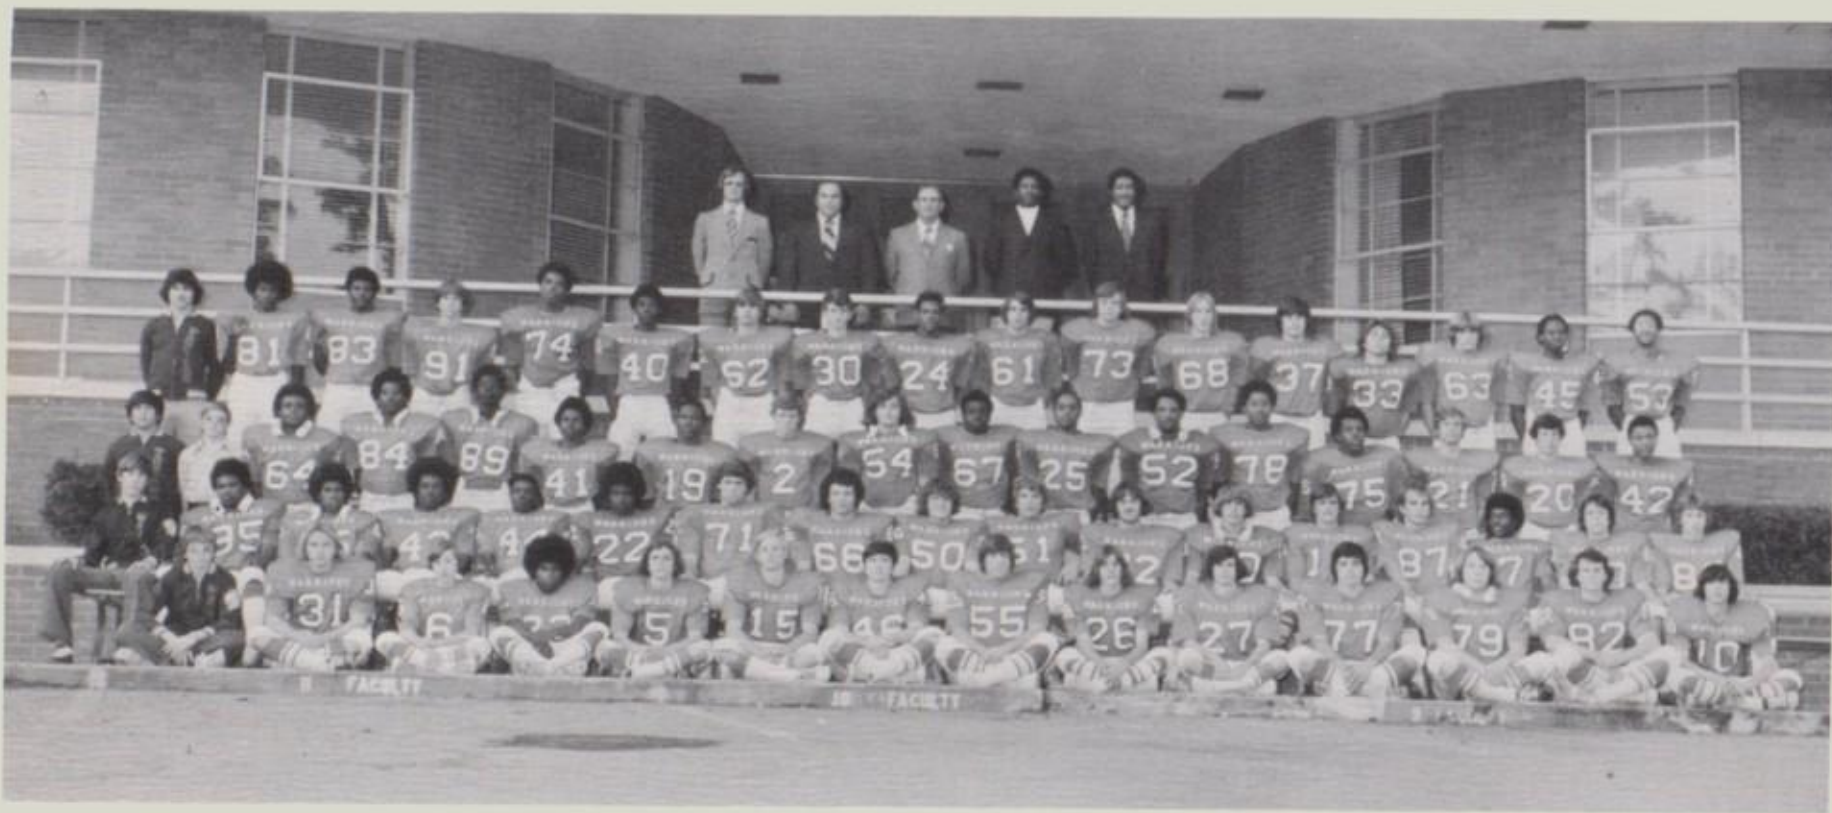

B-Team Faces Tough Opponents

A combined schedule helped the 1974 Warrior B-team play to a 5-5-1 record this year. The B-Team combined with the sophomore team due to a small number of players. The team played two games weekly. A B-team game was played at Ft. Roots and a sophomore game on Saturday mornings.

The team, headed by Coach Roy Wade, showed promise for following years. Among the players showing potential were quarterback Allen Pettit and runningbacks Kirby Foster and Dwayne Jackson. Freshman Claude Smith from Booker helped to make the season a more successful one.

Hall Finishes Season With Top Ratings

After finishing second in 1974, the Warriors looked forward to a championship season in 1975. They compiled a season record of 20-2, but still failed to capture the crown, trailing once-beaten Central by one game.

Still the fans looked forward to the state tournament, where a showdown between Hall and Central was inevitable.

The Warriors defeated Pine Bluff in the semi-finals and advanced to the finals.

Before an estimated crowd of 6,000, Hall fans cheered the mighty braves as they controlled the whole game until the last few minutes.

During the fourth quarter, the Tigers made a comeback and the final score was Central 51 and Hall 46.

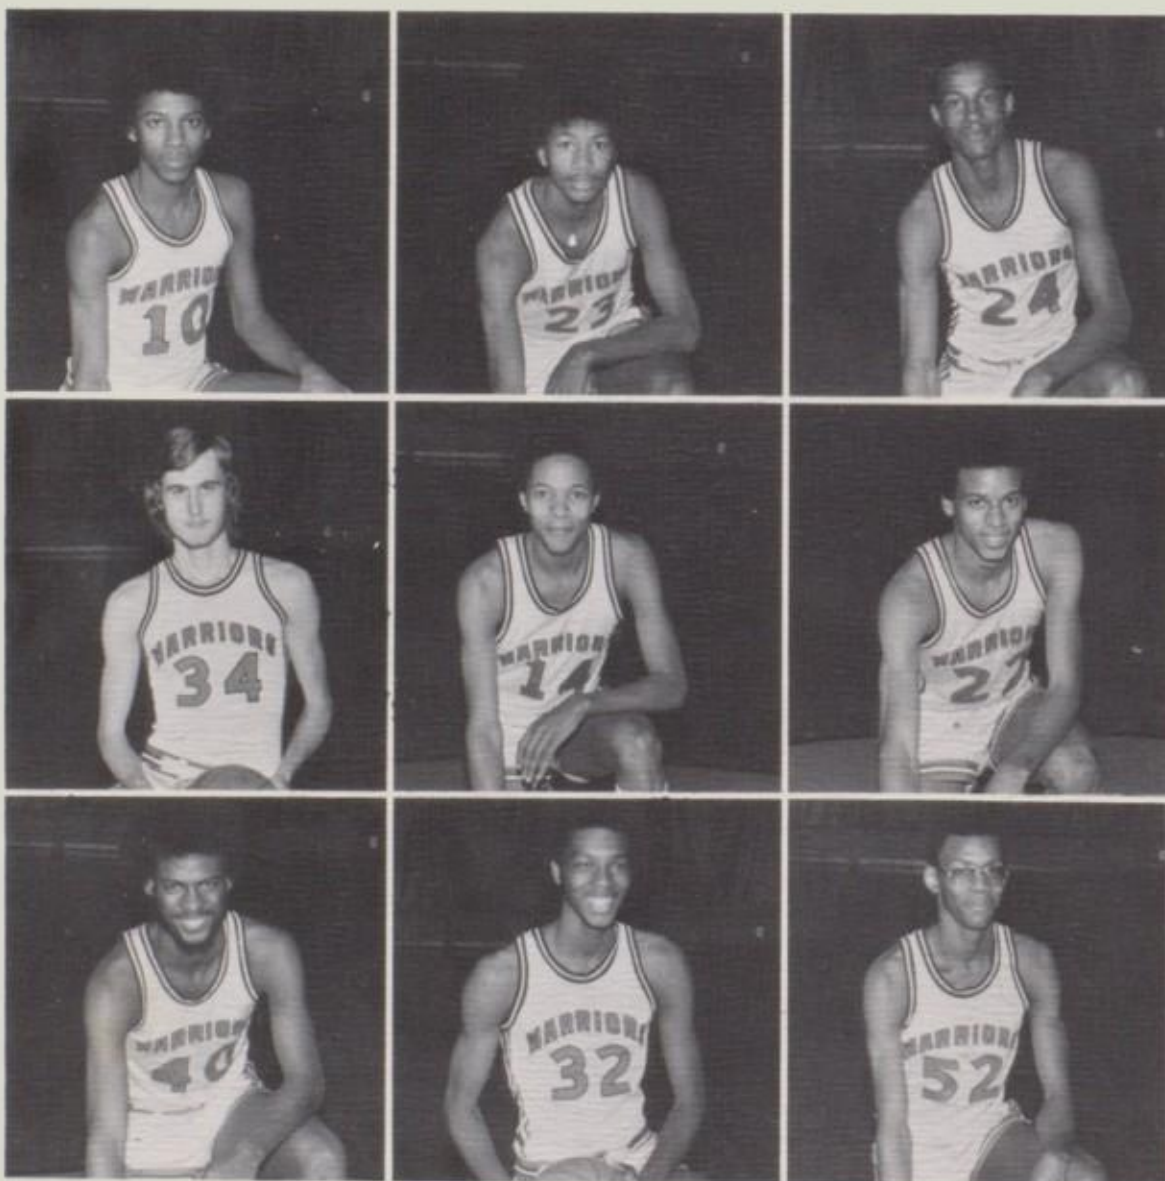

Awards were given and Hall received the Sportsmanship Trophy plus the State AAAA Runner-Up Trophy.

Hall led the number of All-Staters selected by the officials and coaches in the conference. Players from Hall who accepted the honor were Sidney Moncrief, Tommy Tapley, and Gary Tidwell.

'B' Teamers Anxious For New Season

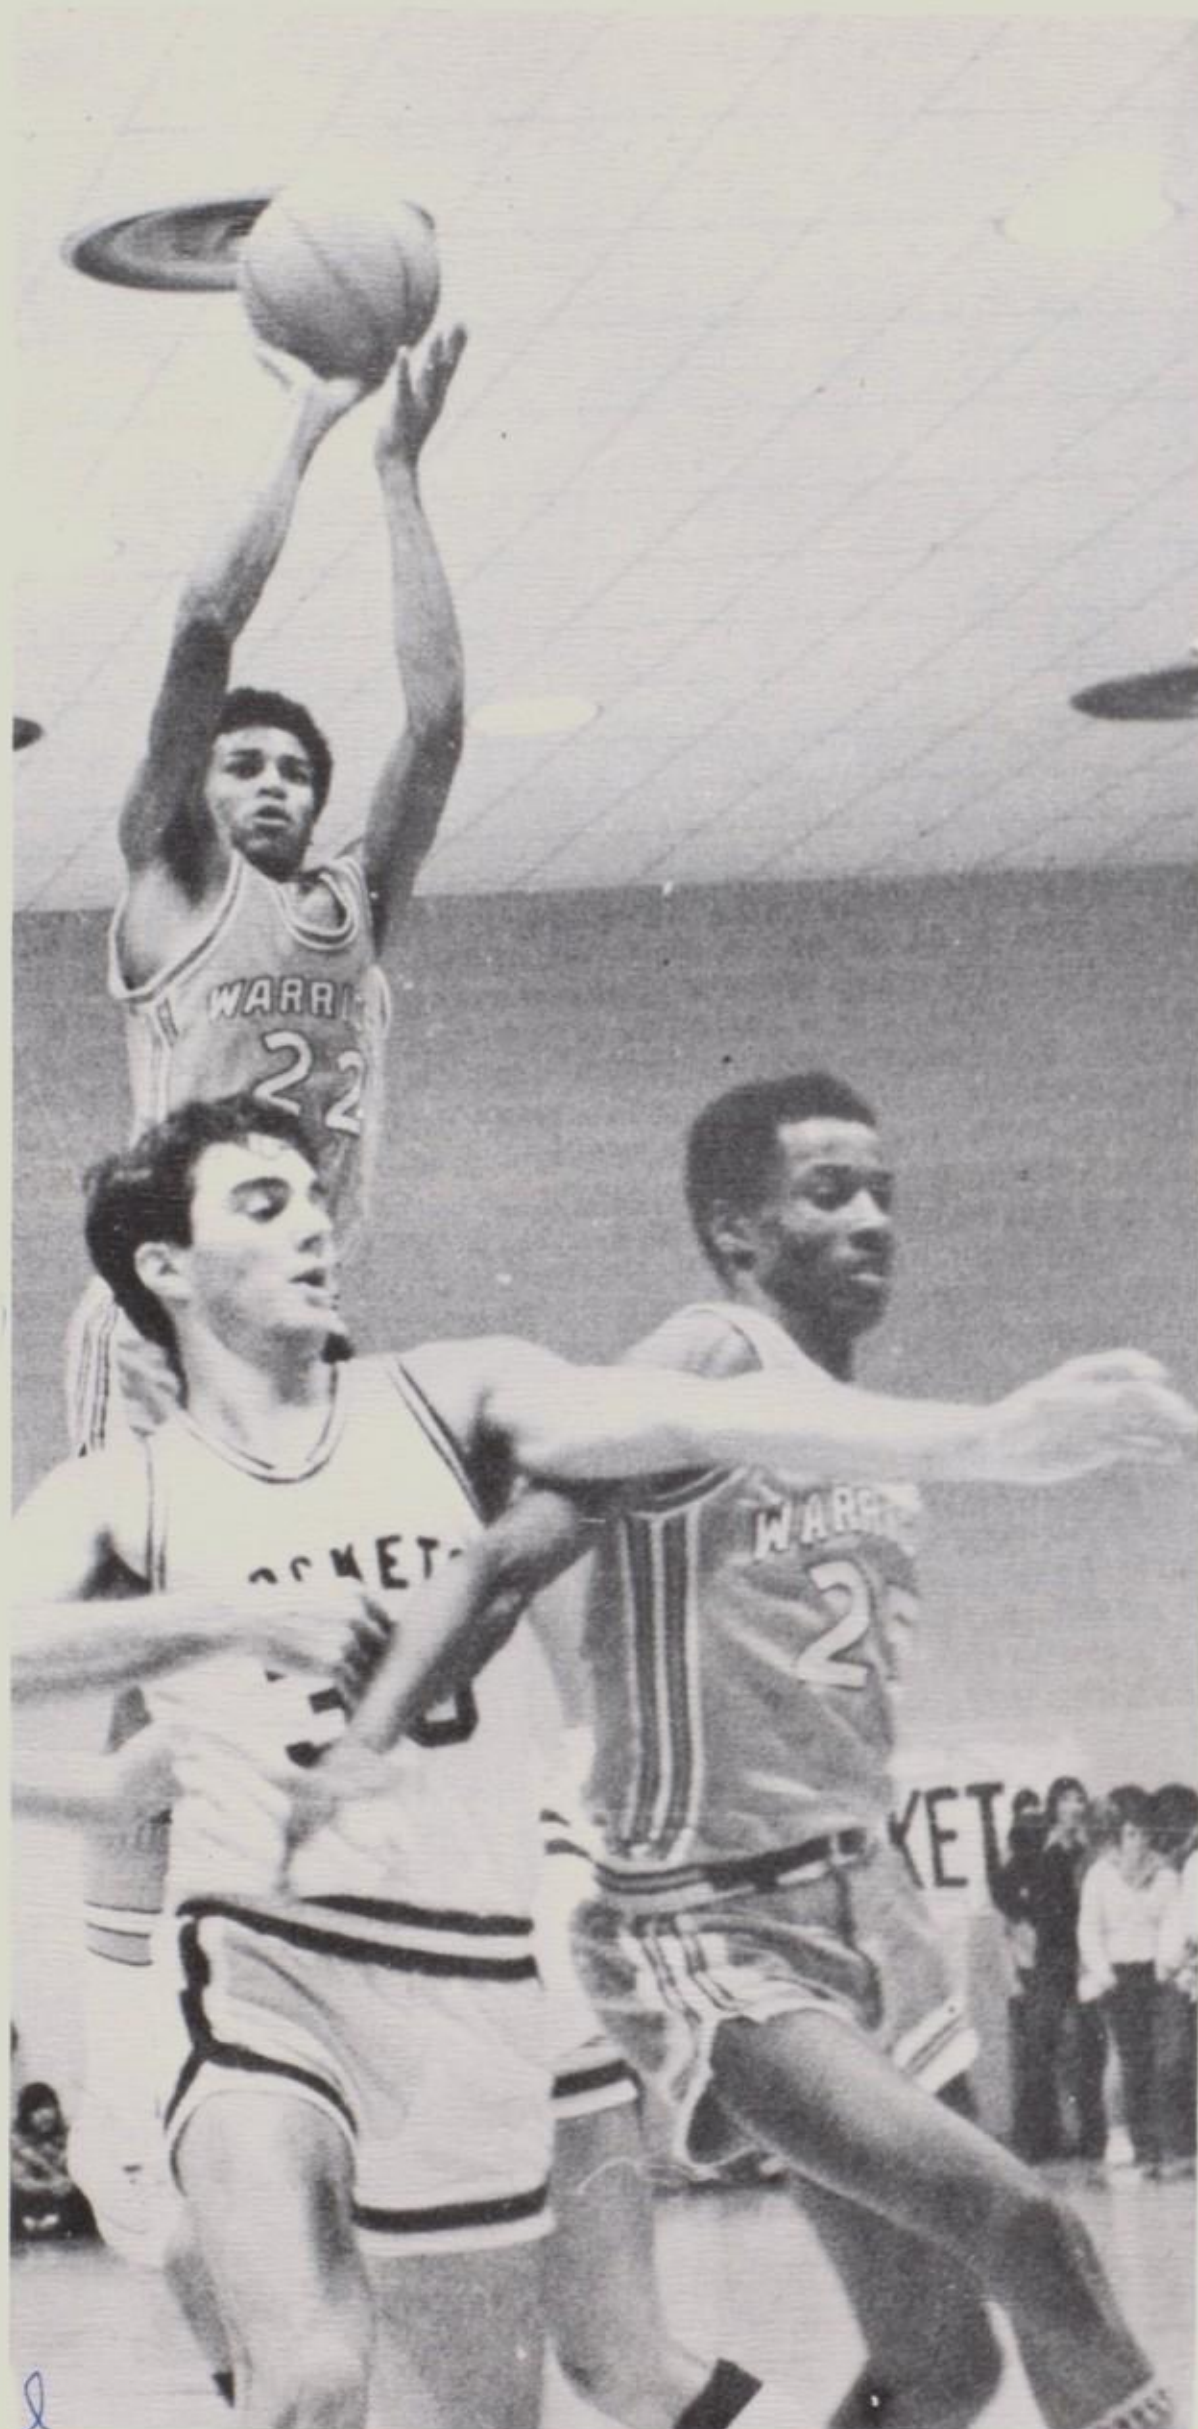

The B-Team, after struggling at the beginning of the season, did what Coach Oliver Elders called "a complete turnaround," growing stronger with each game.

Led by Steve Moore, Jeff Treece, Phil Young, and Lindell Dean, the B-Team won four of their last six games, including a victory over Parkview. The Patriots whipped the Warriors in their first meeting, winning by a margin of over 30 points.

The turnaround, according to Coach Elders, was due to sophomores filling in weak spots.

Curtis Hampton, Clifton Nooner, Greg Allmon, and Dewayne Jackson all helped tremendously.

The juniors and sophomores who gained valuable experience this year will add a touch of class to next year's basketball Warriors.

Runners Win AAAA State Championship

To be a good athlete takes practice and members of the Cross Country Team were no exceptions.

The runners began in August and ran on their own until school started. Then they ran as a team.

The boys had a workout everyday and they were required to run 15 miles. The "Crox" had their first meet in October at which five other states competed.

Team members continued to build school spirit by running to Pine Bluff with the spirit stick. The 60 mile run was completed in five hours.

The final reward came in November when the State Cross Country meet was held at Searcy. For the second year, Hall captured the State Championship. Out of the ten top runners, Hall was represented by five. They included: Mark Burton, Nelson Garrison, Brad Henry, Eddie Mulkey, and John Parker.

Track Team Destroys All Past Records

Start slow and finish fast. That was the slogan of the track team. After many months of practice and time trials, the team was ready to go.

The team went to Memphis to compete in an indoor track meet. This was the first time in six years that Hall's track team had entered a meet during the season with other conference schools. In the spring, the State Meet of Champs were held at Scott Field.

Coach Roy Wade directed the track team. During his six years at Hall, Coach Wade has seen much improvement in the team.

The majority of the runners were inexperienced but with a great deal of determination they accomplished much for the Warriors.

Perfection Is Mastered In Minor Sports

During the year, Hall's amateur athletes kept striving for perfection. With continual practice, each athlete worked toward his goal.

Students chose to participate in a large variety of sports. Among them were tennis, golf, bowling, volleyball, girls' track, swimming, diving, and gymnastics.

The Girls' Recreation Association established a wide variety of teams for any girl who wished to take part.

Along with building physical ability, the many activities taught the true meaning of sportsmanship.

ADMINISTRATION

Students Offered Programs Set Up By Fair, Assistants

Dr. Paul Fair, Superintendent of the Little Rock Public Schools, and his administrative staff developed and carried out many productive programs during 1974-75.

The staff, comprised of four assistant superintendents and Dr. Fair, worked to develop innovative programs in the schools through student involvement and expansion of the Volunteers in Public Schools (VIPS) program. These people not only served the schools themselves, but worked to solve community problems related to integration and desegregation.

New instructional programs were added to almost every level. Some of these included a reading program for elementary students, science and math labs at the middle school level, and vocational courses for high school students. A nutritional program was established for all grades and school levels.

Added Funds Give Quality For District

The school board enacted several new projects and policies this year. Given additional funds, the district was able to carry out these programs.

An estimated $2½ million in federal funds was allotted to the district to add quality to its educational programs. These funds brought about changes at Hall, including the construction of a media center and science wing.

Money was also allocated for a community school to replace Parham Elementary. In November, the school board approved a strict discipline policy regarding weapons in public schools.

The Peabody Survey, so named because it originated at George Peabody College, was conducted over a six-month period. The study planned and developed a program designed to improve educational opportunity for students in Little Rock Public Schools.

The teacher-pupil ratio saw its lowest number ever this year. Besides fewer students, teachers had another welcome change — a 12%-15% salary increase.

Weldon Faulk Makes Year Of Transition

With the ending of the 1974-1975 school year, Mr. Weldon K. Faulk completed a year of many transitions as principal of one of Arkansas' largest high schools.

As a result of North Central Association's recommendation, Mr. Faulk abolished homeroom to provide students and teachers time to confer.

Mr. Faulk also moved into his new office which was a part of the construction plan begun last spring.

Mr. Faulk was graduated from State College of Arkansas and later received his Master of Education degree and his diploma of advanced study at the University of Arkansas at Fayetteville.

He is a member of the National Association of Secondary School Principals, the Pulaski Heights Kiwanis Club and Phi Delta Kappa.

Moore Joins Big Tribe As Vice-Principal

In September Mr. Lovell Moore joined the administrative staff replacing Mr. Lucious Powell as boys' vice-principal. Before coming to Hall, Mr. Moore was dean of students at Booker Junior High School.

A graduate of Philander Smith College, Mr. Moore furthered his education at Southwestern University, Texas Southern University and the University of Arkansas.

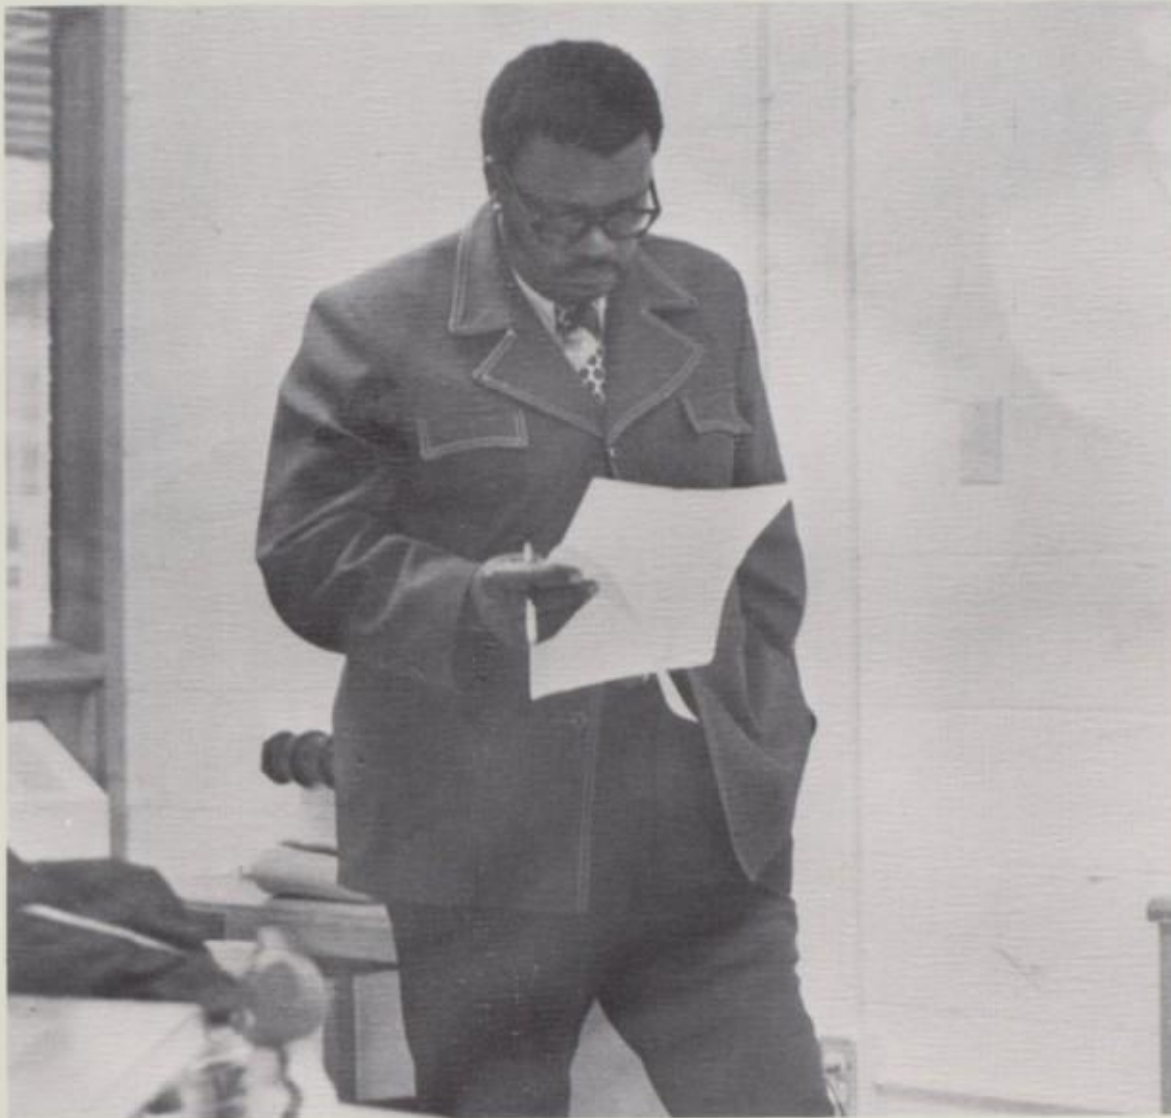

Mr. Moore supervised the transportation of students to and from school and student attendance.

Mrs. John G. Wooley, dean of girls, was graduated from State College of Arkansas, and earned her M.A. degree from the University of Arkansas.

She was responsible for the needs and the behavior of girls. She also organized Girls' State, along with scheduling all events of the school calendar and directing the activities of the school.

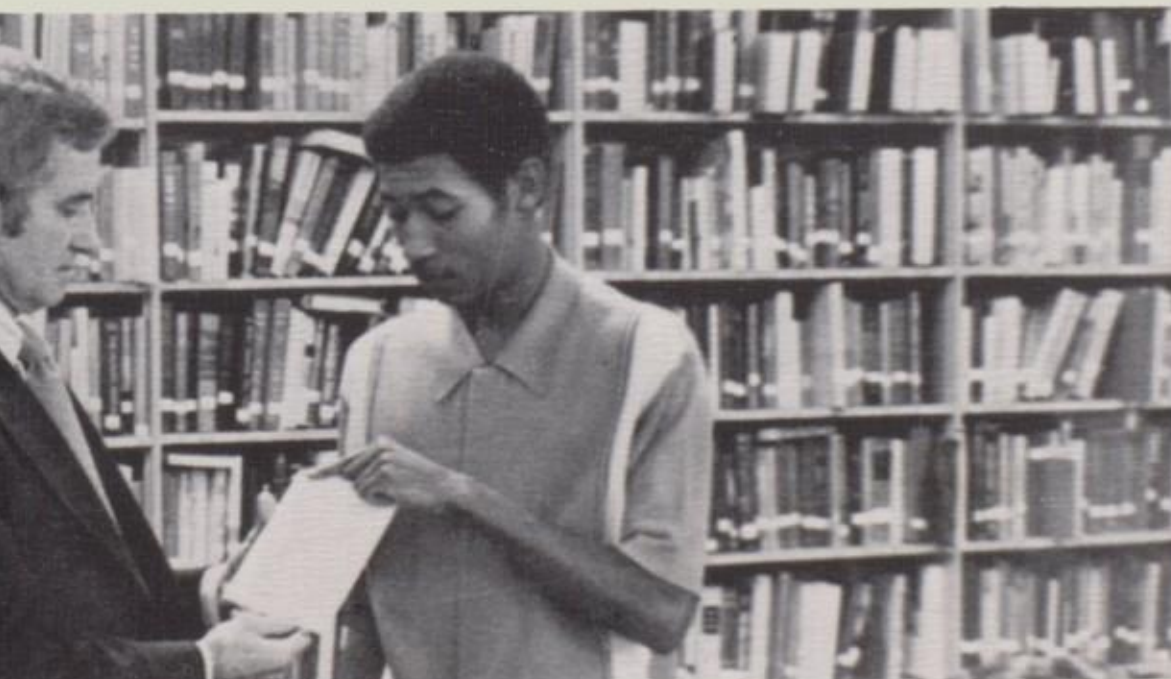

Mr. Robert Lawrence, vice-principal, was graduated from Ouachita Baptist University and later received his M.Ed. degree from the University of Arkansas.

His duties as vice-principal were to supervise the bookstore, order instructional supplies and equipment, regulate state textbooks and maintain the building and the grounds.

English Dept. Chosen For NHF Study

The English department had as its goal the improvement of the students' oral and written communication, and their literary heritage. Through hard work and dedication, this was accomplished.

Hall was one of twenty schools in the National Humanities Faculty's (NHF) two-year bicentennial study of "The American Covenant: The Moral Uses of Power." It was the only Arkansas high school chosen for the program by the NHF. Miss Nancy Popperfuss, department chairman, was in charge of the project.

This year the department added new sets of novels for in depth study. Outside speakers lectured to classes as additional aids to study. Senior classes visited the Arkansas Arts Center to view films of MacBETH and OTHELLO. Juniors traveled to Conway to attend a performance of SCA's production of THE CRUCIBLE.

THE INKWELL, the department's literary magazine, encouraged creativity among students.

Journalism Finds New Home In 109

Change was the word to describe the journalism scene this year.

In September the department moved to room 109 adjacent to the new media center which was under construction.

Although the center opened this spring, it will not be ready for the staff members of the WAR WHOOP and the WARRIOR until June. The journalism portion of the center will be equipped with workrooms, complete with cabinets and storage space. An additional feature will be a dark room for processing newspaper and annual pictures.

Due to the installation of off set presses at the school print shop, the WAR WHOOP acquired a new appearance. These presses, plus a finer grade of white paper, contributed to clearer pictures and unlimited layout possibilities.

The WARRIOR staff continued their use of the Mosaic layout style in the body of the yearbook, but the staff chose the magazine style for the introductory and concluding pages.

Students in the beginning journalism classes learned the basics of news writing, editing, and headline writing. These students also contributed news items weekly for a column in the WAR WHOOP and wrote stories for publication.

"Hmmm, that sounds logical."

Come on, keep talking, only 2 more minutes!

Speech Dept. Brings New Ideas To Hall

In keeping with their policy of developing new approaches to communications, the Speech Department added videotape equipment to every speech class. This new equipment clearly illustrated the progress of the students.

Eight students attended the annual Student Speech Congress, November 17, 18, and 19 at the State Capitol. The opening party caucus and committee meetings were held in the Sam Peck Hotel. The congress is structured like an actual congressional session. The students used formal parliamentary procedure in presenting their debates and bills. Hall ranked fifth in the number of points scored.

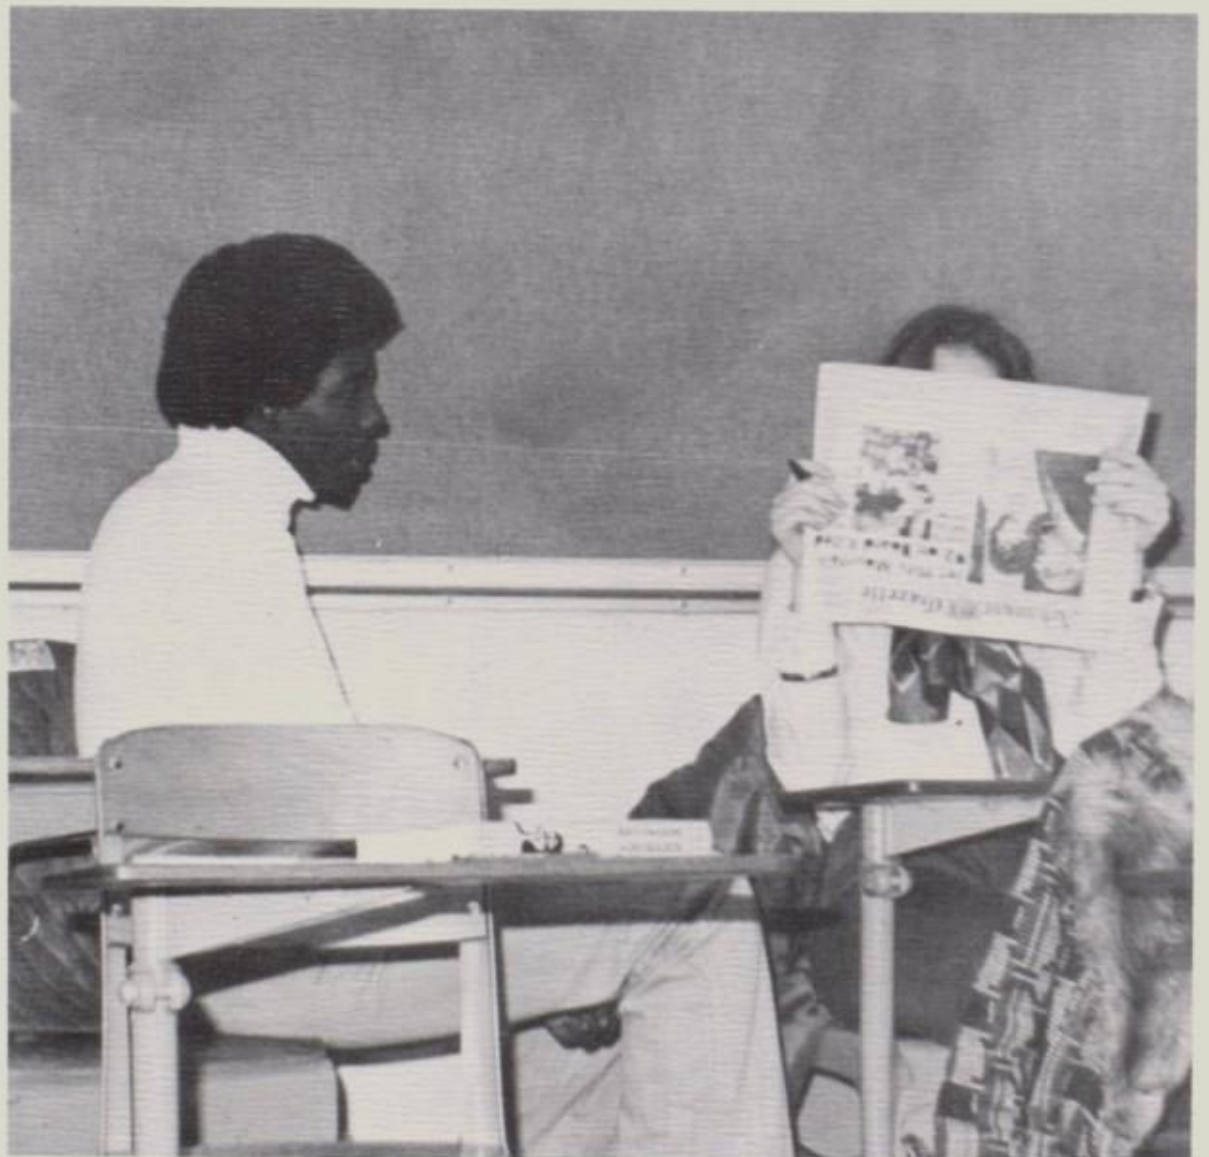

Several students attended the Henderson Invitational Speech Tournament January 31 and February 1. The students presented selections of prose and poetry, and were judged on delivery, poise, and effectiveness.

Mrs. John Stuckey, who joined the faculty this year, taught drama, speech, and twelfth grade English. Mrs. Stuckey also sponsored the senior play, Harvey, which was presented by drama students. They also presented two one-act plays.

Psychology New Addition To Electives

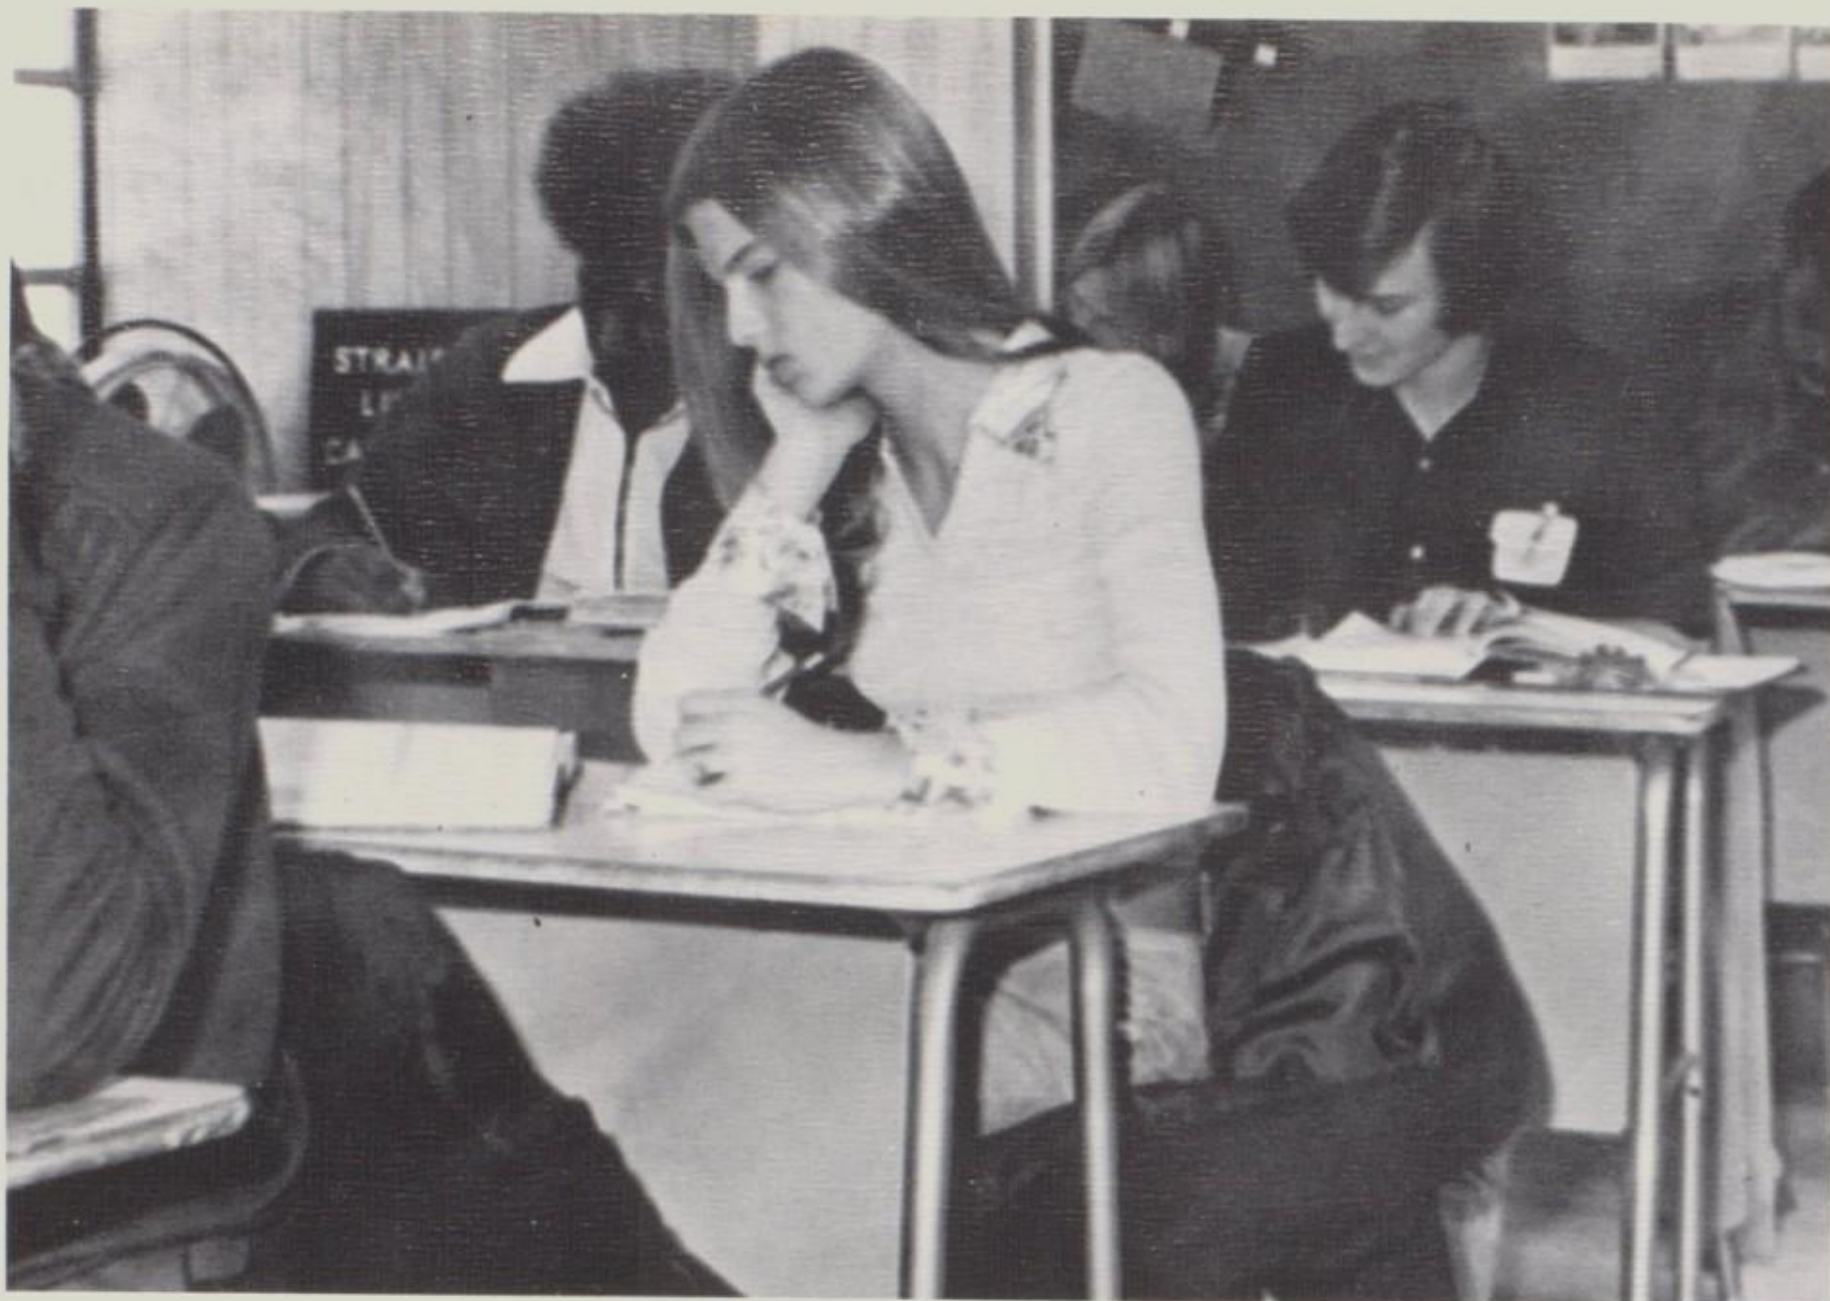

Psychology was added to the curriculum this year. This course, taught by Miss Angela Maynard, studied the personal needs as well as hereditary and environmental influences on the individual and his inter-personal relationships.

Main objectives of the social studies department included the creation of an increased awareness of trends, a cultural understanding among students, and the study of historical causes of attitudes.

Mrs. Marcia Lecky, who taught American history, was a new teacher in the department.

The social studies department received a National Humanities Foundation grant for the development of a humanities course of studies. Hall was one of only twenty schools across the nation to receive this honor.

Math Teaches How To Use New System

All of the classes in the math department studied a unit on the metric system during the year.

"We feel that the United States will soon make the big switch to the metric system, and we want our students to be able to adjust easily and to think metric," Mrs. D. Wood, department chairman, stated.

Completing a project begun last year, the math department moved in its entirety to the 600 zone.

Since more teachers were needed for the department this year, Mrs. Dennis Dance, who previously taught chemistry, became a fulltime math teacher. Mrs. Jerry Hodge was added to the department, bringing the number of teachers to seven.

Science Dept. Acquires New Laboratories

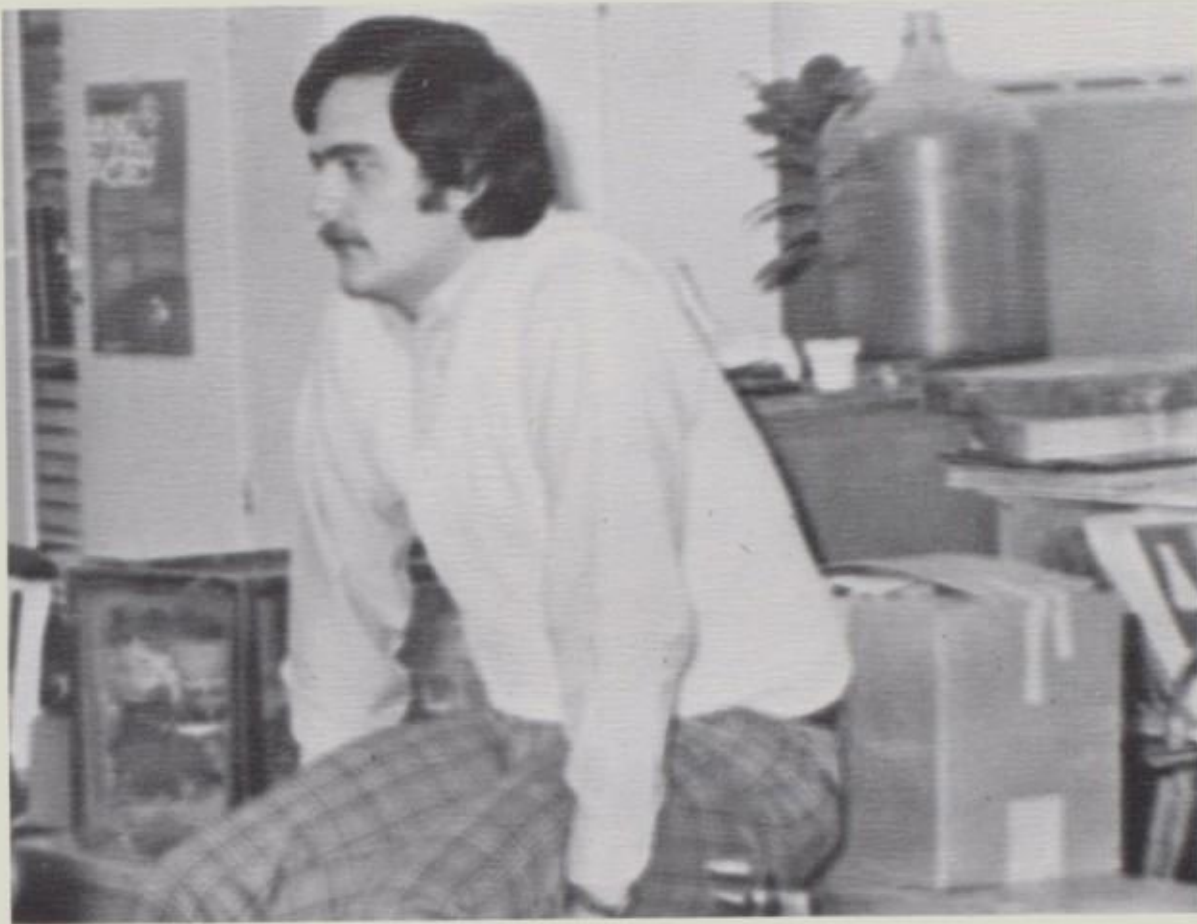

Transition in the Science Department occurred this year. A new science building was put into use during the second semester. It consisted of labs, classrooms, and a physics room.

Physical Science took on a new look with a different type of philosophy. The Wong teaching method was used in this class. This was an unconventional approach where students used experiments instead of listening to lectures.

Biology included an Environmental Education unit which took the students on a field trip to analyze water samples. The visit to Aldersgate was designed to give a better understanding of ecology and the harm that pollution has caused in our world. The students concluded their study of ecological problems by making an Environmental Awareness folder.

"Now which bottle goes where?"

Individuality Encouraged In Fine Arts

Representing the Fine Arts were the band, the choir, and the art department.

Pep was added to football and basketball games by the Warrior Band. In addition, the band participated in state and district festivals and performed at public concerts and various assemblies.

Water color, basic art, poster design, and creative design were the courses offered by the art department.

Two performing classes made up the vocal music department. Composed of juniors and seniors, the most prestigious vocal organization was the Hallmarks. The Hallaires Choir consisted of students from all grade levels in Choirs III and IV. This group was for students who wished to sing but did not qualify for Hallmarks.

New Books Enrich Study Of Languages

New and attractive textbooks in Spanish and French classes offered a different approach to the study of foreign languages. New supplementary books and beautiful slides were purchased as study aids.

Two Latin classes were taught by Mr. Frank Kent. Latin II and Latin III students were grouped in one class and Latin I students in another. Mrs. John Short, who was a new teacher, taught two Spanish I classes.

In an attempt to gain an appreciation of cultures different from their own, language students planned various activities. The French IV class had a "Cheese Day" to learn about and to enjoy different cheeses from France. Pasqual Teternoire, a student at Central, and Mr. Weldon Faulk were guests at the party. Mrs. LaVon Yopez invited Latin American friends to visit the students of the Spanish IV class and hold conversations with them on a one to one basis. A field trip in October to the Arkansas Arts Center was attended by 102 French students.

Junior Exec. Course New In Bus. Dept.

Junior Executive Training, a course for senior students interested in a career in the business world, was offered this year only. The course covered all aspects concerning business including decision making and problem solving.

In addition, the department added Co-operative Office Occupations, which offered students a basic look into all branches of the business department.

For the second consecutive year, the department participated in the "Business Game" sponsored by Arkansas Power and Light Company, the State Department of Education, and the University of Arkansas at Monticello.

Hall was one of nine high schools in the state which participated in the competition during which time the students dealt with all types of business procedures.

Hall Students Earn Credits Holding Jobs

Classes in the Vocational Department encompassed mechanical drawing, engineering drawing, constructional technology, distributive education, industrial cooperative training, and Health Occupations Education.

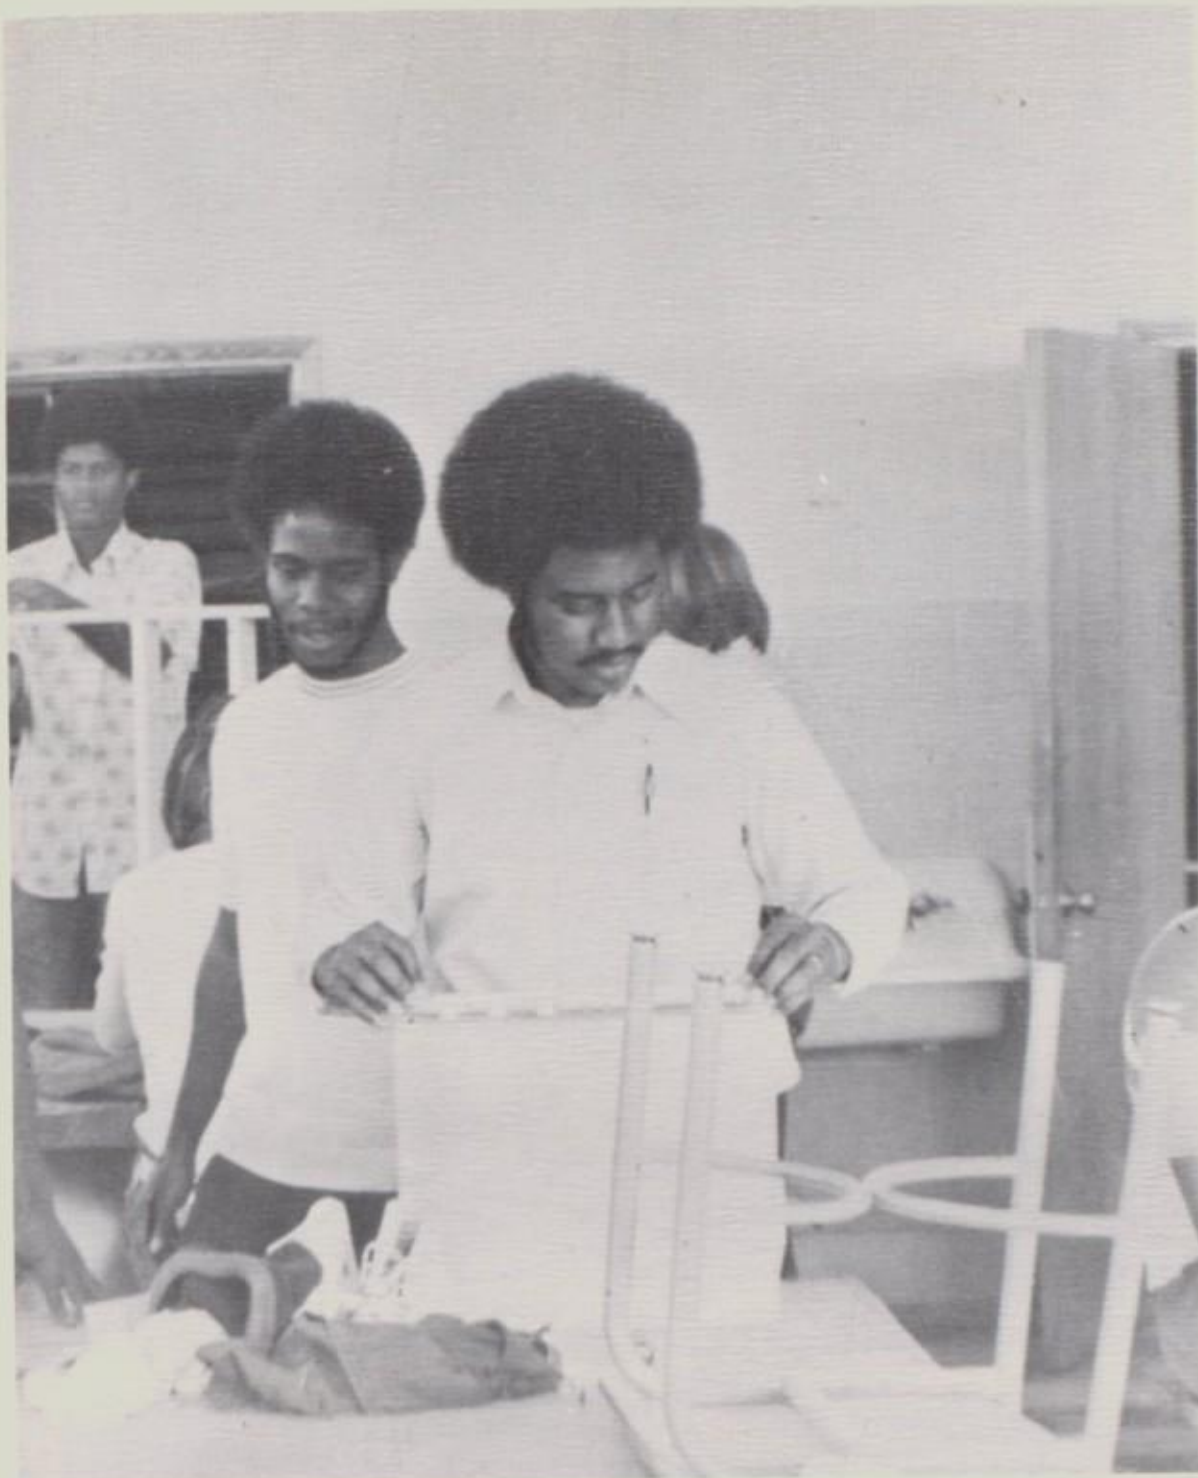

Distributive Education, (DE), helped students learn about business. This included on the job training while the students earned high school credits and were paid for working.

Industrial Cooperative Training, (ICT), was another program designed to give students experience in working. Students participating in the program worked at jobs such as mechanics, food services, house painting, and repair. However, ICT was quite flexible and students could enter almost any field.

Health Occupations Education, a subject taught by Mrs. Theresa Vogelpohl, a registered nurse, was planned to give students an introduction into health careers. Each student took a job in a health agency and worked 15 to 25 hours a week.

More Males Participating In Home Ec.

Enrollment of males, especially in Adult Living, Human Development, and Housing brought about a significant change in the Home Economics department.

In addition to helping students understand themselves better, the courses taught them skill in home economics occupations. The courses also stressed the importance of a knowledge of home economics for males.

Two new courses were added to the curriculum. They were Human Development which was a study of the individual. The other new course was Housing. This was created to aid the students' understanding the area of housing and interior decorating.

"We used all kinds of current visual aids," stated Mrs. Gary L. Valentine, who teaches home economics.

"Home economics was an action class," she also stated.

Along with all of the varied courses, the Kindergarten was part of the Home Economics department.

Method Used Changes In Special Dept.

The Special Education Department offered students a choice of either academic or vocational courses. The department implemented the team teaching to provide for individualized instruction which enabled the teacher to identify and evaluate each students' strengths and weaknesses, and better meet his academic needs.

Courses offered were math, English, social studies, science, and vocational education. Students who qualified were integrated into some basic classes. Students also applied for the C.C.E. program in their junior or senior year.

All of the classes were held in the trailers near the 600 zone.

All Weather Field Hall's New Feature

A new all weather track course at Scott Field was a feature attraction to the athletic department's equipment. And at long last the newly formed Girls' Track Team was able to compete at Girls' State during the summer.

To provide for the rising interests in gymnastics in the boy's department, trampoline techniques were taught by Coach Phillip Bryan during his first year at Hall.

Mrs. Mike Kellim, also new to the staff, sponsored the girls' volleyball and drill teams. Mrs. Jerry Ball sponsored the tennis team and Mrs. Leroy Slater was sponsor for the dance team and gymnastics team. All three teachers sponsored the GRA.

Coach Oliver Elders headed a new program for sophomores consisting of a varied schedule of wrestling, soccer, speedball, track and field throughout the year.

New Doors Are To Open For Library

Preparations were underway during the year for the Library's move to the new Instructional Media Center in June.

The Center shall contain a faculty reading room, stations of audio visual aids, typewriters for student use, and six conference rooms. National Honor Society completed the Center by donating a new paperback collection.

In September the specialized Reading area moved to room 214. Controlled readers and the emphasis on vocabulary aided in the improvement in speed and accuracy in reading.

Counselors Prepare The Pupils' Future

Chairman of the department, Miss Minnie Lee Mayhan, and other department members counseled the senior class in college selections and vocational training. Junior and Sophomore classes were advised on their academic selections for the following year. Emphasis was placed on career and vocational occupations in local industries.

Non-Teaching Staff Directs Hall's Office

The non-teaching staff consisted of five secretaries, a bookkeeper, a registrar and a nurse.

Some of the jobs which were performed in the main office were bookkeeping, taking care of federal forms and census cards, typing bulletins, ordering supplies and keeping up with teacher absences.

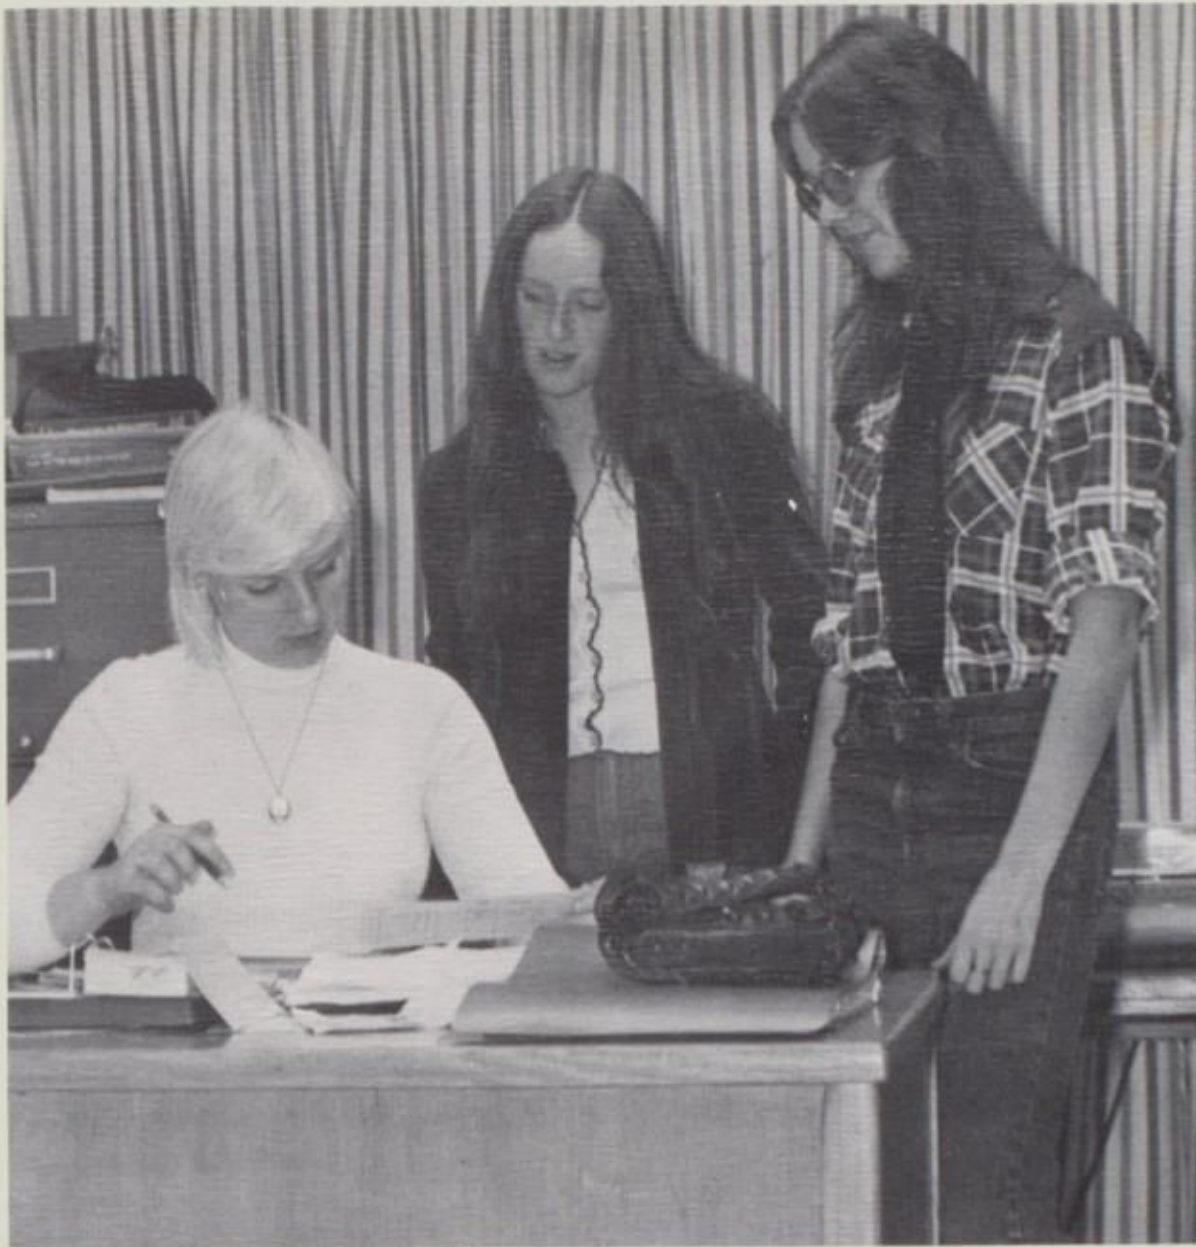

The counselor's secretaries set up appointments for the counselors and parents, reserved conference rooms for teachers and kept the counselors' schedules up-to-date.

Acknowledgements

We, the editors and staff of the 1975 WARRIOR, would like to thank:

Mrs. Tom Christie for her patience, help, overtime work, and invaluable experience.

The Little Rock Business Community and patrons of Hall High School who helped to finance the WARRIOR by sponsoring pages.

Bill Nicholson for his love of and devotion to sportswriting and sports photography.

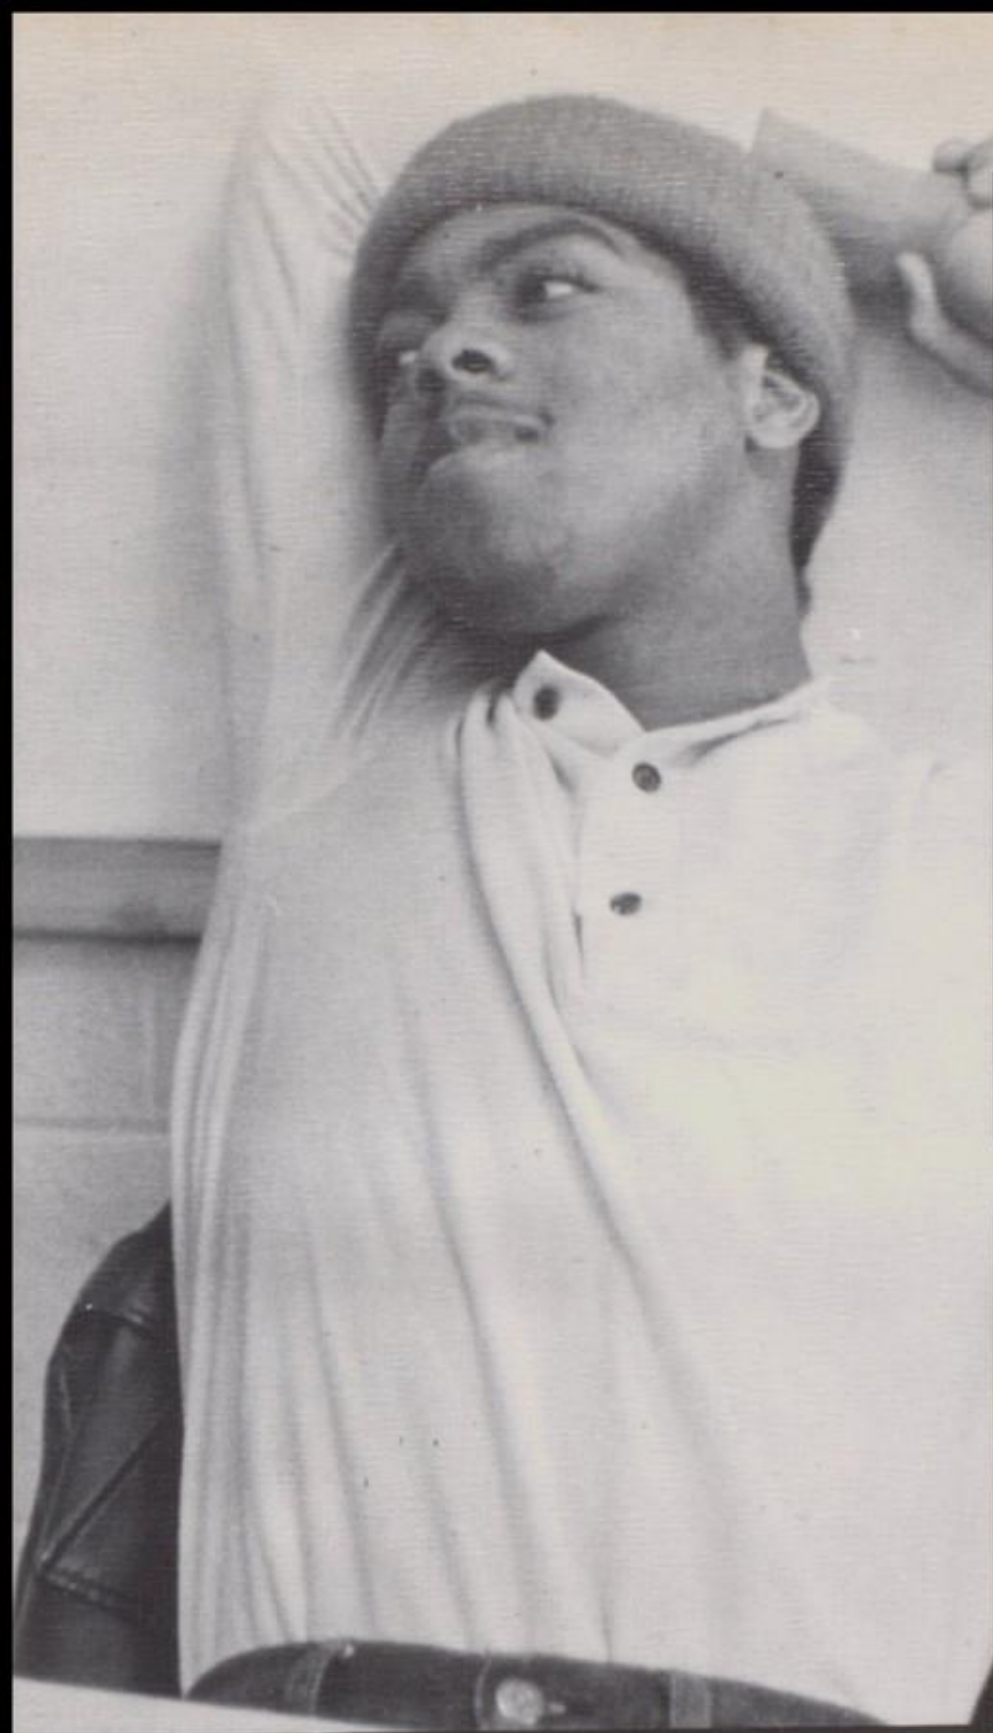

Donna Stockton for her typing skills.

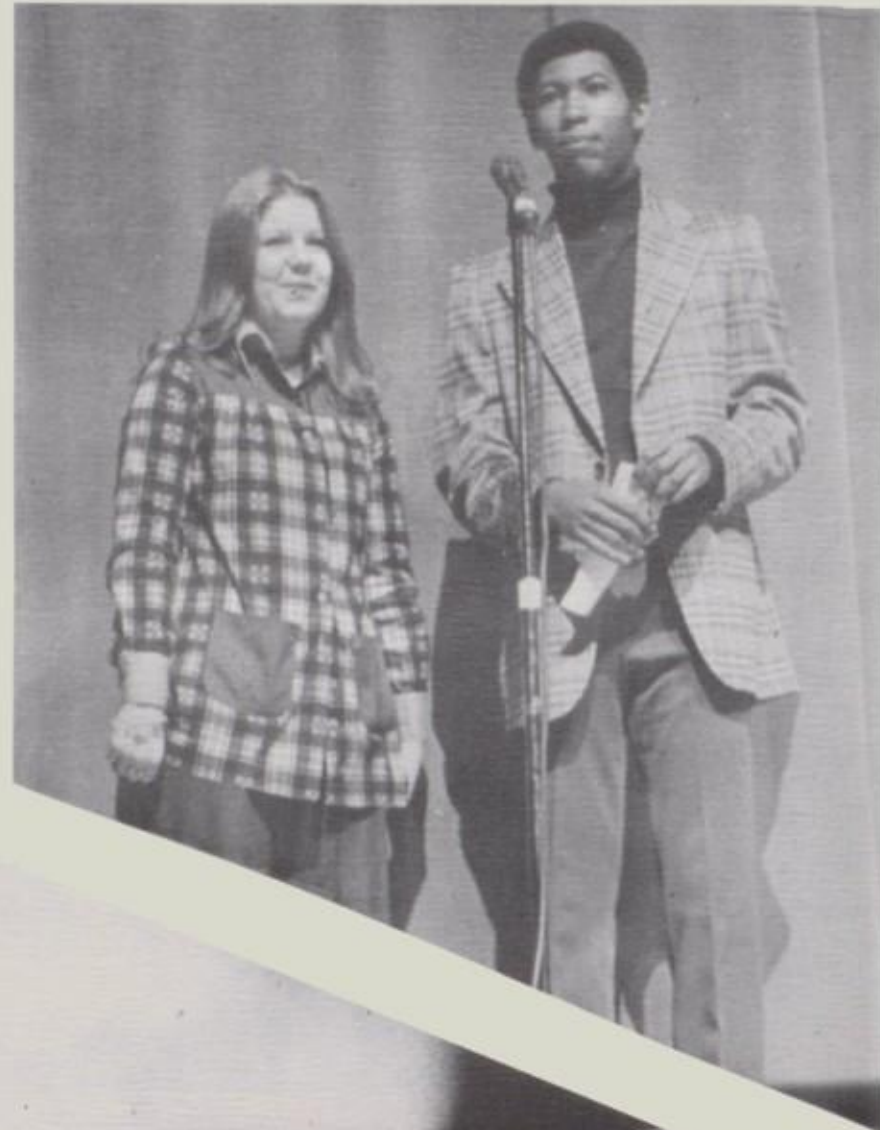

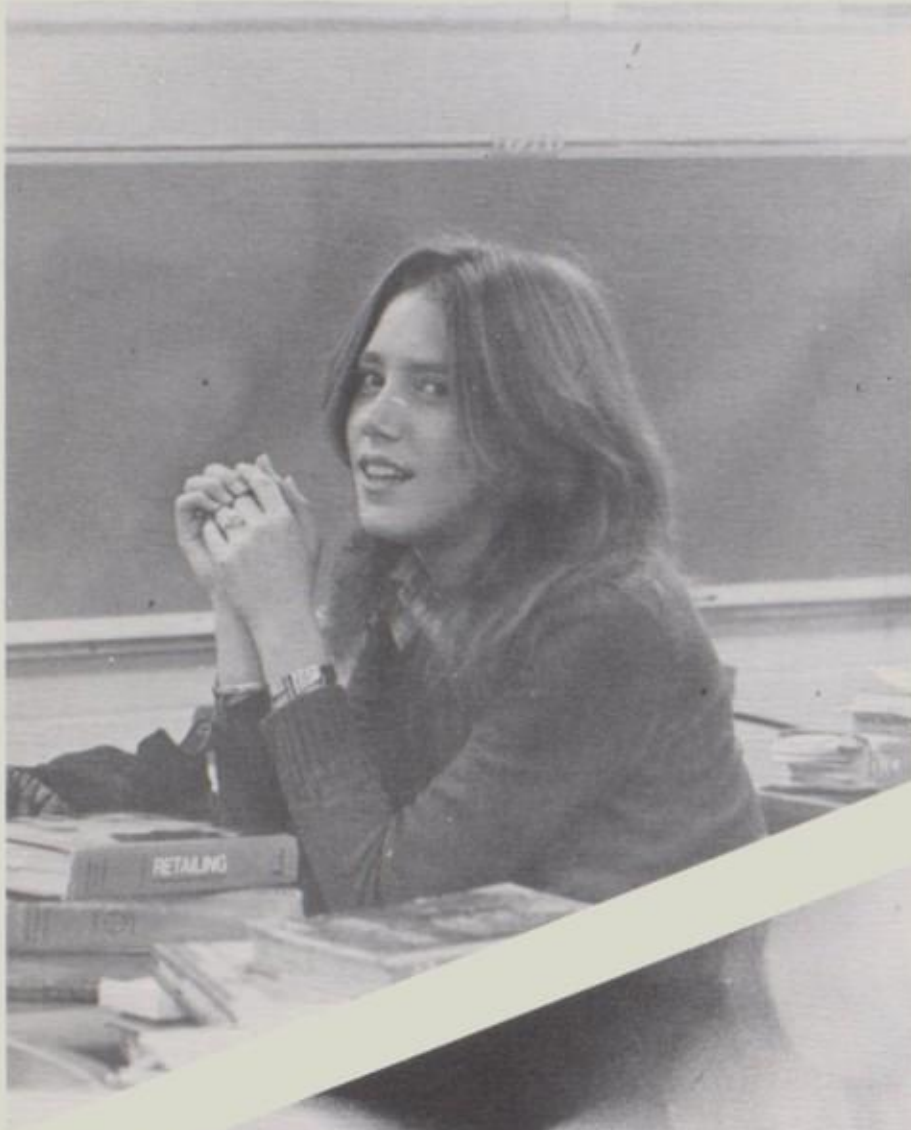

*Photographic Credits:
Bert Wells, Patti Evans, Larry Alman, and Sue Honeycutt.*

The 1975 WARRIOR was published at the Taylor Publishing Company of Dallas, Texas. The 9x12 book follows magazine type layout in the opening and closing sections, with the mosaic style layout throughout the book. Headlines are thirty point in size and are in Times Roman Italic style.

We faced our problems with hard earned experience

*We searched ourselves and discovered
new horizons*

We have reached the end, and found a new beginning.

Our destiny is ours to shape
